Blackfriars

FENWICK HIGH SCHOOL

Tom Riley Soph.

'Blackfriars'

is a name well known especially in England, where the name originated.

In St. Dominic's last year of life he, with the approval of the second general chapter of the Dominican Order (The Order of Preachers), sent thirteen friars to England and Oxford. They began their famous work of teaching and preaching in the university town on the feast of the Assumption, 1221.

Because of the black cloak (cappa) worn over their white habits, they became generally known as the "Blackfriars."

The name has been borrowed by a great theater, by many theater movements, by several Dominican publications, and by Fenwick for its yearbook and dramatic club.

Hail Mary, full of grace, the Lord is with thee . . .

Filmstrips

ARE FAMILIAR to all high school students as a visual aid to education. They can be, too, a record of pictures with a story to help us visualize this past year at Fenwick.

This book with its numerous candid pictures shows what the camera saw this year. It is a history, a reference book, a reflection of the spirit of Fenwick; and for years to come it will, we hope, be a source of nostalgic reverie.

Our educators

ADMINISTRATORS and teachers belong to a unified system of education with the Holy Father at the head, with our Cardinal and Dominican Provincial supervising.

STUDENTS remember that teachers have homework and a home life, too.

Determining the aims and policies of Catholic and Dominican education are the head of the Church, the Holy Father; the chief pastor of souls in the diocese, His Eminence, the Cardinal; and the Provincial Superior of the Dominican Province of St. Albert the Great. (Note: The freehand charcoal drawings on this page were made by Thomas Lennon, a junior.)

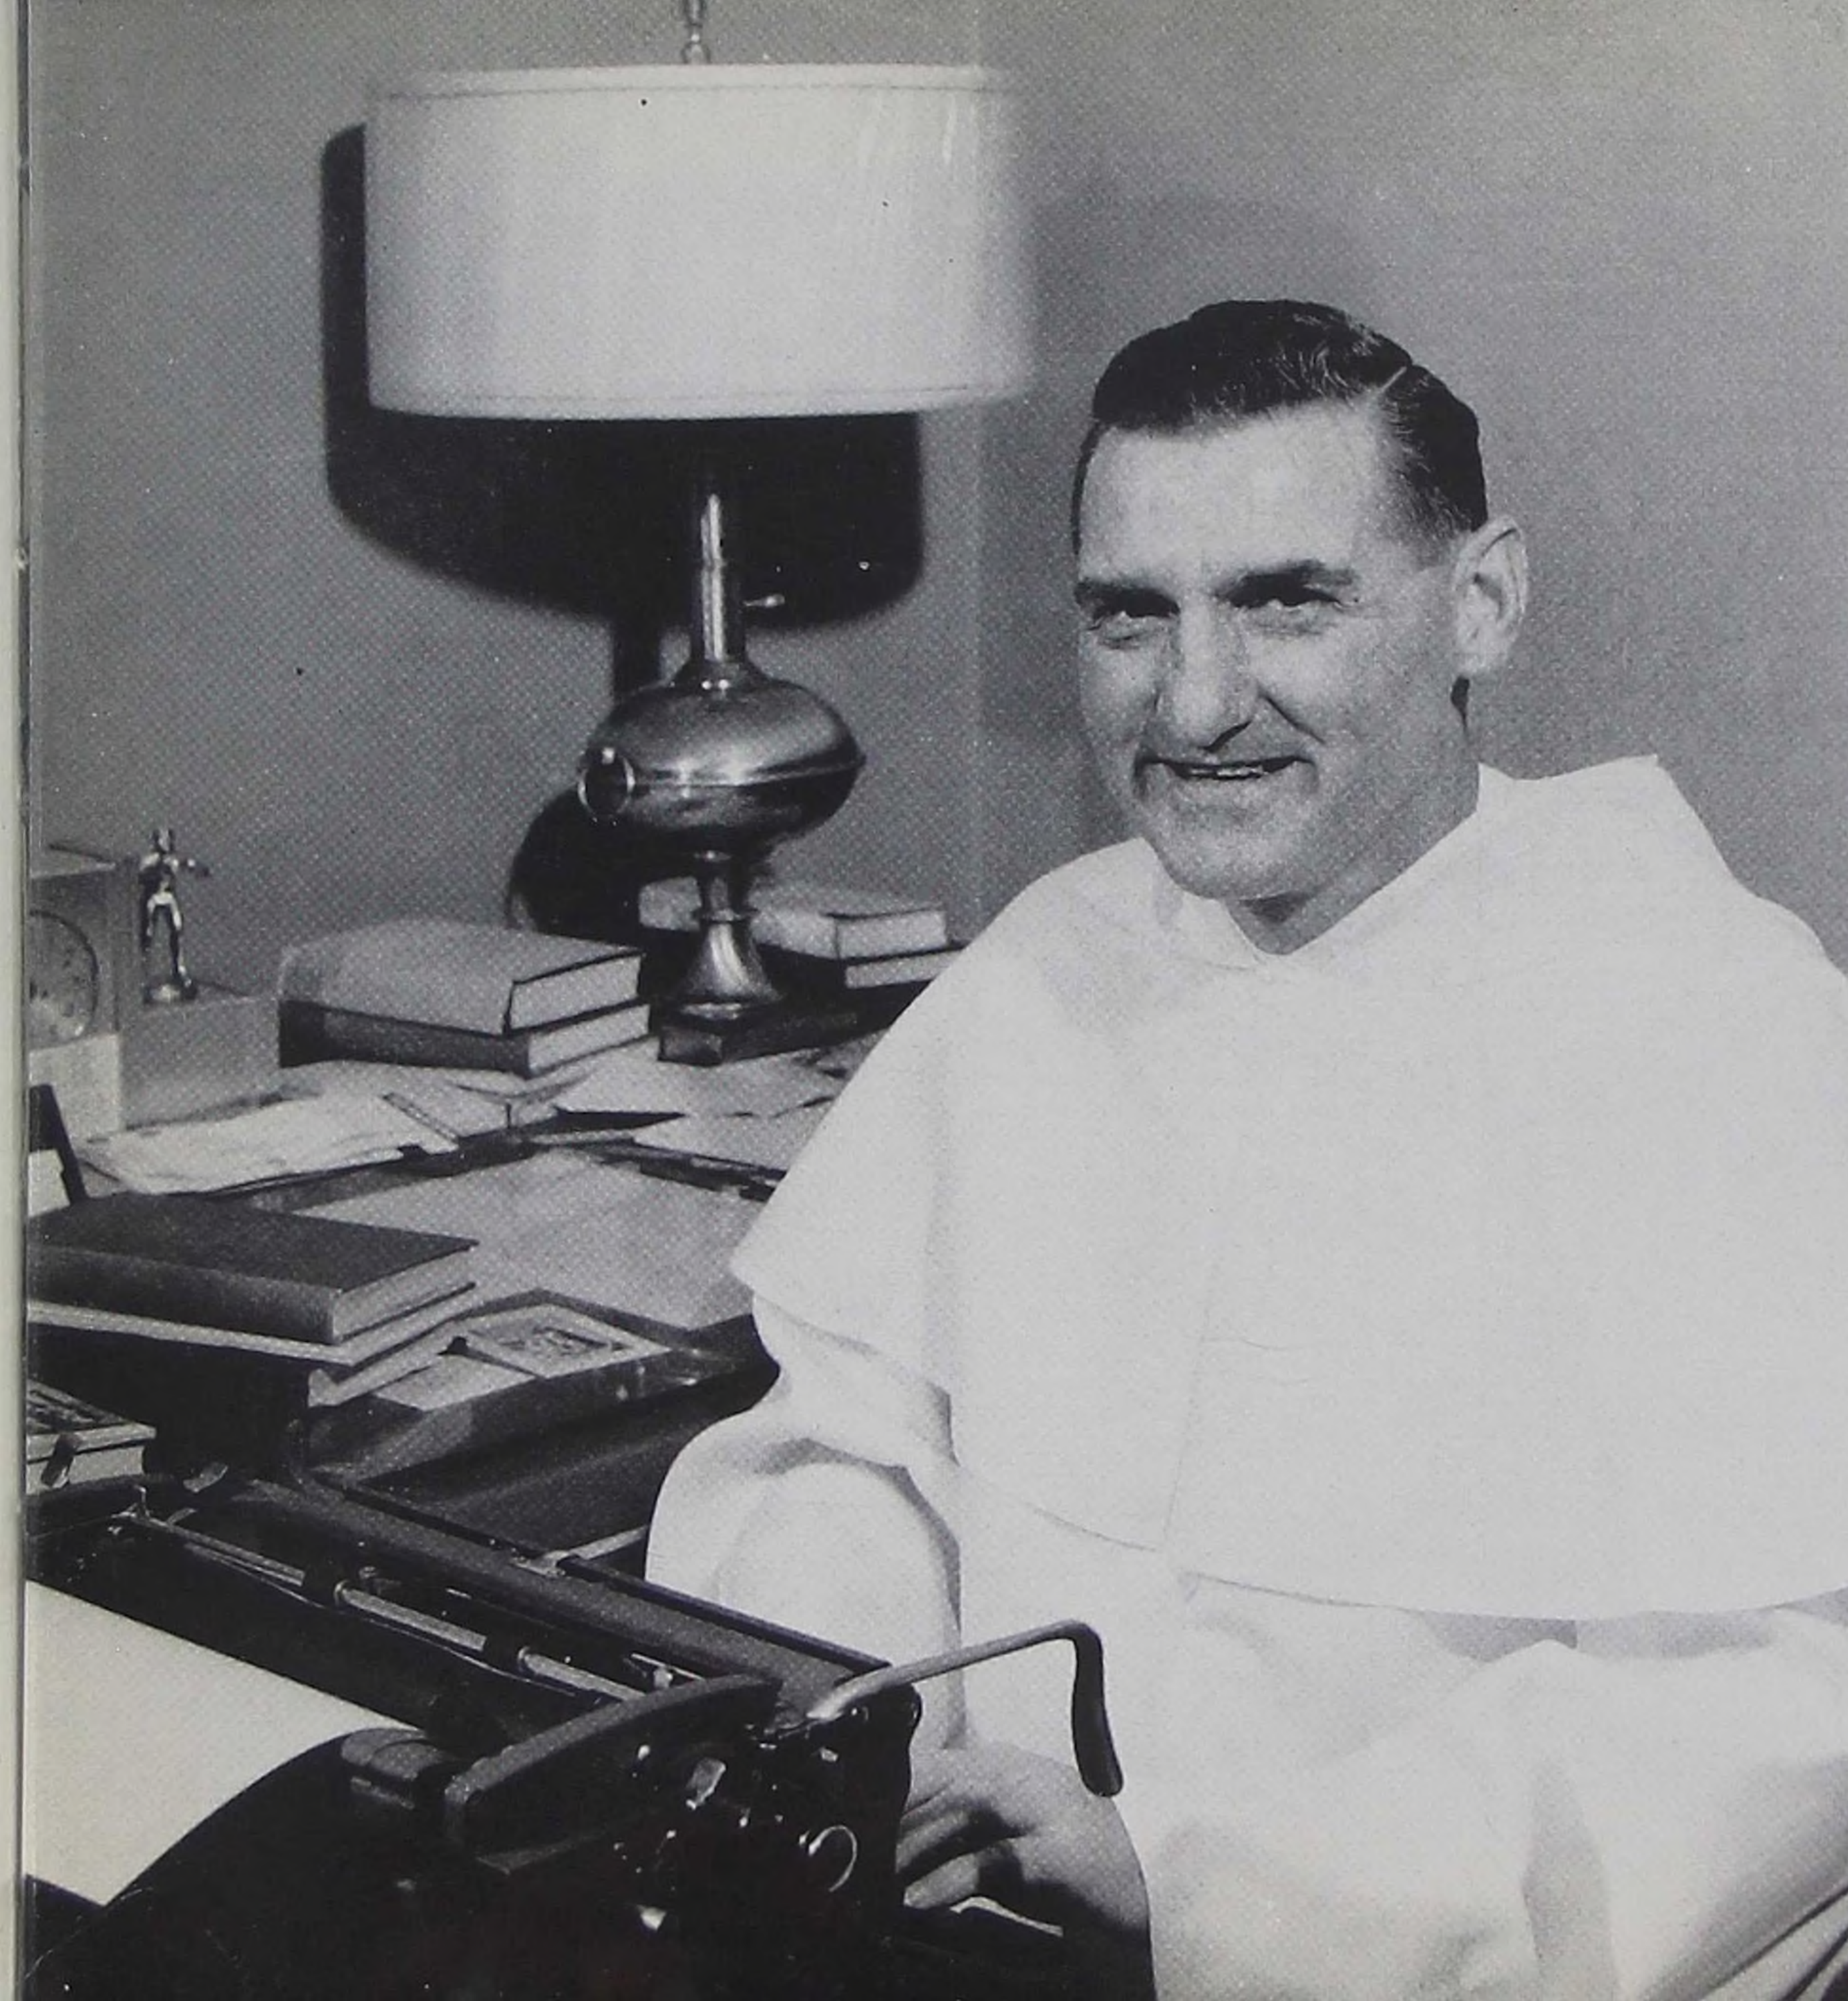

HIS HOLINESS, Pope Pius XII, Protector of the Order of Preachers.

HIS EMINENCE, Samuel Alphonsus Cardinal Stritch, Archbishop of Chicago.

THE PRIOR PROVINCIAL, The Very Reverend John E. Marr, O.P., S.T.M.

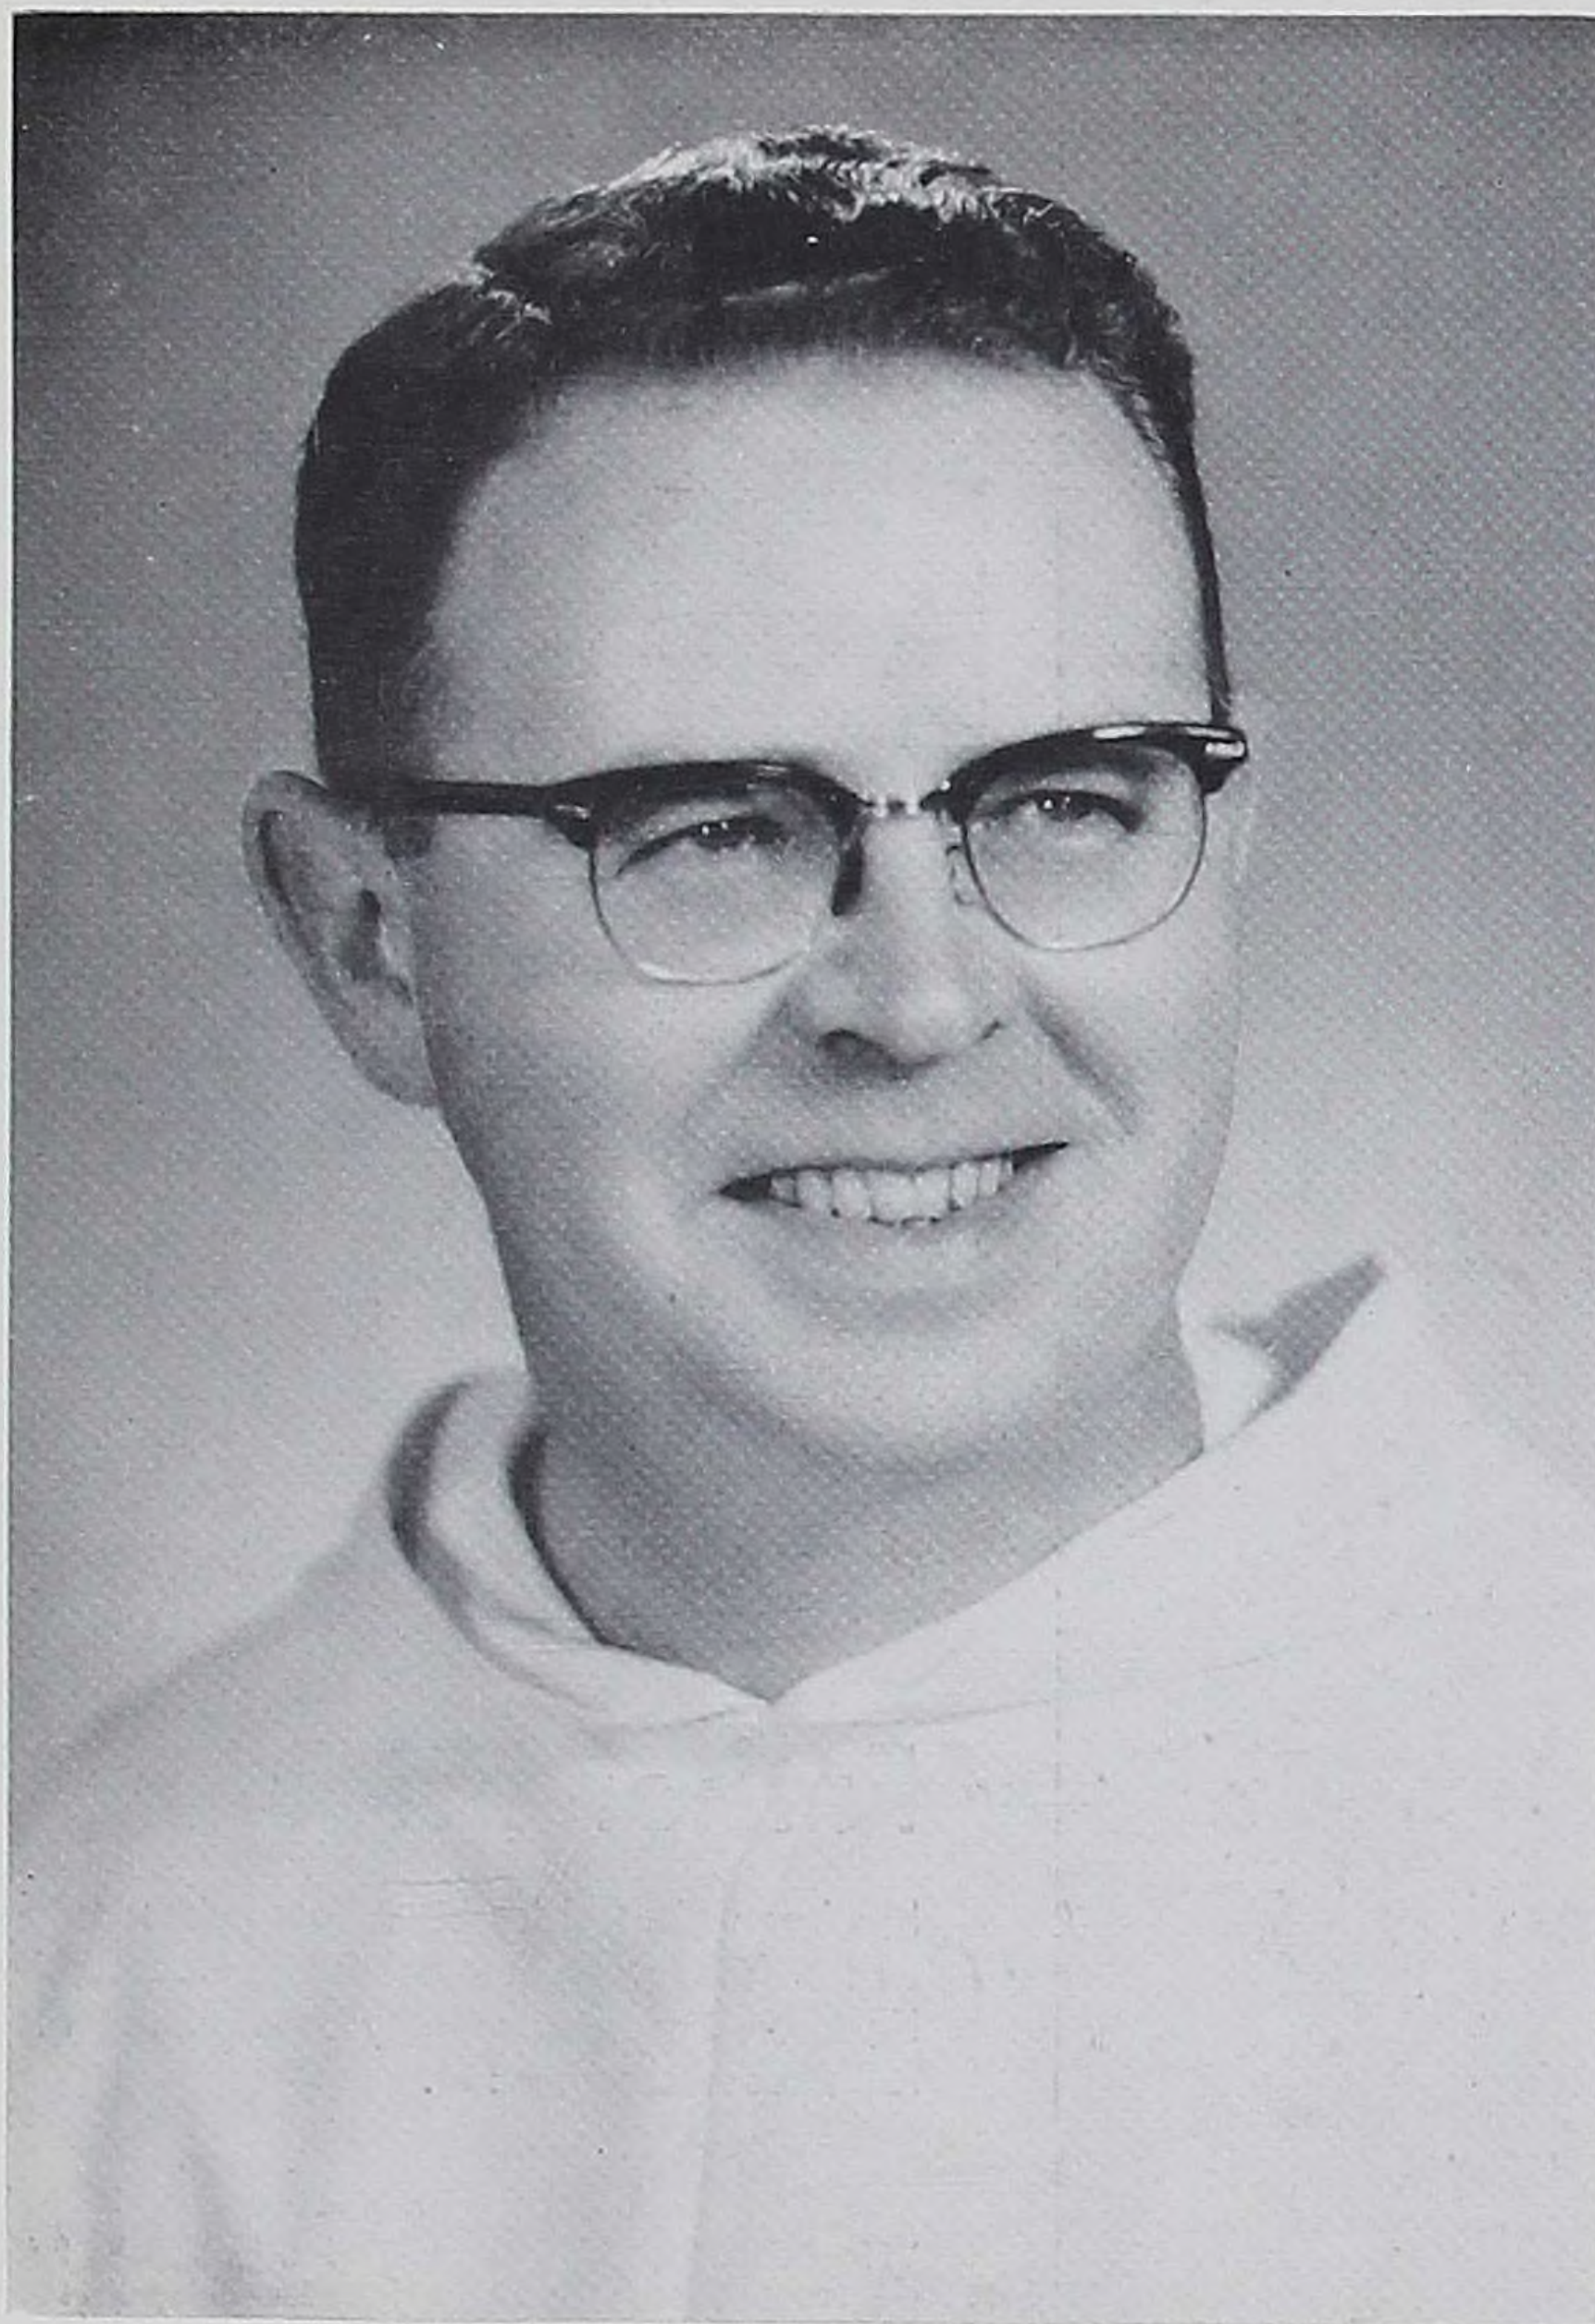

VERY REVEREND C. M. Fisher, O.P., M.A., Subprior

Father Prior

has been elected by his fellow priests to act as the father of the local Dominican family. He takes the responsibility of directing their religious and home life.

VERY REVEREND J. N. Morgenthauer, O.P., B.A., Prior, the religious superior of the priests and lay brothers, prepares Mass assignments (left).

The success of the whole school depends to a great extent upon the principal, his understanding of the students' problems, and his direction of the teachers.

Before coming to Fenwick, Father O'Connell was for nine years professor at Rosary College, River Forest, Illinois. His home is in New Haven, Connecticut, where he attended Hillhouse High School. He received his bachelor of arts degree from Providence College, Providence, Rhode Island, after which he entered the Dominican Order. He received his Lector of Theology degree at the Dominican House of Studies at River Forest and his Master of Arts degree at St. Thomas Aquinas College.

FATHER PRINCIPAL, The Very Reverend John E. O'Connell, O.P., S.T.Lr., M.A.

SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS, Very Reverend Monsignor William E. McManus, visits with Ned Maloney, Purdue line coach, and with Fr. O'Connell, principal, at Football Banquet.

Never absent

anytime, anywhere (so it seems to the students), Fathers Jacobs and Reardon keep watchful eyes on the studies, the student-teacher relationship, the scholastic records, the discipline, the absentees, and nearly all student activities.

We need no pictures to remind us of the towering Father Reardon when he unculprits culprits or when he stirs up school spirit at the pep meetings. Nor will we forget the sessions with Father Jacobs after the list of failures is tabulated.

But, really, we appreciate their concern for us.

THE THERMOMETER decides if J. Coleman goes home with Father Reardon's permission.

CLIPPING UNCOOPERATIVE LOCKS is all in a day's work for Father Reardon, who saves G. Frost from going home without his overcoat.

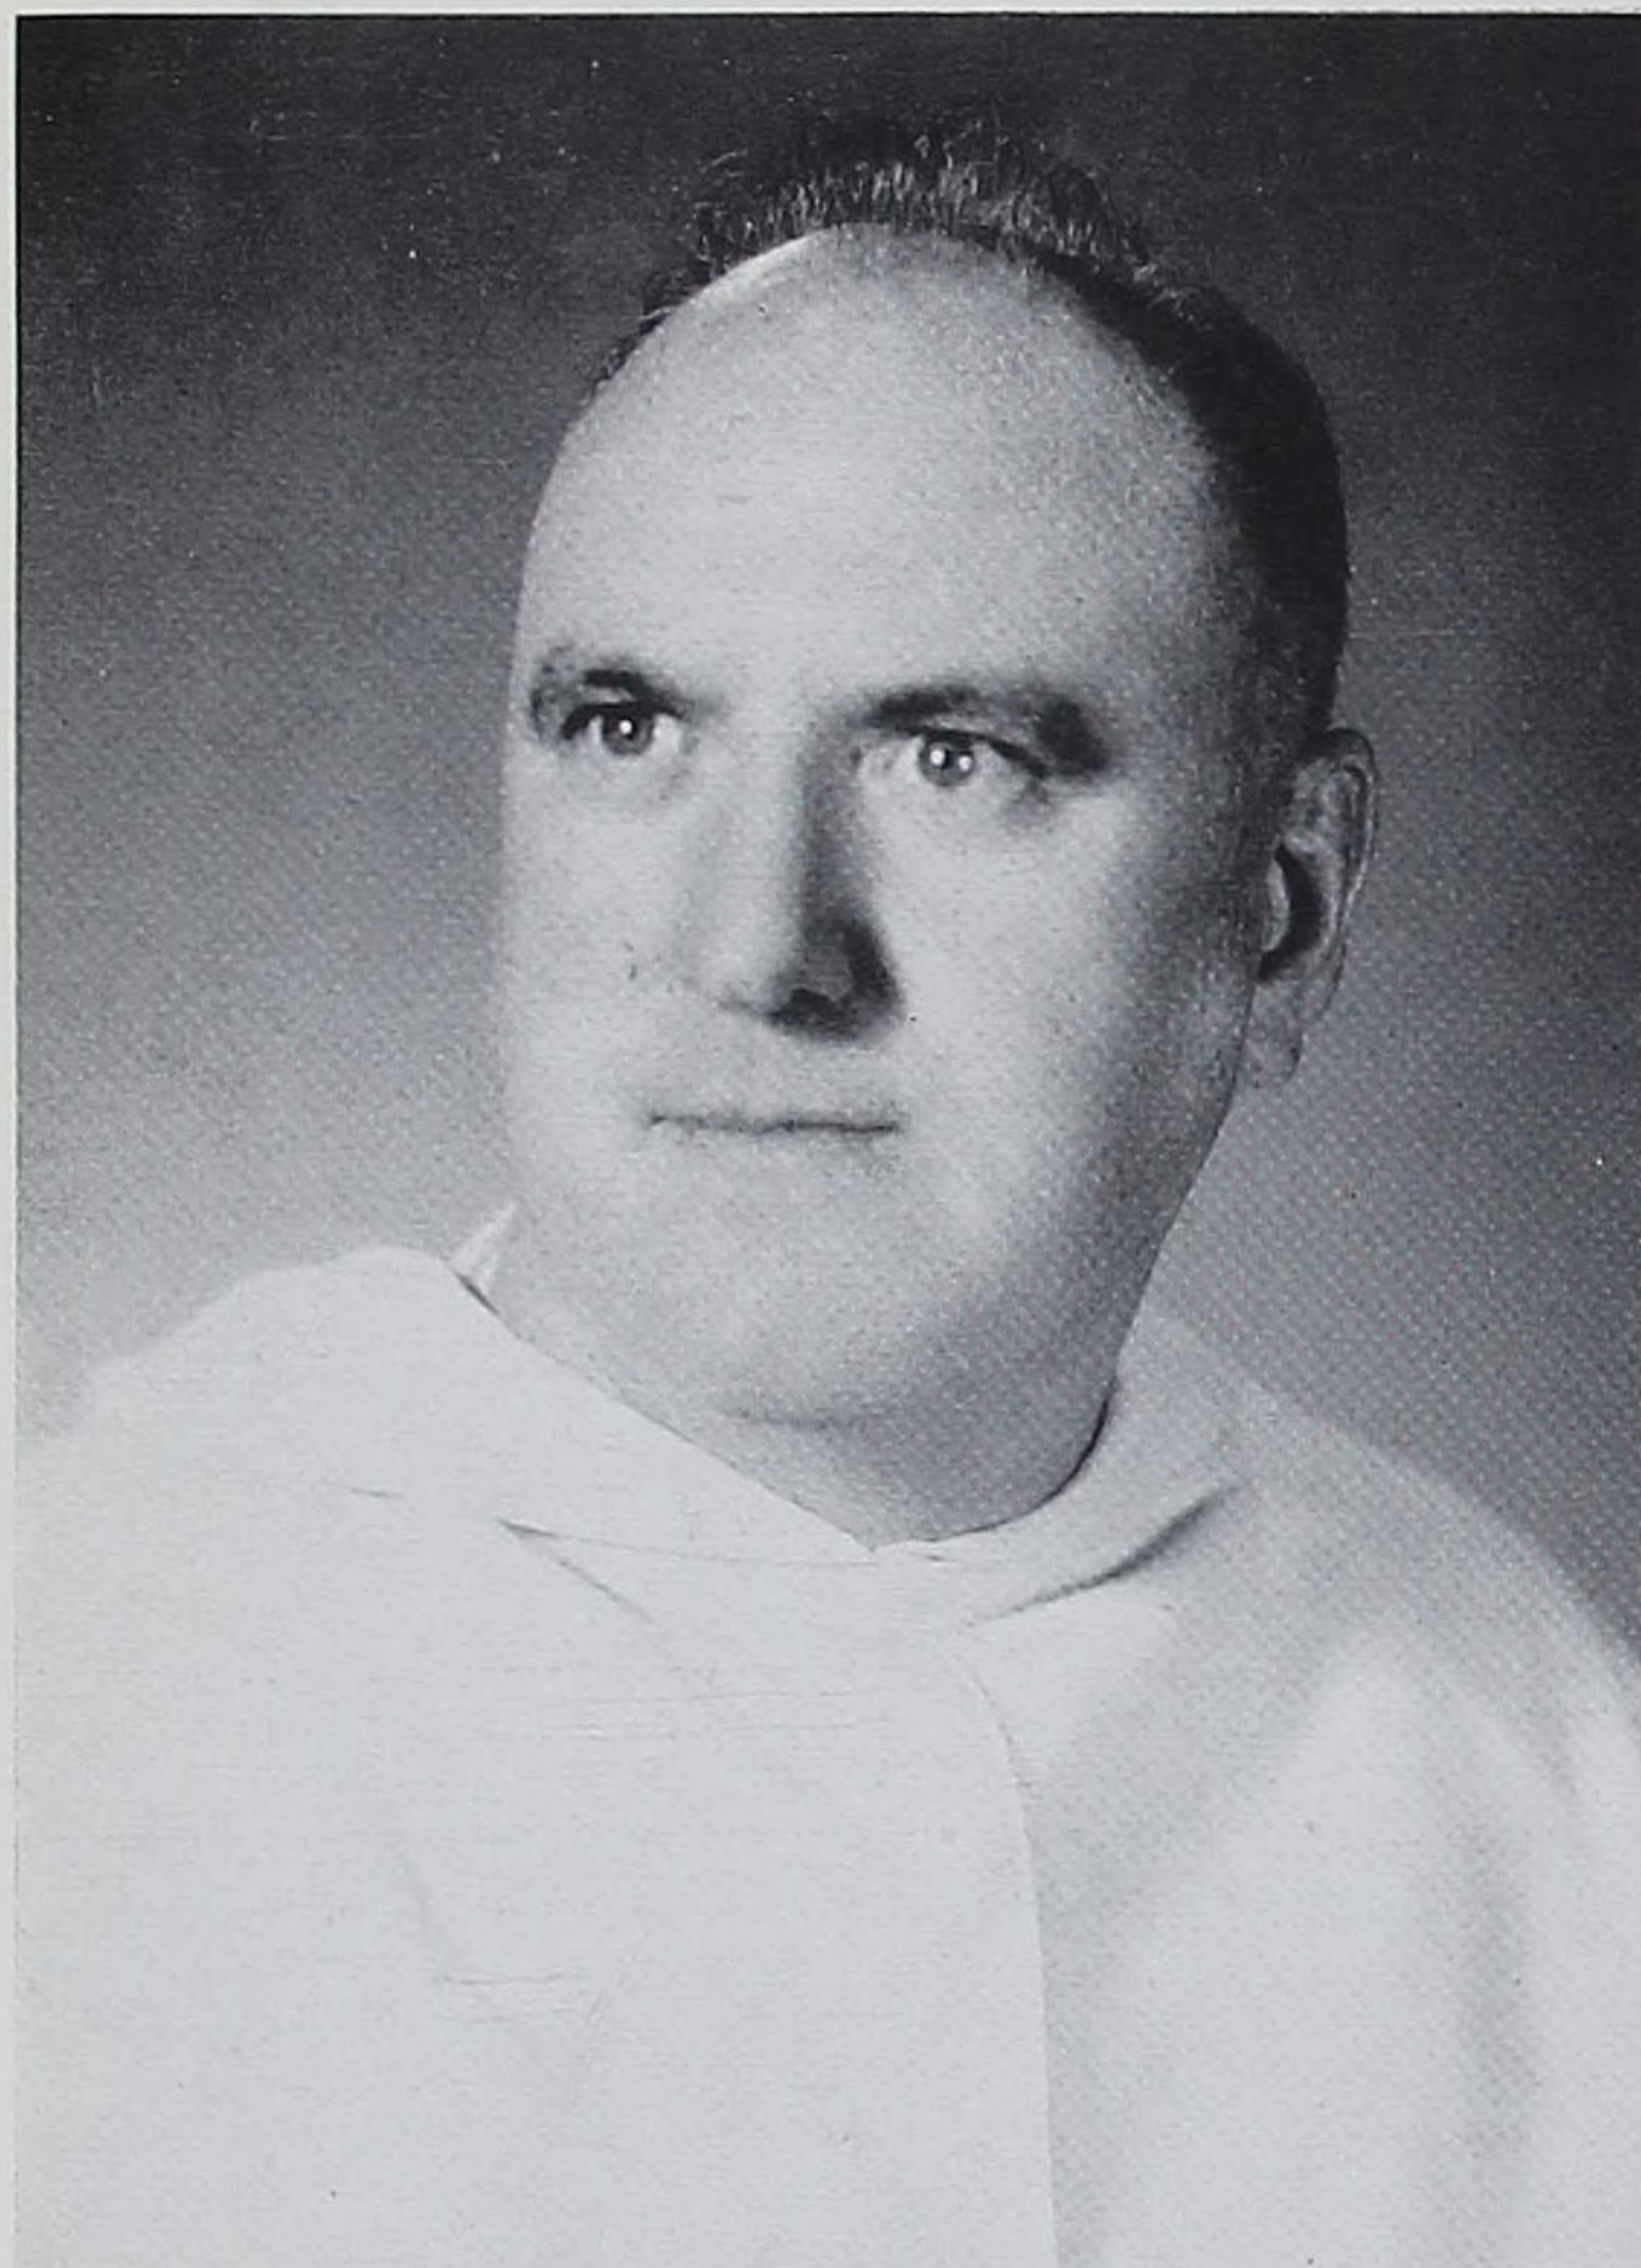

FATHER JACOBS SMILES, but students will suffer as he checks Honor Roll.

THE RIGHT SUBJECTS are given to W. J. Dunne by the Rev. J. F. Jacobs, Director of Studies.

THE REVEREND John D. Malone, O.P., M.A., silver jubilarian; economics, sociology, civics, Amateur Night moderator.

Silver Jubilee

Father Malone has been a respected teacher at Fenwick for twenty-three years, during which time he instructed more than three thousand students.

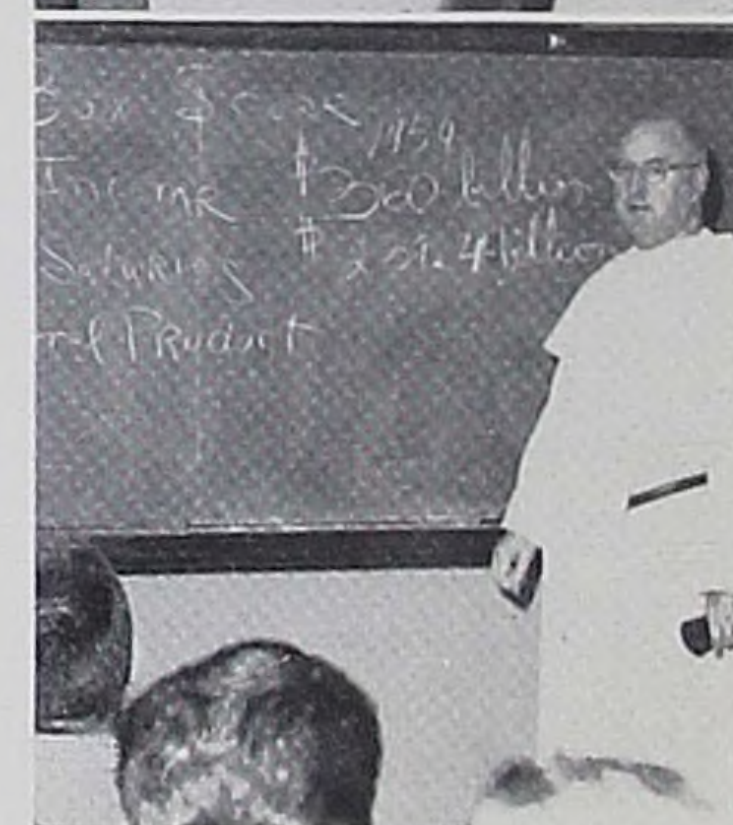

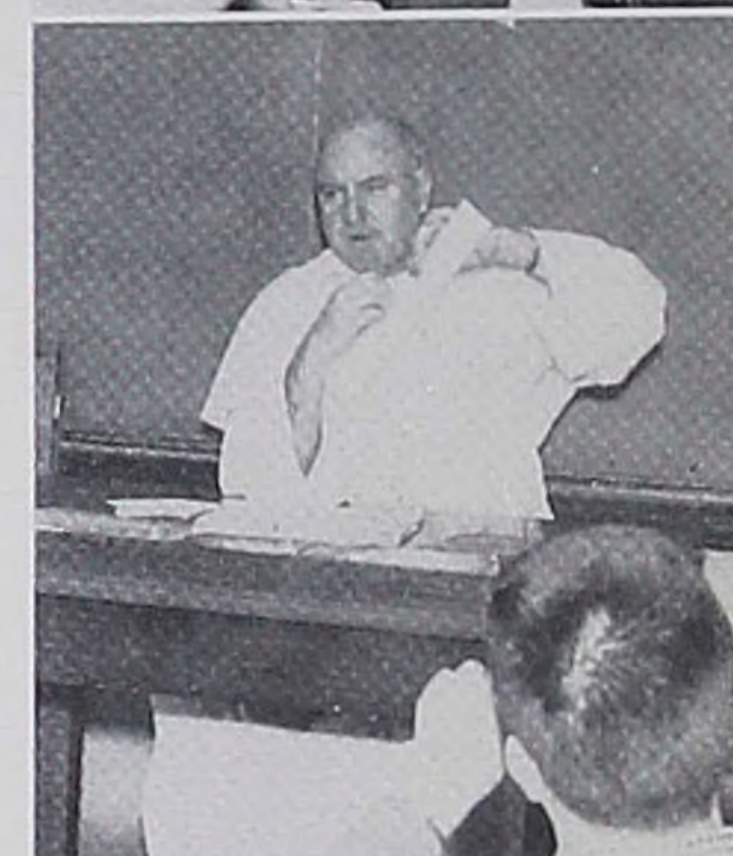

Twenty-five years in the priesthood is more than so much time teaching; it means over nine thousand Holy Masses for the faithful; it means thousands of sermons; it means many, many thousands of Confessions; it means thousands of hours of consultation and comfort for those who wanted help; it means so many hours "working in the office" for God and His people. Ad multos annos!

PONY HIDDEN in S. Manola's book is discovered by the watchful Father Malone.

"FOLD RIGHT, FOLD LEFT," says Father Malone, "and I'll hunt later for the answers."

"THIS IS THEORETICAL." Father Malone spends the government's money.

Father is a pleasant conversation topic to his many past students. "Remember how he used to tell us that he had just phoned John D. Rockefeller?" asks Frank Larabee, '54. "And didn't he hate the Republicans!" recalls Paul Cavanagh, '54. Says Michael Denvir, '50, "His patience was unlimited."

Teacher has homework, too, even though many students think that papers correct themselves, that tests "just is" like Topsy, and that community and family affairs concern them little. Actually, teacher travels out in the wee morning hours to say Mass at far-flung Chicago and suburban parishes, he prepares daily classes, enjoys community-meals, corrects homework and tests, acts as club moderator—all as part of his "homework." Homework includes participation and interest in the after-hours life of the Fenwick student, counseling graduates in problems of college and career, and lastly, the duties of the Dominican Order. Teacher does have homework!

serve God by caring for the material needs of the Fathers in the house. Members of the First Order the same as the priests, they pray and recreate in common, and work for the salvation of souls by caring for engineering, domestic, and some office duties to free the Fathers for work as priests and teachers.

Mothers' Club is vital part of Fenwick

To give the mothers of Fenwick boys a pleasant means of meeting one another, the Mothers' Club holds its regular First Friday meetings and plans varied social activities.

The mothers give to school affairs that refined, feminine touch which is so helpful in a boys' school conducted by men. They furnish coffee, tea, cakes, etc., in a glamorous setting when parents assemble for three Parents' Nights to meet the faculty, for Senior College Night, for the two Nazareth Conferences, and for the Communion Breakfast.

To help buy many items for the school and its student organizations the club raises funds through its two big card parties—the envy of the West Side. The mothers give financial help to the Band and the Glee Club, to the debaters, and to the "Blackfriars."

The Fathers' and Mothers' Clubs work together on some school affairs such as the Parents' Nights and the annual Family Party.

Much behind-the-scenes work is done by committee chairmen, who are pictured on these pages, and by numerous other workers with a willingness and sacrifice of time which is an inspiration to teachers and students.

The Mothers' and Fathers' Clubs serve as the parent-teacher organization and permit friendly discussion with the administration and with the teachers for the general advantage to all.

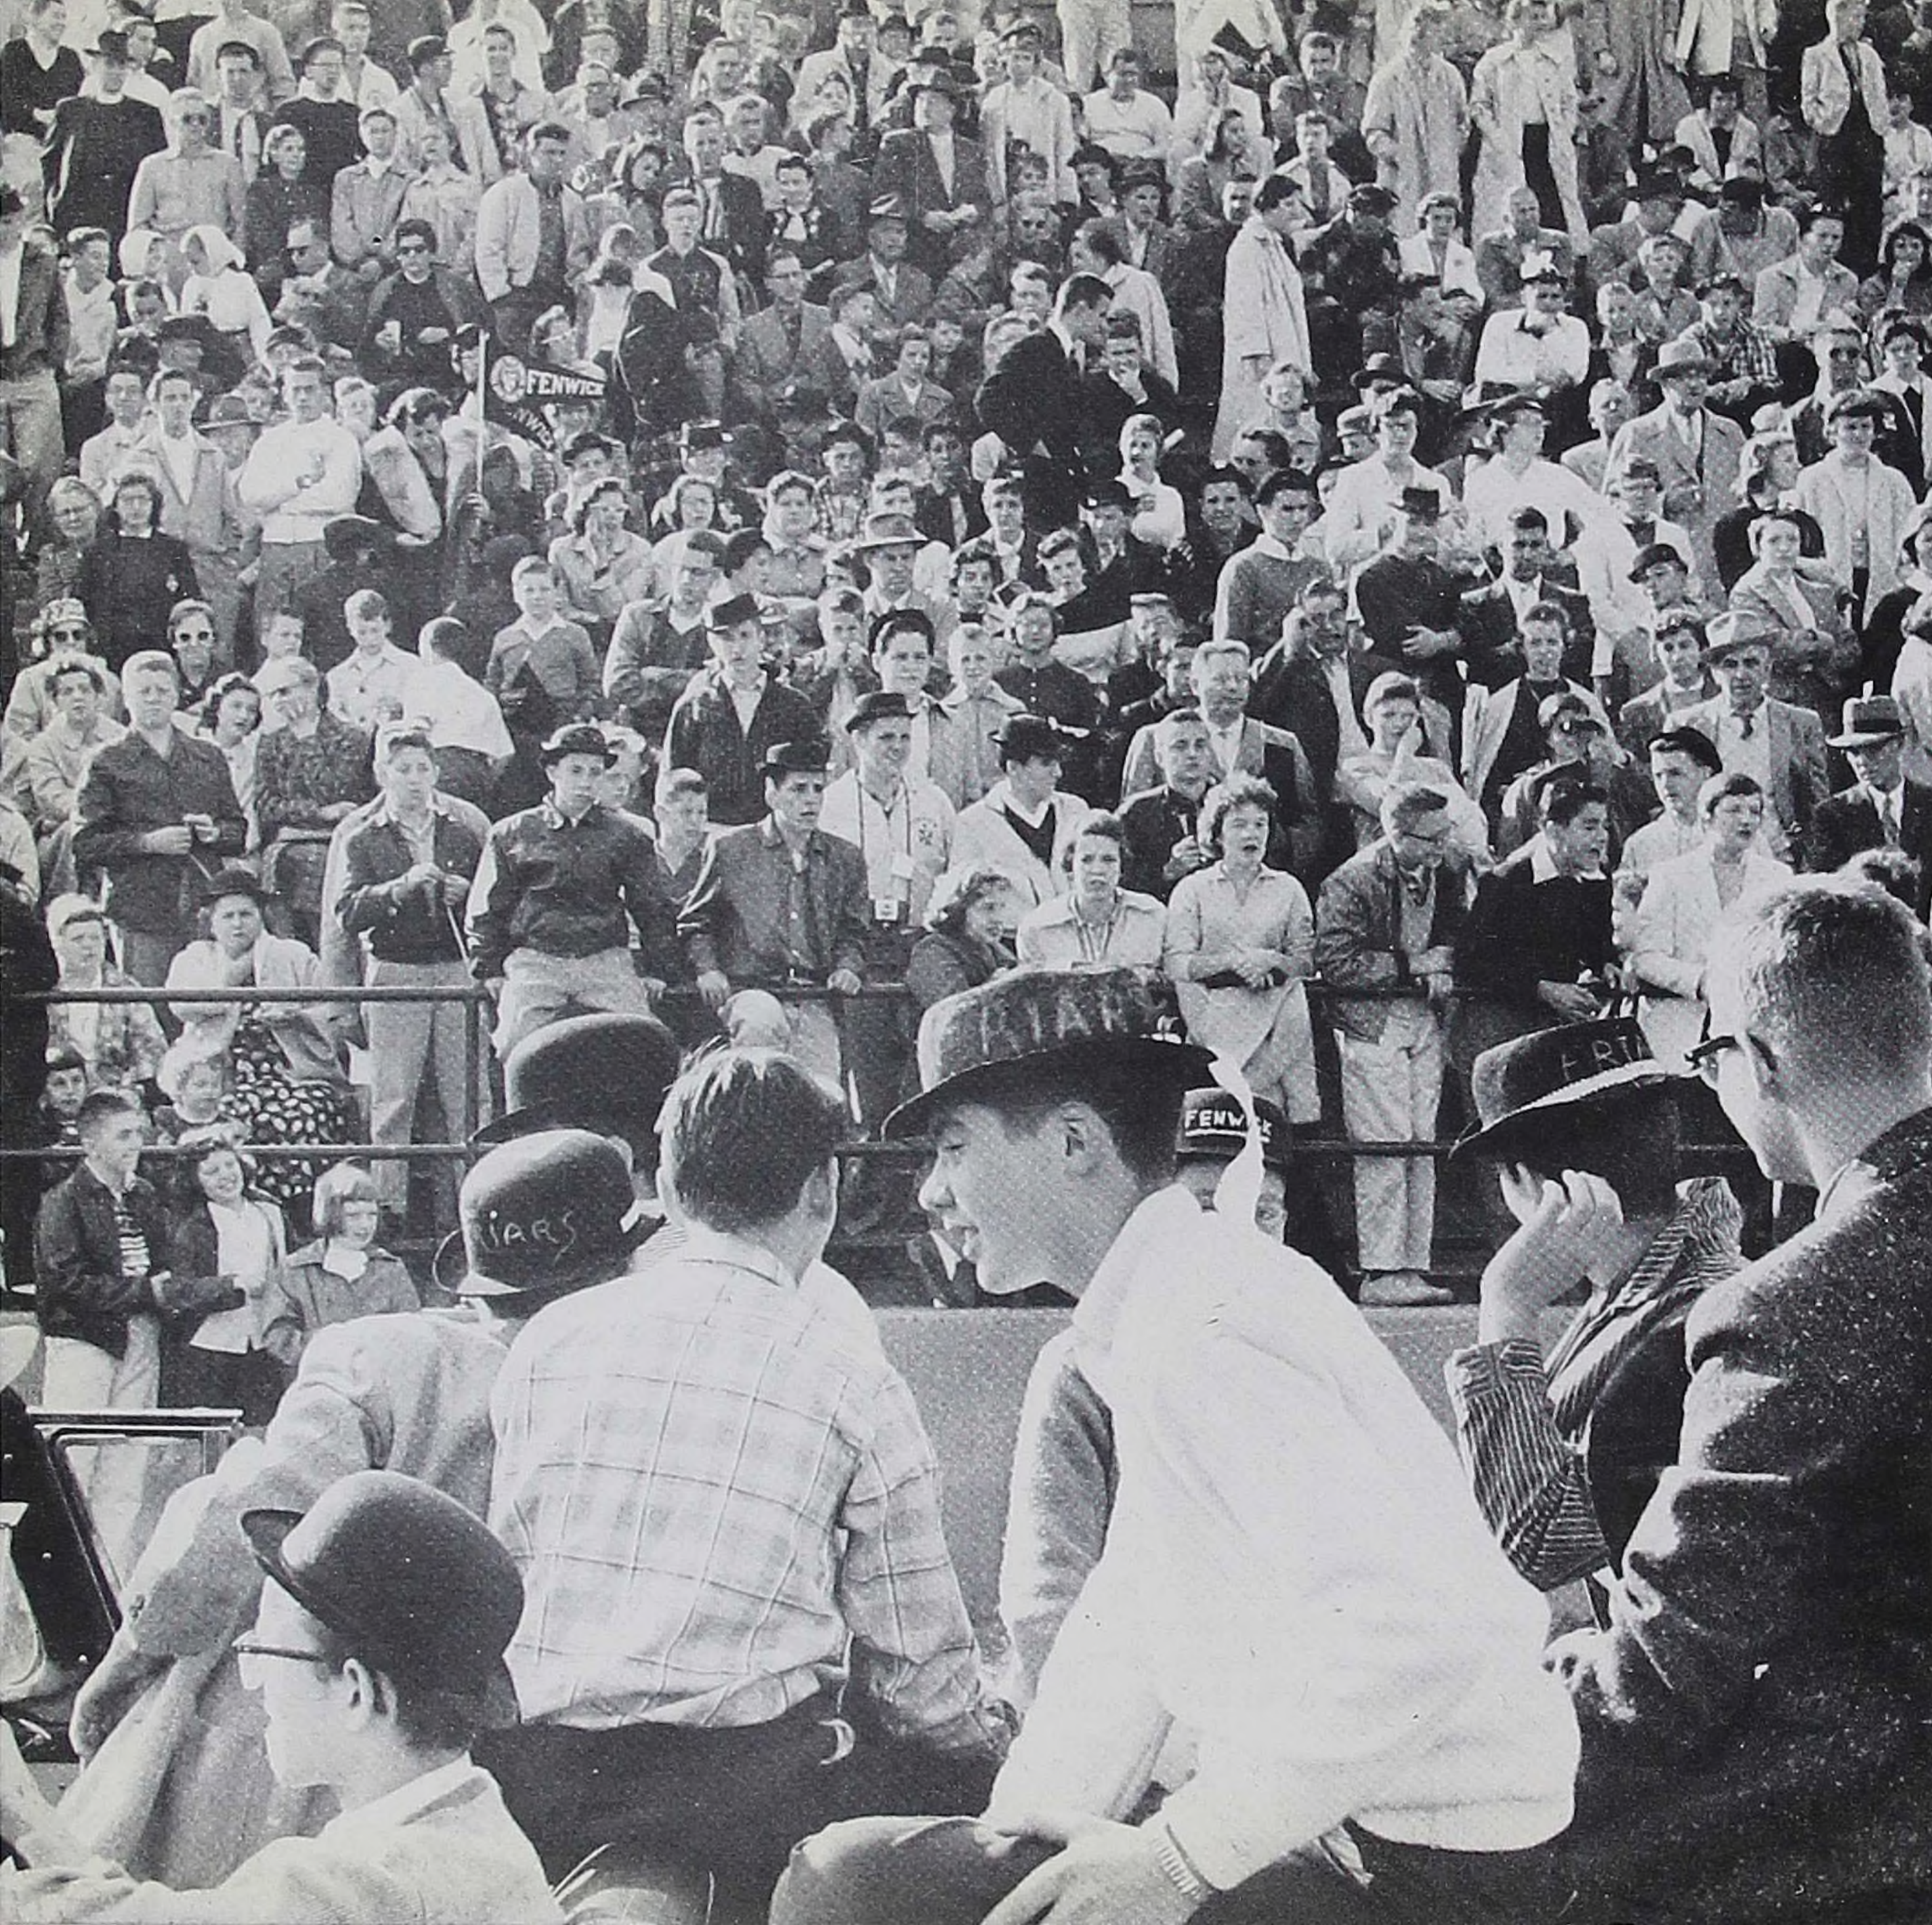

Fathers support Building Fund

The Fathers' Club is closely allied with the completion of the drive to collect funds for finishing the auditorium and for paying the heavy school debt. Father Dooley, moderator, and his committees have spent many hours at the unpleasant task of fund raising. A detailed report on the progress of the drive has been mailed to contributors. Naturally, Father Dooley would like all those associated with the school to share in this important duty.

BUILDING FUND DIRECTOR, the Rev. M. R. Dooley, is also Fathers' Club Moderator.

THE STUDENT BODY by the spirit of its members, their willingness to work, their eagerness in extracurricular activities, their personal behavior, contributes to the public reputation the institution enjoys.

PLAYING AND WORKING together is the spirit of Fenwick.

THE FENWICK SENIORS, after four years of Dominican teaching, are prepared to meet their next challenge—college. The seniors will travel to the north, south, east, and west to continue their education. Their eighteenth birthday will have seen them register with the Selective Service Centers, and then they will await the call from Uncle Sam.

THE PARENTS, brothers, and sisters of the graduates have anticipated for twelve years the senior's success, and he must not fail them. His life will be paved with innumerable discouragements, for which the Fenwick tutors have prepared him. Twelve years of Catholic education have been utilized in the best way possible, to mold the graduate into a future asset to God, Church, and Country.

LEADERSHIP is one quality the Fenwick teachers have bred into their wards. Fr. R. F. Pieper, O.P., senior moderator, and Fr. O'Connell, principal, introduced new class officer election regulations to spur a vigorous and victorious campaign by Jay Tonne, Pat Goedert, John Conlon, and Bill Sweeney. The seniors were polled and Tonne was elected president; Goedert, vice-president; Conlon, scretary; and Sweeney, treasurer.

All seniors are exposed to state and national examinations

The seniors were catalogued, classified, examined scholastically and physically, and evaluated by all sorts of examinations. They were put in the testing mood by the S.Q. Test of the National Merit Scholarship Program. Five students placed as finalists: Dick Boden, John Lavezzi, Bob Miley, Clem McDonald, and Pat McMahon.

Two months later, seniors submitted to the American Council of Education exams, and in January and March penned the College Entrance Board tests.

February 1 approximately 30% of the seniors took the Illinois State Scholarship Boards tests. Pat Goedert and Harold Bonus were chosen by Fr. O'Connel to represent Fenwick in the Chicago Daily News "Salute to Youth," and Dennis Barron was featured on the CBS television show, "I'd Like to Be . . ." Jim MacDonald won the college scholarship given by the "New World." Jerry Mac Lennan obtained an appointment to the United States Air Force Academy in Denver. Jim Wills was appointed front page editor for "Cisca," the Catholic intra-school newspaper.

DO YOU REMEMBER our freshman year when a thousand voices burst out with the Victory March, the "O Salutaris," and the Alma Mater? How frightened we were as an upperclassman demanded that we transport his books, or instructed that the proper place for our bow ties was on our shoe-laces. We were very proud of ourselves that first year because we entered with 330 freshmen, the largest entering class until then.

SOME OF US made a change of language the third year, to German, French, or Spanish. Others elected journalism, mechanical drawing, physics, more algebra, and history. We viewed the seniors, not with the detachment prevalent in our first two years, but as companions we have followed for six semesters, and we vied with them in presenting a Confraternity to outdo (we thought) all previous Confraternities. Remember our surprise as we strolled into the gym, our lady-friend at our side, and came vis-a-vis with that gigantic fifteen-foot snowman.

AMONG THE FAMILIAR quotations which seniors caught this year, not all are literary masterpieces. Some are fond memories of tense situations.

The terse, sharp "First question" permeates the mortuary quiet of Fr. Regan's daily theology test. Then looking for alertness, he hastily rolls off, "Answer this question 'True' or 'False.'" Bright student: "True." "Pretty close. False," quips Fr. Regan triumphantly.

Seniors think twice of the importance of English when Fr. Van Rooy waves a composition which is not exactly a contribution to American literature and booms, "So you want to go to college!" Then he interrupts a private conversation with "Yoo-hoo! no tete-a-tetes back there. Bring the refreshments, rye bread and cheese, so everyone can have a good time."

"Where in God's creation did you get this?" is Fr. Conway's reaction to a student's mathematical masterpiece. "Out of your head? Oh, no wonder; blessed is he who knows when to stop. Well, go home and try this on your piano."

"Conversations are out of order. Break 'em up," asserts Fr. Fisher in stentorian tones. His eternal question is "Do any of you knuckleheads ever read the book? Hmmm!"

"Any questions?" Mr. Spatafora nonchalantly inquires. "Rather any questions from those who are awake?"

A RETREAT this year was enjoyed by all of the seniors in groups of thirty-six at St. Rose of Lima Novitate in Dubuque, Iowa. For twenty dollars, each senior received bus transportation to and from Dubuque, a private room in the cloister, six meals, and plenty of food for spiritual thought.

The essence of the retreat was time and silence. In the quiet of the chapel or of the room overlooking the rustic Iowa hills, the retreatant could ruminate upon the ideas offered by the retreat master.

RONALD J. DVORAK, winner of National Merit Scholarship certificate, journalism medal, Alumni Honor Key and Faculty Honor Tablet for General Excellence.

Goodbye, Fenwick

The years have gone by fast. Too fast, some say. When we first began our "term," as we liked to call it, here at Fenwick, our main thought was to finish and leave as quickly as possible. "As quickly as possible" is here now. During our four-year stay we were praised, cajoled, and punished many times as a group. Since September, 1954, we have traveled from freshmen in the dungeon to third-floor seniors in over four thousand hours of classroom work. We know each other pretty well now. Everyone is in a mental classification of brain, "O.K. guy," or class clown. With mixed emotions we start college and a new freshman year.

Alumni receive honors

Taking highest honors among the '57 graduates were RONALD J. DVORAK, first; and C. L. RIECK, second. Rieck received the General Motors National Scholarship Certificate; National Merit Scholarship (He chose Notre Dame); Alumni Honor Key; and Honorable Mention for the Faculty Tablet Award, for public speaking, for religion, for English, and for mathematics.

Other college scholarship awards were won by LAWRENCE J. ALLEN to Providence College, ROBERT BARNES to Loyola University, THOMAS W. BURKE to St. Benedict's, and RUSSELL L. DHOOGHE to St. Joseph's in Indiana.

Others were: ROBERT J. DONAHUE to Loras College (Mayor's Youth Foundation Scholarship). RONALD J. DVORAK, along with his many other honors received a scholarship to Notre Dame University (Dunphy Scholarship), WILLIAM A. HUNYADY to Loras College ("New World" Scholarship), LEONARD P. JUDY to John Carroll of Cleveland, ROBERT F. KAMM to St. Edward's (Austin, Texas), THOMAS S. KELLY to Notre Dame (Geo. M. Pullman Educational Foundation), JAMES P. MURPHY to John Carroll (Geo. M. Pullman Foundation), ARTHUR L. McKEOWN to Loyola University (competitive examination), THOMAS J. SCHOENBAUM to

Where we come from and where we are going next year

Seniors have indicated that they expect to major in the following subjects:

	Percent
Engineering	15.4
Business administration	13.5
Liberal arts	10.0
Pre-med	7.3
Law	6.5
Commerce	3.1
Accounting	1.2
Pre-dentistry	1.2
Math	0.7
Pharmacy	0.7
Physics	0.7

Others are: agriculture, patent law, English, chemistry, journalism, electronics, auto mechanics, archeology, diplomatic government service, chiropractics, music, dramatics, veterinary medicine, and history.

At press time only 176 seniors had definitely decided which colleges they would attend. The past records show that seniors will scatter to at least thirty-five colleges in all parts of the country.

The total number of graduates through 29 years of the school's history has been 5192. The school opened in 1929 with only two classes—freshmen and sophomores. The first graduating class was, therefore in 1932. The sudden increase in numbers was due to the new building program.

Freshmen manifest talent

The freshmen were well represented Amateur Night. Although the seniors won first prize, the frosh took second.

Terry O'Brien, who did an impersonation of Elvis Presley, won the second prize. Ed McGuinnis played a piano solo. Wayne Morgan and assistant played in a skit about a used car lot. Mike Grecco and players put on a act about our favorite hero, "Zorro."

Freshmen at Fenwick have no choice of subjects. All must take English, algebra, general science, religion, and Latin. The first year is one of intellectual exploration, but the great day has finally come when they step out of the "Freshmen are to be seen and not heard" category and they face the momentous problem of choosing their first elective for sophomore year—biology or history. Now the finished frosh are ready to take an active part in all activities. They are now active prospects for football, basketball, camera or radio fans. Moderators of school organizations are watching them for good "prospects." It is glorious to cease to be the underdogs. In fact, the new underdogs have already registered, and the frosh move up—at least in hope.

constitute the essence of our school day. Each student takes at least five subjects along with physical education, study period, lunch, and homeroom. And then there is homework.

STUDY IN ROOM 5 is an important part of the day's work.

ANOINTING THE PALM with Holy Oil is part of the Sacrament of Extreme Unction. Fr. Brenda illustrates to D. Dudek and R. Vogt how the sacrament is administered and shows the class what should be ready at the sick-bed in case the priest is called.

TRADITIONAL DOMINICAN blessing of the rosary is given by Fr. Miehl to R. Wright's and J. Wisemiller's rosaries.

BESIDES THE THEORY of theology and religion, besides the academic distinctions concerning the virtues, human acts, merit, guilt, etc., students of religion learn about the externals and ceremonies of the Church to make their living of religion more practical. Regularly, application to daily life is made by the down-to-earth questions offered by the students—an interruption of theory which the students think is "stalling," but which gives the teacher a good opportunity to apply principles.

Religion classes are taught all four years, every school day. Four years of credit is required. In addition to conducting classes the Religion Department supervises all religious services in the school: Benediction every Friday, daily Mass with voluntary attendance, confessions daily after school, the student retreat, vocation week, and the Friday class Communions. Instead of all students receiving Holy Communion on First Fridays, this year one week a month was assigned to each class.

Religion directs today and the future

LACK OF PREPARATION by T. Leahy (giving report) is suspected by Mr. Spatafora in American history class as D. O'Leary, L. Selcke, and R. O'Krongley take notes.

Men before us have made our world what it is today, and the study of history tells us how it all happened, how triumphs can be repeated and past mistakes corrected, future errors avoided. We are the people who will make the history for the next generation.

History is an elective in sophomore and junior years, but American history is required of all seniors. In addition the State of Illinois requires a satisfactory passing of a test on the national and state constitutions, a test administered to seniors by the American history teachers each spring.

And in American history class, seniors well know, they got the "feel" of what it is to do real outside reading.

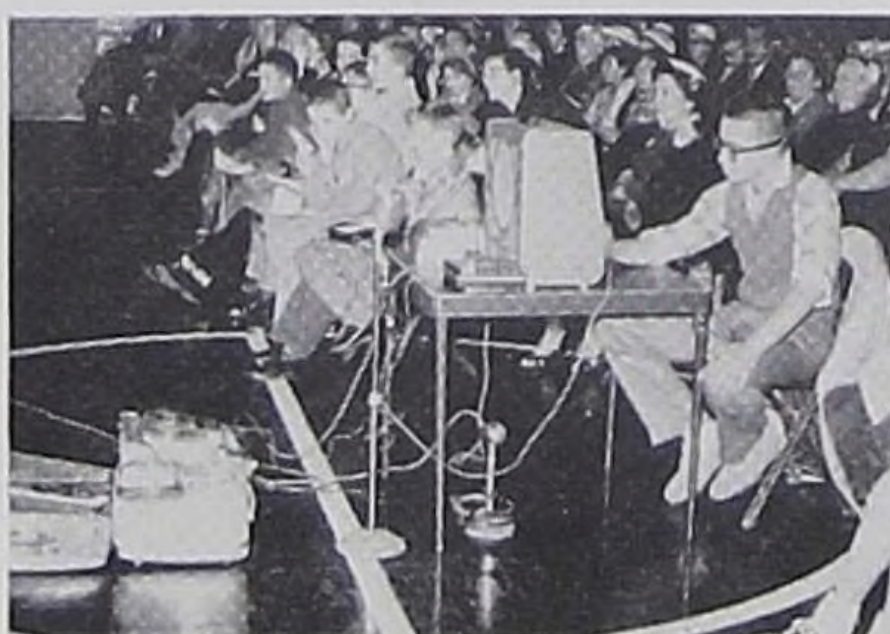

MAKING HISTORY REQUIRES

INVENTIVENESS. P. Mentone, P. McKenna, T. Kerber, and P. Mitchell.

SCIENCE PRACTICE. J. Potye makes a recording of the Band Glee Club Christmas concert.

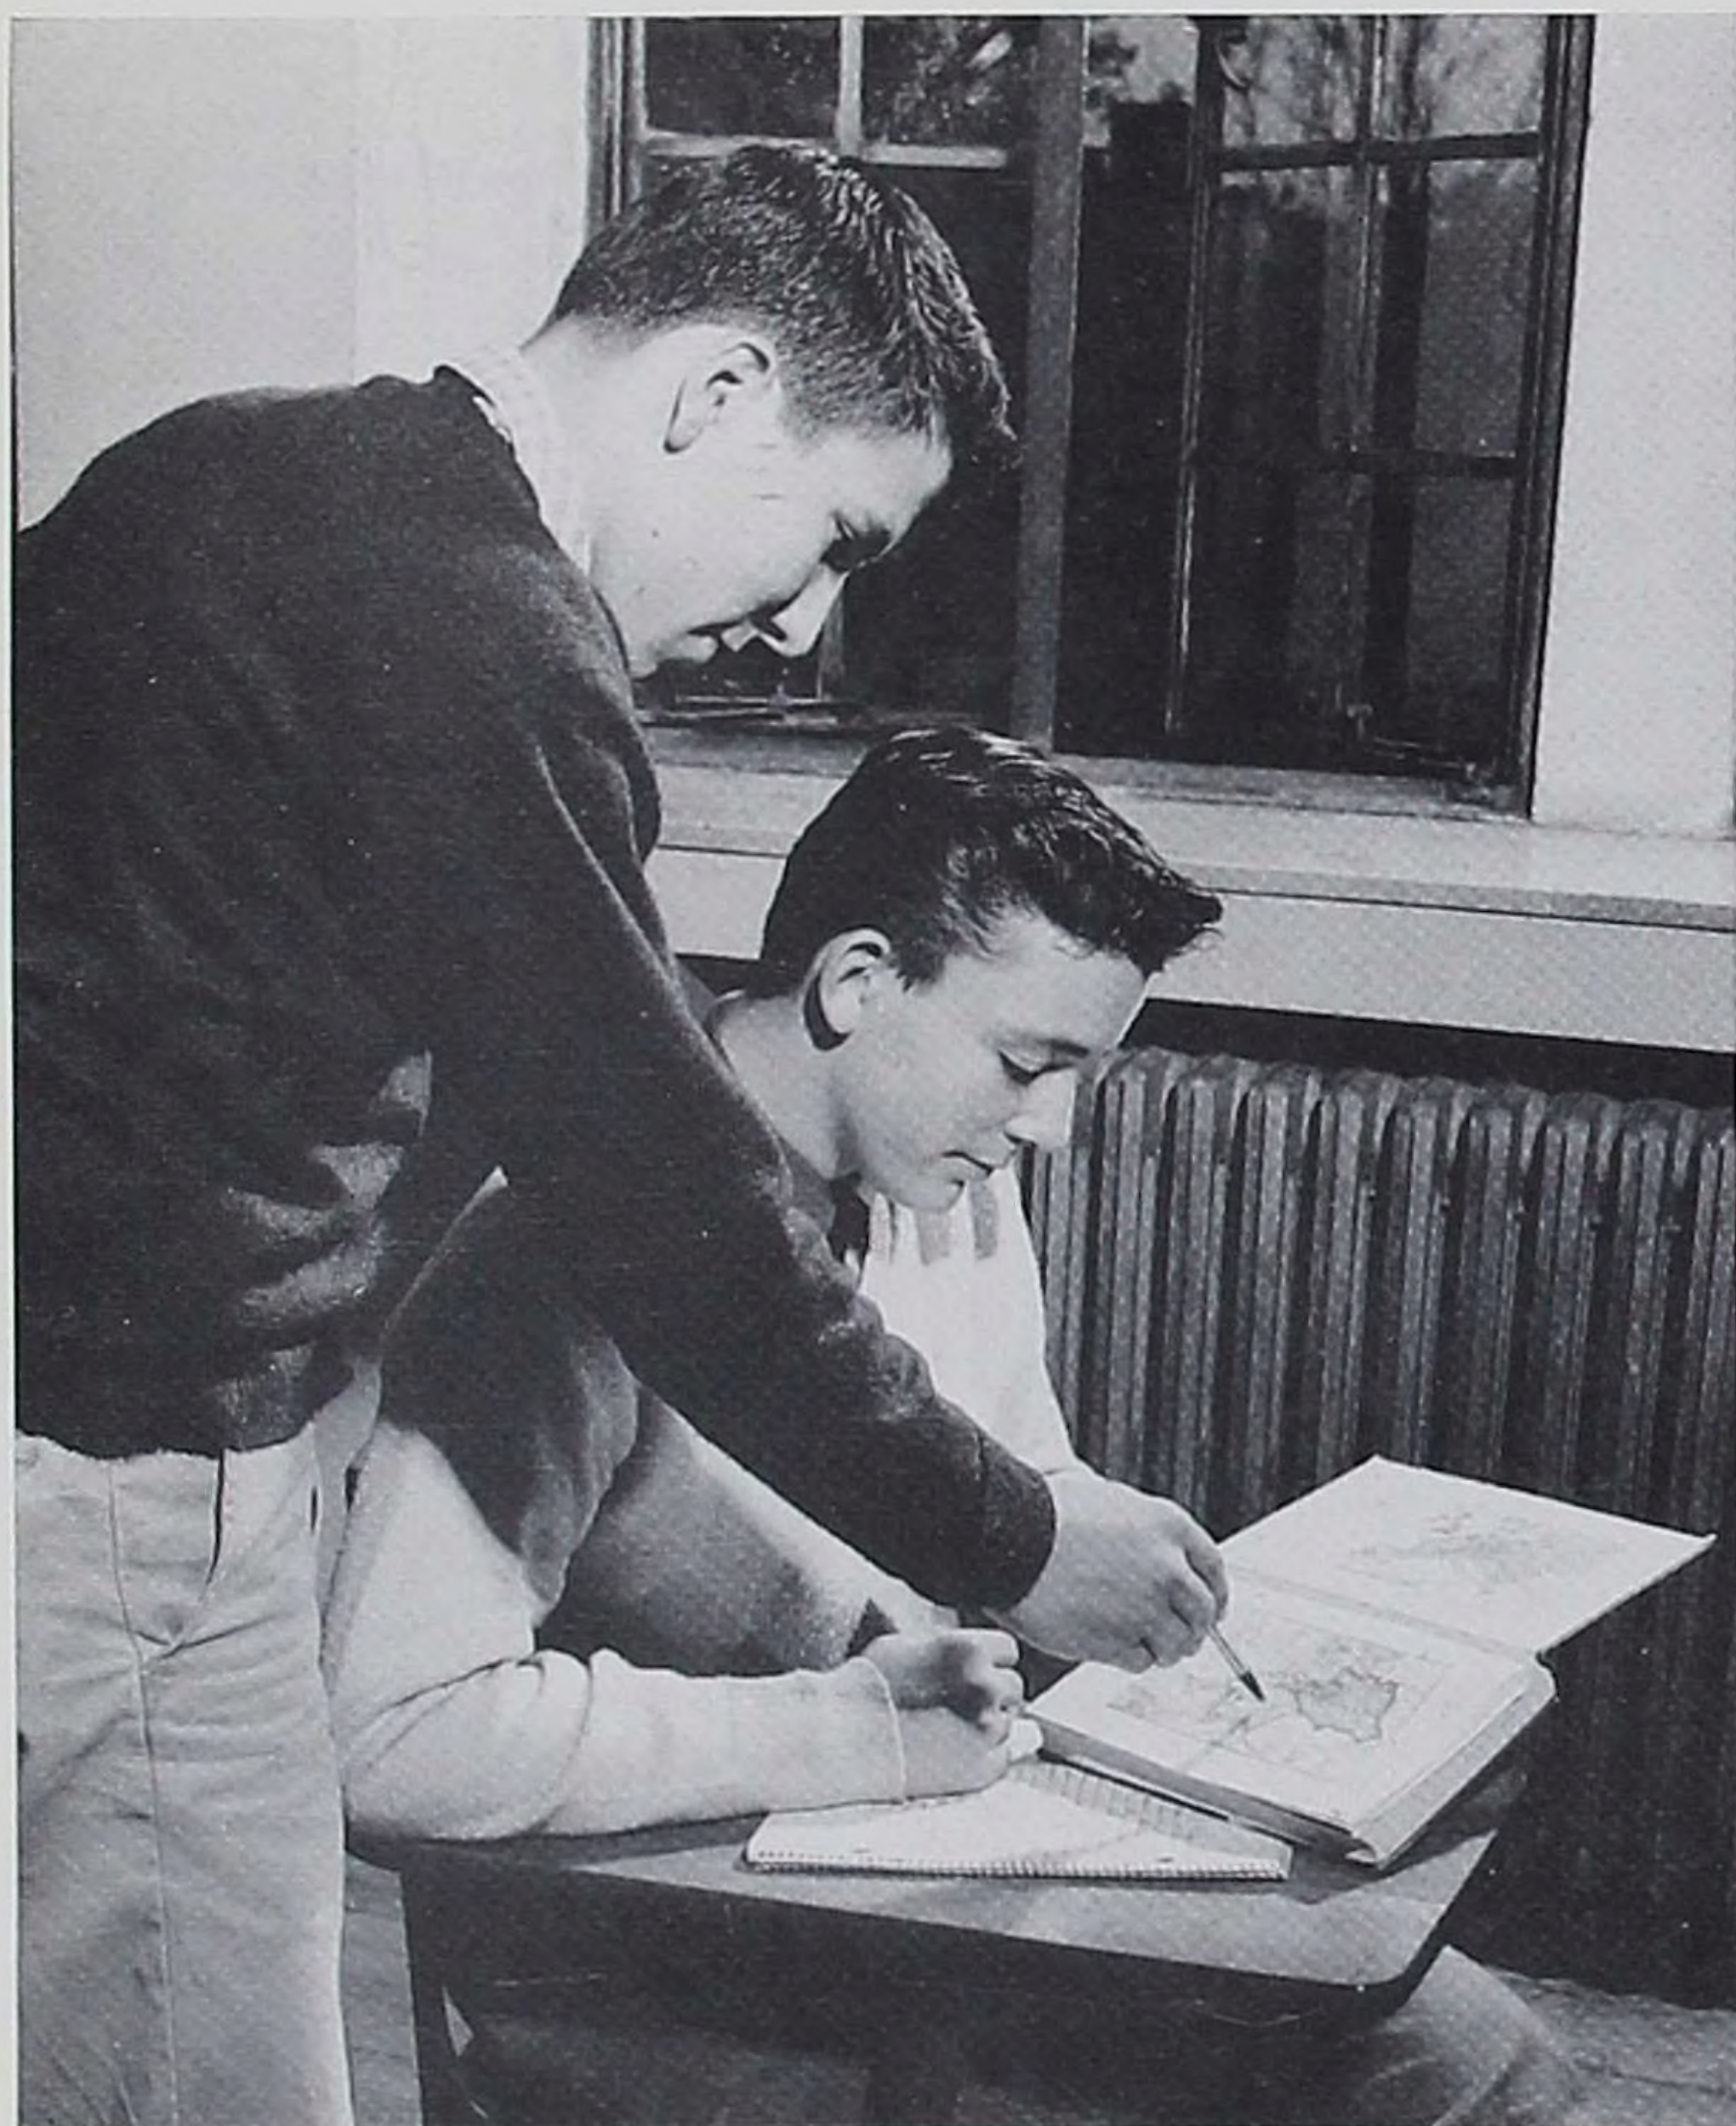

VITALITY AND INTEREST. (Foreground) F. Shimandle and (clockwise) J. Malo, J. Medved, T. Mayschak, D. Mulvey, R. Summerville (center), and T. Hoban enter vigorously into the fun of a pep rally.

LOYALTY. Students support the team by attending games and enjoy Fr. McGowan's dispensary between halves.

"YOU CAN'T LEARN all about the French without studying the geography of France," says J. Pasqualine to W. Whelton.

ROMAN ART is part of Latin study. Fr. Leahy sees that R. Visco and J. Medved learn about the dying Gaul.

We meet other peoples in history, languages, and literature is felt, too, in the revival of the study of art at Fenwick. Father Zarlenga, from Rome, Italy, and now a full-fledged American, has his studios above and behind the gym. He does church paintings, stained glass, and portraits. He has consented to take a few of the more talented Fenwick tyro artists under his tutelage.

Italian influence

IT'S NEWS: The artist, Fr. Zarlenga, poses for us (right).

MEXICO'S STORY brings Spanish closer to home. Mr. Saunders hears J. Holloway interest S. D'Agostino and R. Dowd in the Aztecs.

FRENCH GRAB BAG GAME (below right) is played by J. Griffin and R. Austin in Fr. Marieb's senior French.

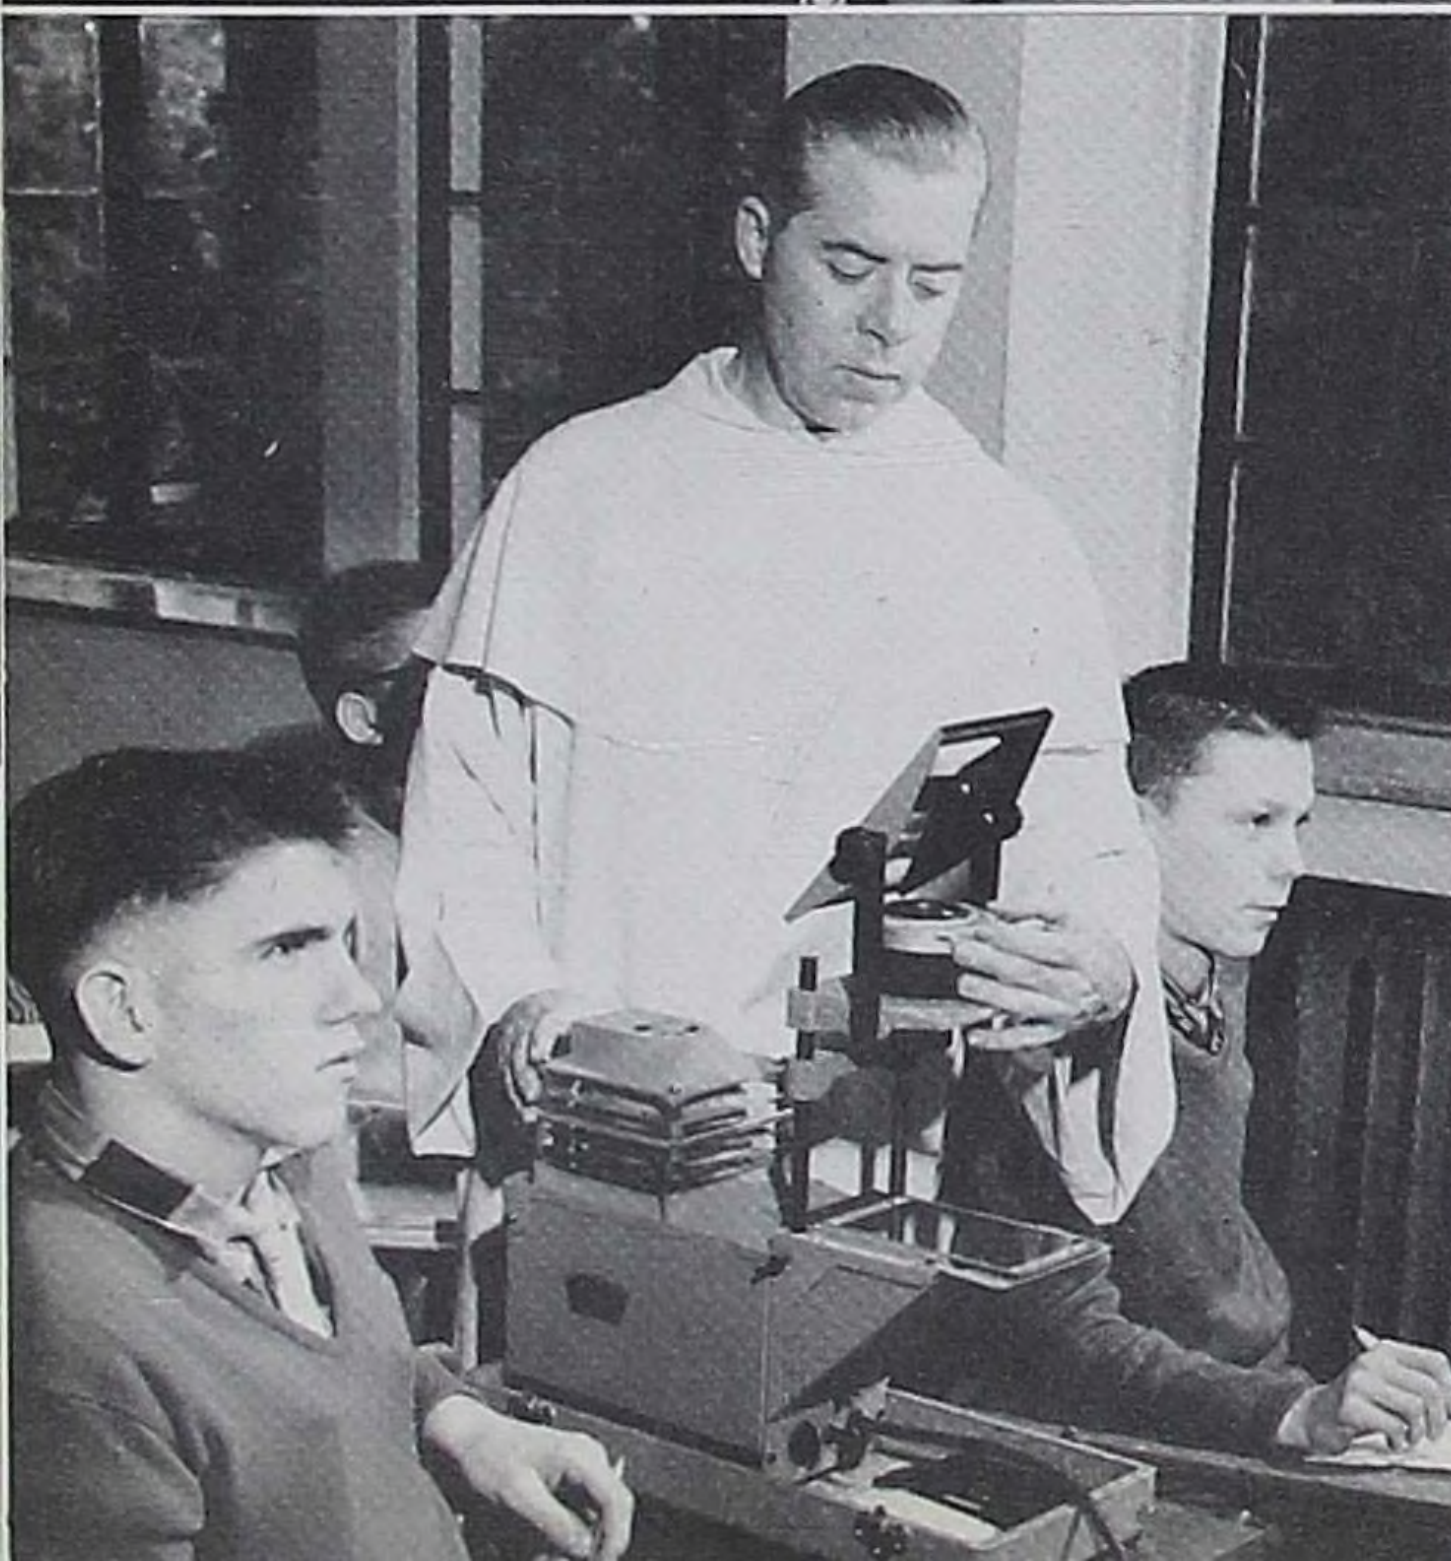

RECORDING GERMAN pronunciation is common procedure in class. Father Ashenbrener supervises the work of J. Tracey and T. O'Keefe.

But we need English the most for this is the chief way we communicate the knowledge we have learned here at Fenwick. Under the guiding hand of Fathers Van Rooy, Whalen, Smith, Dymek, and Kelly, and Messrs. Hlavin, Martin, and Sokoloff, we are put through the proverbial "wringer." If there is any one bit of advice a senior can hand down to his successors, it is that he should constantly keep studying his English, for the demands of senior year are exacting. In our freshman year we got our first taste of the old "Bard." We started with the "Merchant of Venice," which we thought was amusing. Our next attempt at Shakespeare was "Julius Caesar." Now we no longer thought Shakespeare was funny. We were growing up. The junior year brought us into contact with such greats as Thornton Wilder, Paul Gallico, Washington Irving, and many others. Our last year brought us back to "Will." We started with "Macbeth" and eventually progressed to "Hamlet."

and for pre-med

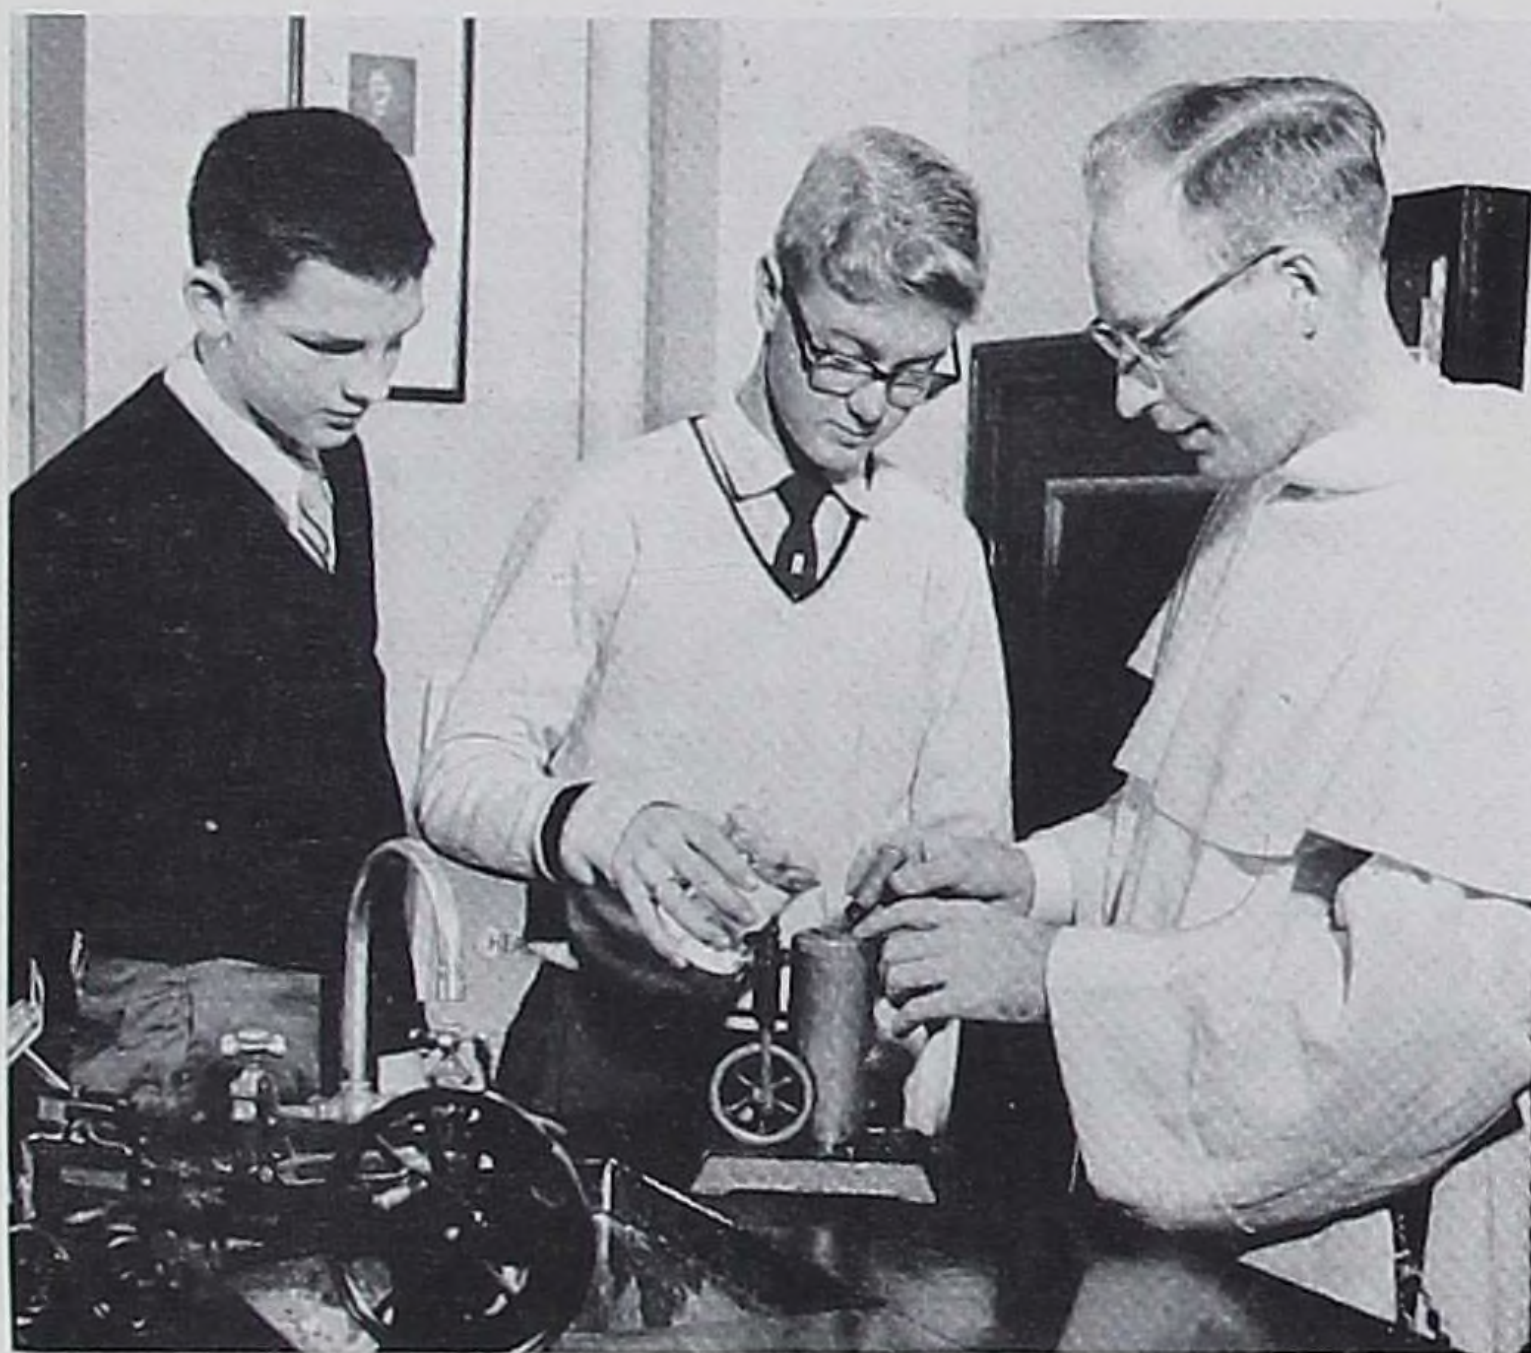

Physics includes the study of mechanics, heat, sound, light, electricity, and radioactivity. There are two specialists here: Fr. Tucker, who specializes in mechanics and heat, and Fr. Robinson, in electronics. Boyle's law, Archimedes' principle, Hooke's law, Pascal's principle, the Brownian movement, and Bernoulli's principle are all part of mechanics and heat. Where it is possible, they are better understood by experimentation; and where it is impossible, they are thoroughly explained by Fr. Tucker. In electronics the student learns the principles of such modern conveniences as radio television. Better to understand these principles, Fr. Robinson treated the students to a few visits to the radio room.

Mathematics, of course, is a basic requirement for science study. All students must take algebra and plane geometry. Only the hardy and brave (about half of the upper-classmen) dare to face the advanced math ordeal and its chief perpetrators, Fathers Conway, McGowan, and Madrick.

SCIENCE NOTEBOOKS get filled with data on electrical circuitry as Father Robinson explains.

THE STEAM ENGINE gets special attention from Father Determan, giving a demonstration to D. Rahn and T. Radkiewicz.

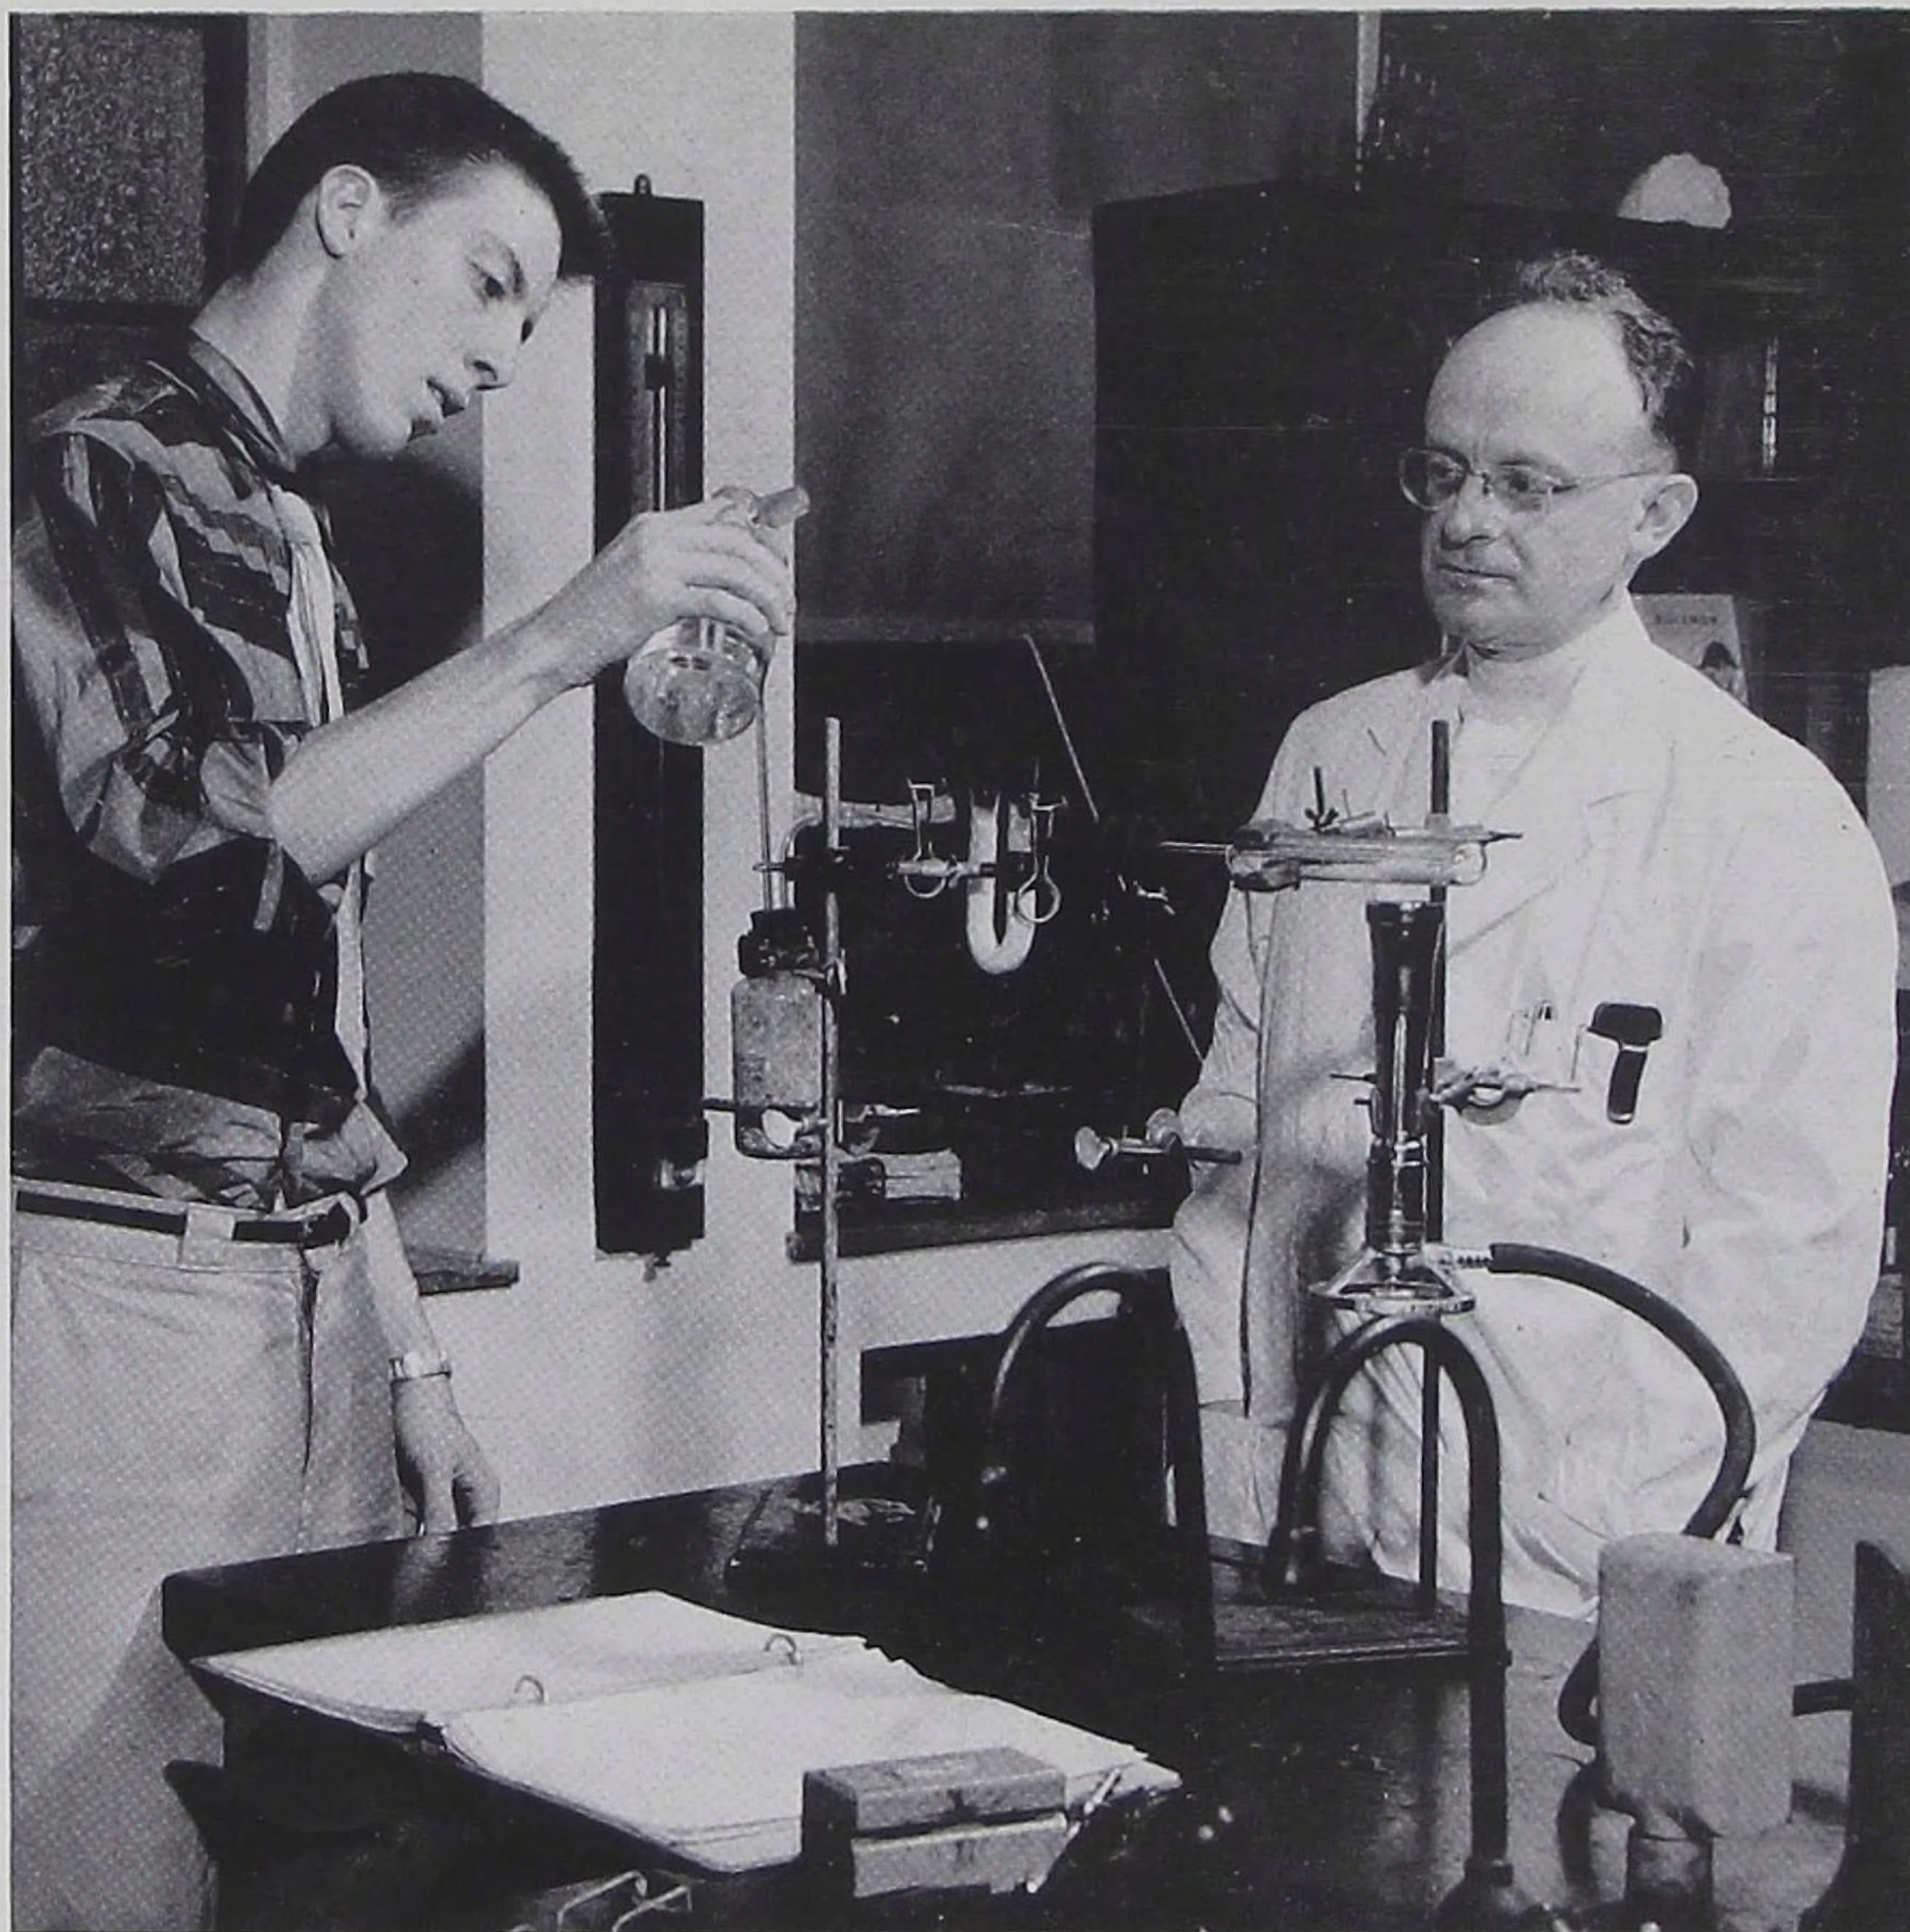

ROCKETS EXCITE the young scientists. Junior E. Rubeck (right) experiments with his own specimen of what the modern rocket should be like.

Struggling with chem, physics presents a real challenge to the science student. Laboratory periods, lecture classes, and weekly tests are very exacting. Mixing chemicals, analyzing unknown solutions, writing equations constitute the fun of lab class. Lecture notes jotted down hurriedly, but never improved upon, offer the student the opportunity to harass the teacher. "Any questions, hummm!" Thursday night finds the chem student "jacking up" the phone bill in a vain attempt to find someone, just someone, who has done the chem math. Later in the evening he tries to interpret the jumbled mass of lecture "notes." Friday afternoon, second period, is his big opportunity to prove his excellence in chemistry, the test. Here in forty minutes he is expected to divulge the storehouse of knowledge he has acquired in the previous four days; here only a genius, indeed, can get a fifty-one on a chem test!

The band gets bigger and better

The sixty-six-piece senior Band is unusually versatile, able to play difficult classical compositions and hot jive.

Director Rocco F. Menza, M.M.E., has had many years' experience in high school band work. Father Ashenbrener, moderator, and Father Smith, assistant moderator, have succeeded in getting each year an increasing number of students interested in Band training.

Band officers are: R. Micek, president; D. Merkes, vice-president; J. Vondruska, sergeant-at-arms; B. LeBeda, secretary, and L. Mick, treasurer.

The Band appearances include the football games; concerts at Siena, Notre Dame, and Aquinas; the football banquet; Christmas concert; St. Patrick's Day parade; Nazareth Conference; Silver Gloves; Easter and spring concerts; Rosary College; Memorial Day parade; and graduation exercises.

The freshman Band, a feeder band for the senior organization, consists of thirty-two pieces. Members of the freshmen band receive lessons during orientation period each day. General rehearsals are held at 3 P.M. Mondays and Wednesdays. More than half of the members have had no previous musical experience.

JAZZ CLUB officers select new records: Vice-president L. Selcke, Treasurer E. Donovan, President E. Morford (seated), and Secretary M. Eck.

Increasing numbers take interest in music

Thirty-one freshmen helped swell the ranks to make Fenwick's largest glee club. Mr. C. Martini, director; Fr. Hren, moderator; and Fr. Leahy, assistant, arranged for local and outside appearances of the club. Officers are: J. Lavezzi, president; R. Wolf, vice-president; P. Jara, secretary; and C. Glomski, treasurer.

The Gregorianum, a special section of the club, furnishes the vocal Gregorian music for religious services.

FR. HREN TUTORS J. Gust and P. Jara (librarian) in the technique of note reading.

Debaters work afternoons, weekends, October to May to acquire the facility necessary for 143 debates with outside schools, 12 tournaments, 3 student congresses in which bills were introduced, debated, and voted upon, 3 speech festivals in which highest honors were won for extempore speaking, and 4 symposia honoring various saints. Special honors were won by W. Sweeney, P. Goedert, P. Tierney, and J. Conlon.

Special mention must be given to Seniors W. Sweeney, P. Goedert, J. Zmigrocki, J. Conlon, J. Lavezzi, and M. O'Brien; juniors J. Hunter, R. Carlton, J. Listak, J. Puljung, and T. Scapillato; sophomores J. Lee, D. Madl, P. Tierney, A. Provenzano, and V. Kelley; and to freshmen J. Gearen, D. Grant, T. Hunter, M. Noel, G. O'Brien, and J. Krcmarik.

National Honor Society

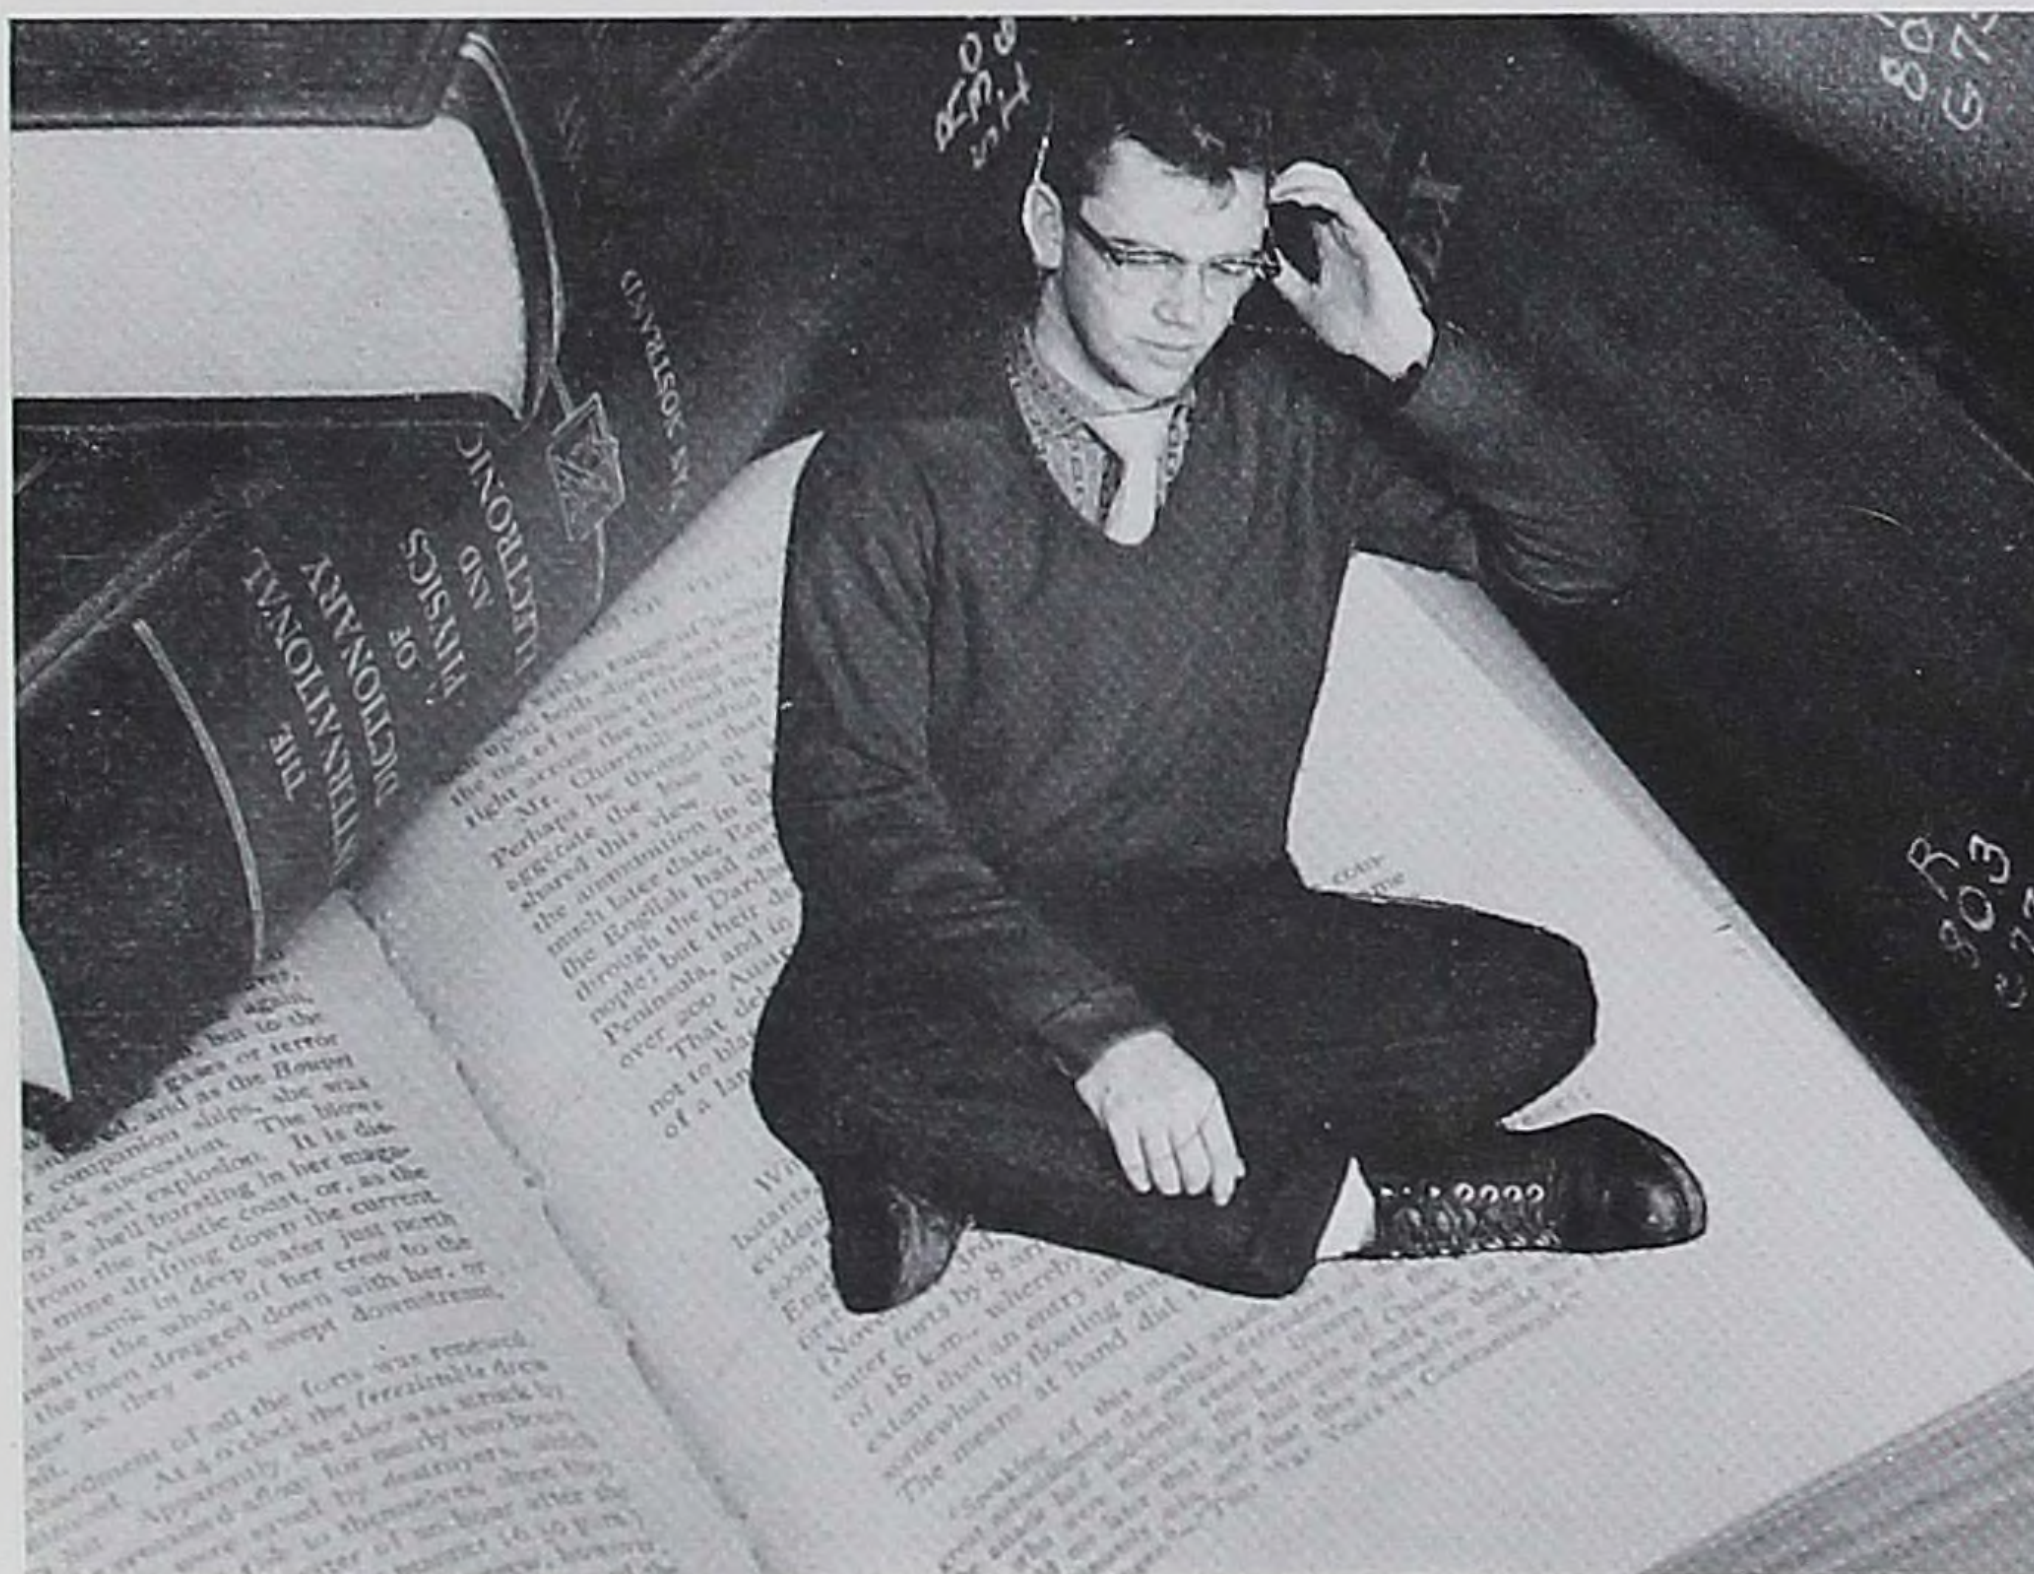

For scholarship, service to the school, qualities of leadership, and wholesome character, twenty-three juniors were elected by the faculty to the Fenwick chapter of the National Honor Society, May 31, 1957.

John Lavezzi's scholastic prowess won a National Merit Scholarship. Other N.H.S. National Merit qualifiers were Clem McDonald and Pat McMahon.

These young men are not bookworms. Besides a B average each student must be active in at least one extra-curricular activity. James Barr, Joseph Gorecki, Joseph McDonald, and Henry Reimann, each a major letter winner in football, belie the "brawn-no-brains" theory. Stan Demski won his major letter in basketball senior year. Clement McDonald and Jerome MacLennan earned their laurels by helping to capture Fenwick's twenty-second swimming crown. "Play ball" was music to the ears of James Boyd and Alan Toepfer, who are on Fenwick's league ball team.

Ronald Micek, president of the Band, Patrick McMahon, Joseph Stainer, and Leonard Tufo played the saxophone, trombone, trumpet, and clarinet, respectively, in the concert band. John Lavezzi walked away with the glee club presidency.

Members of Fenwick's Fourth Estate were Harold Bonus, senior editor of The Wick, and Patrick Goedert, columnist; and William M. Egan, William Sweeney, Jay Tonne, and Leonard Tufo reported school events.

Classmates honored Jay Tonne, Patrick Goedert, and William Sweeney with class offices; Jay Tonne became president; Patrick Goedert, vice-president; and William Sweeney, treasurer.

AIDING THE CELEBRANT in vesting for Mass are P. Jara and E. Donovan, sacristans.

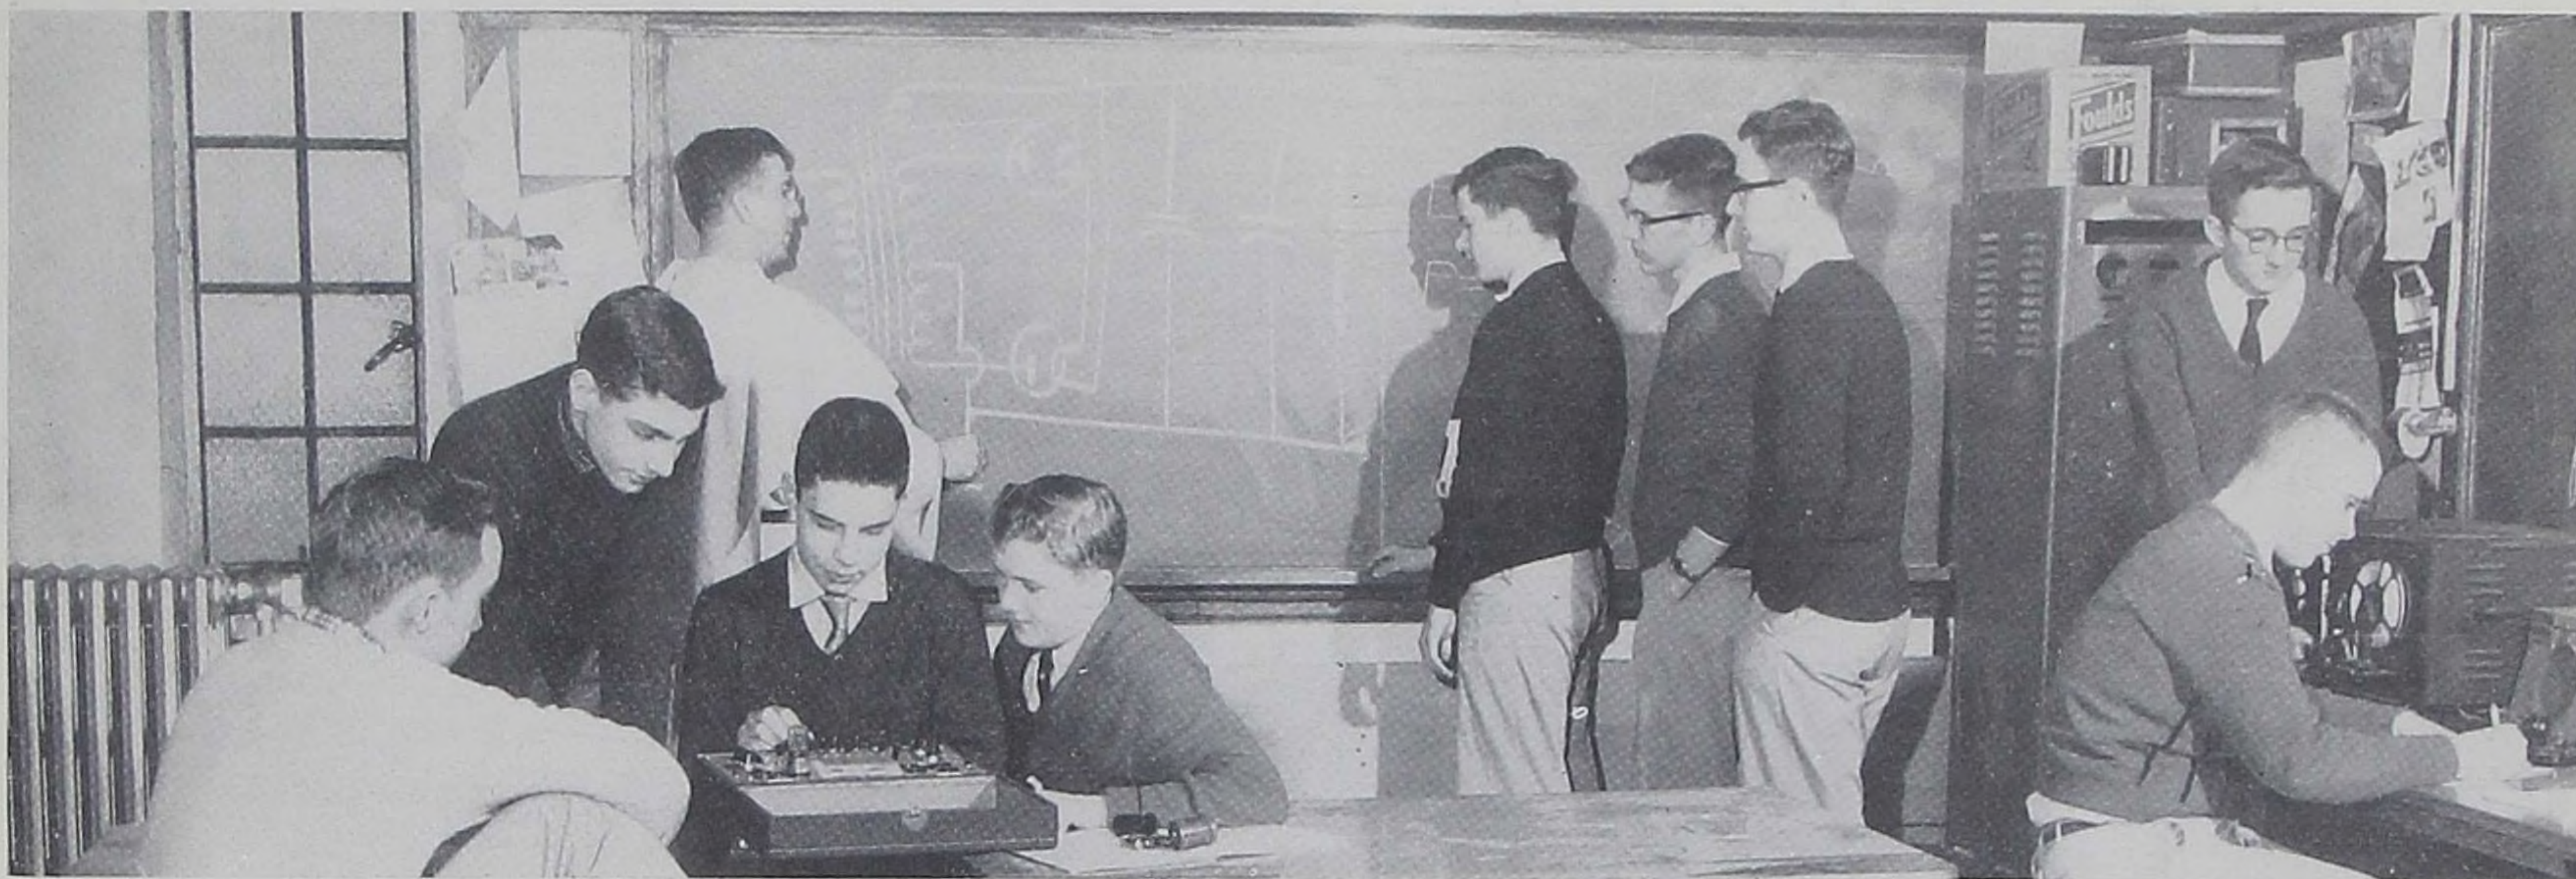

Servers Club members are sacristans

Assisting at all religious services, especially at Mass and Benediction is the club's main purpose. Members place the motto posters on the bulletin boards and take care of the pamphlet rack. The sacristans, three seniors and three juniors, make the necessary preparations for these services with the aid of the Lay Brothers, especially Brother Henry.

Radiomen work for official licenses

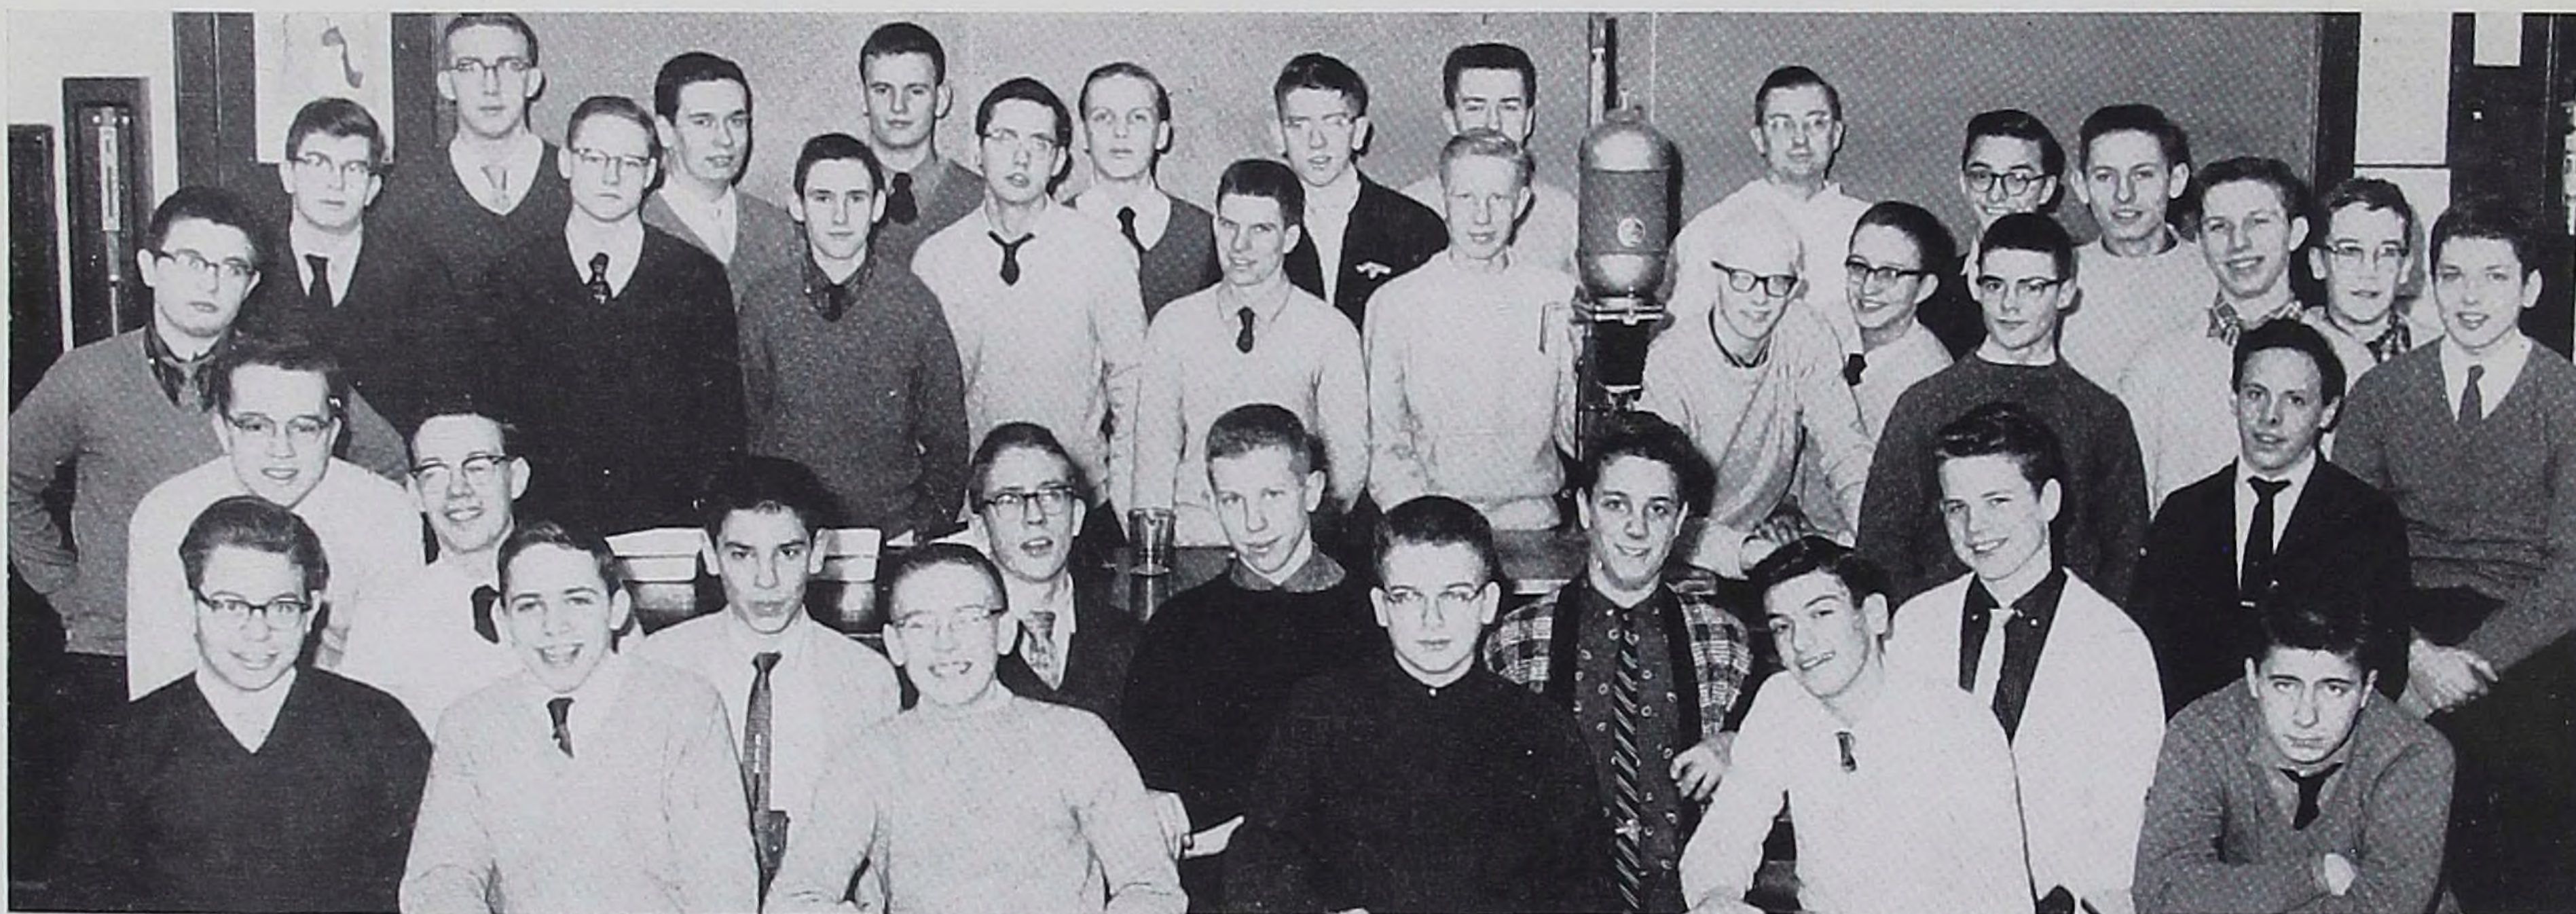

Fenwick's W9ANF sends messages to all parts of the globe. An amateur license and a station of his own are the goal of each member. Various field trips help instruct members in emergency broadcasting. Under Fr. Robinson's instruction, thirteen members now hold licenses: J. Berberet KN9JBK, J.

Greenwood KN9KNM, J. Karmazin KN9-KOG, W. Trzeciak KN9LIS, J. Polli K9BRB, E. Ostap K9AJU, P. Adlaf KN9JOJ, J. Kusek KN9LDQ, F. Mercurio K9HFS, T. Robinson KN9LPG, W. O'Toole K9CPQ, and J. Gallagher K9HEA.

DARKROOM ENLARGER gets a workout from R. Bonus and J. Oras.

PHOTO FANS A. F. Provenzano and J. Pawlik prepare to run through a batch of negatives.

INSPECTING a fresh batch of exposures are Fr. Kelly, camera club moderator; R. Bonus; and J. Pawlik.

Under the guidance of Fr. Kelly, the club has been reorganized to include sixty members who are split into four groups, depending upon the experience each man has had. Field trips are made, and contests are sponsored by the club. To go with the new plans, a new set of rules has been written. To insure interest, any member who fails to attend two consecutive meetings is dropped immediately.

Darkroom rules have been changed to allow members to use its facilities at their convenience rather than at appointed times. It is hoped that this will create a greater interest in the club and its facilities among prospective members.

Color developing seems to be the biggest thing in the club's future, with the more experienced members supervising the operation.

A RIFLE UNDERGOES inspection by Fr. Sherman, W. Stephen, S. Perry, J. Joyce, P. Douglass, and T. Kerber.

Rifle Club expands under the direction of Father Sherman

Since Fr. J. W. Sherman became moderator of the Rifle Club in '55, the membership has risen to forty. Every Wednesday, one of the two groups into which the club is divided goes to the Austin Town Hall to learn to handle firearms correctly and accurately.

The Club's equipment includes four Army 22's loaned to them by the Department of Civil Marksmanship, and three new target rifles purchased by Fr. Sherman with the club's yearly dues.

Club officers are: S. Perry, range officer; P. Douglass, president; J. Joyce, vice-president; W. Stephen, secretary; and T. Kerber, treasurer.

Members of the Rifle Club are: P. Adlaf, N. Bonfield, F. Brennan, F. Browning, J. Clancy, T. Conrad, J. De Nardo, D. Dooley,

P. Douglass, M. Esposito, J. Foley, F. Fritz, J. Gaynor, T. Gleason, T. Hickey, W. Hughes, J. Joyce, T. Kerber, F. Kodl, A. Krippner, C. Kusmider, T. Laskey, D. Marin, P. Maren, W. Melzer, D. C.E.E.B. TESTS were administered at Fenwick twice this year. Students from other schools as well as from our own participated.

Many of the larger colleges now demand the presentation of the results of these tests as a requirement for acceptance. The tests, too, give the high school an indication of its weak and strong points.

The students themselves find that these tests furnish them a measure by which to judge their own high-school accomplishment.

Our dates will never know if we are smart or stupid or good or a nuisance. After all Trinity, Providence, and Siena are not too far away. And there are many others no farther away than the phone.

Right: "JAMAICAN FAREWELL" was the theme of the junior confraternity dance. E. Donovan, P. Windle, and R. Bonus enjoy the indoor fountain and their dates.

Left: THE GIRLS SHOULD SEE what work we go through to give them a good time. Preparing for the Senior Confrat are G. Drymalski, H. De Grenier, D. Dore, G. Korzeniewski, C. Hillig, P. James, J. Tonne, and G. Sobieski.

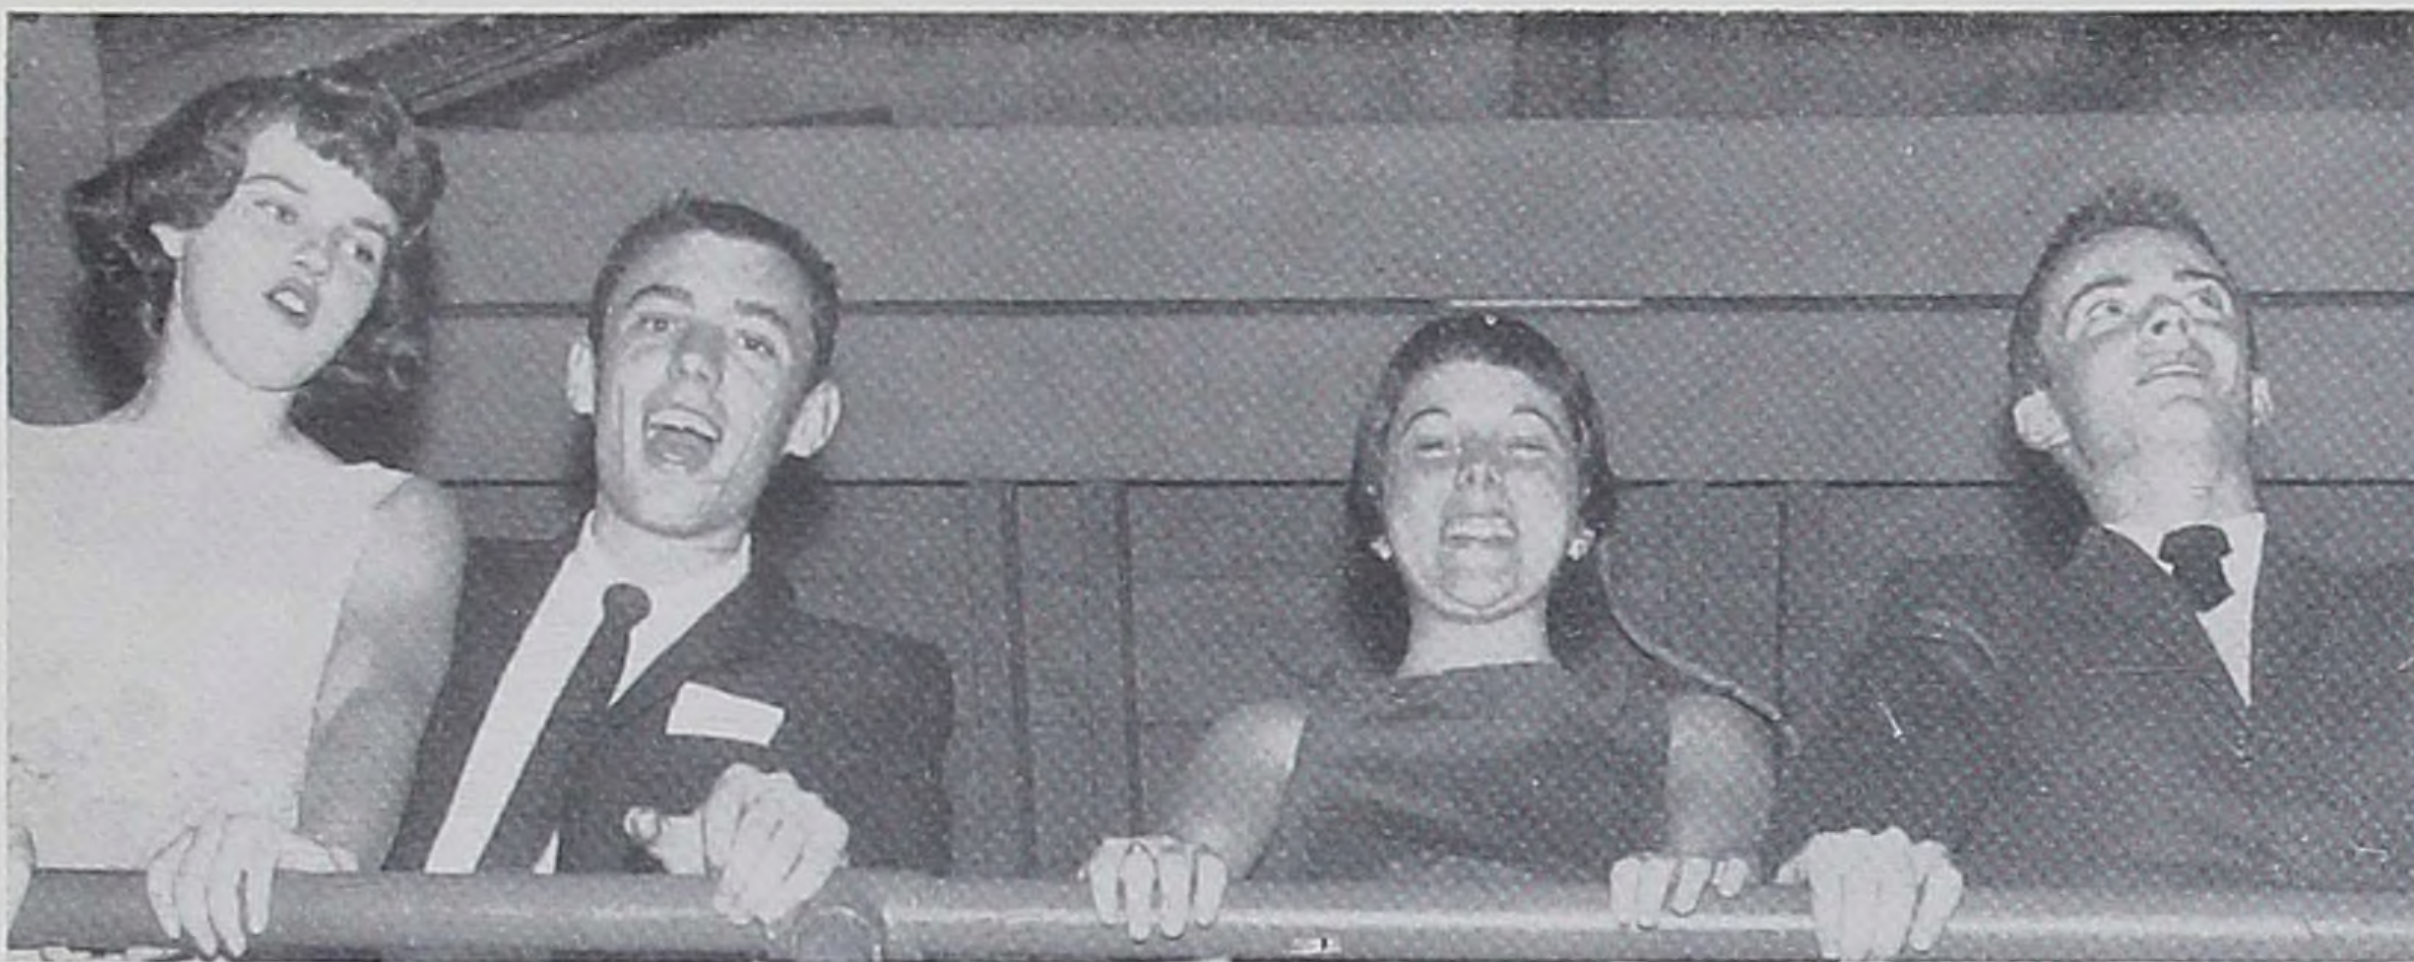

Below: ARTISTS THEY ARE NOT, but M. Whalen, L. Selcke, and C. Hillig make a noble attempt for confrat decorations.

So that others might dance in an attractive setting the Confrat committees spend many painstaking hours, drink dozens of cokes, and swap unbelievable yarns in an effort to surprise their dates with beautiful decorations. And it isn't easy to remove paste, dirt, glue, and paint between 6:30 the evening of the party and still look fresh and inviting when we ring the sacred doorbell at 9:00.

Shall we dance?

LITTLE TOY DOG favors do not attract T. Berry's attention as much as the lady across the table.

and a whole gymful of couples at each of the three Confraternity dances is proof of it.

The first dance each year is sponsored by the seniors; the Winter Confrat, by the juniors; and the Spring Confrat, by the sophomores. Freshmen are allowed only at the last dance of their first year.

The students are not limited to three dances because, of course, it is expected that the girls' schools won't remain entirely inhospitable.

At the Fall Confrat the seniors engaged an artist who, for a small fee, made sketches of the dancers who posed for him.

ARTIST "DAVO" delights the guests with his portrait sketches of their beloveds.

Of course, the Senior Prom dinner dance is the highlight of the year, and many a heart flutters long before the event. This year it was held the Wednesday before Memorial Day—before graduation, we suspect, so that we would still be under the watchful eyes of the faculty.

JOY AND LAUGHTER prevail at this table. Clockwise: S. Kern, R. Maher, J. Gorman, P. Bartlett, and their dates make merry.

One of the few times the football players are allowed to dress up in something other than their black and white uniforms is the gala affair known as the football banquet held at the end of the season in the school's Boulevard Room. Everyone from the heaviest guard to the lightest quarterback awaits it with a gleam in his eye and an emptiness in his stomach. This year the affair was held for a double reason: to honor the new coach and to fete the boys. To these giants of the football field a chance to get huge meal "on the house" is almost as much fun as playing St. Leo's. The contented look on the players' faces can come only from a satisfied stomach. We apologize, however, for having to take the boys away in the middle of their dessert to take these pictures.

DESCENT TO COFFIN is fate of Ignatius footballer depicted on frosh float of T. King, J. Hunter, M. Greco, M. Desmond, and D. Imbur.

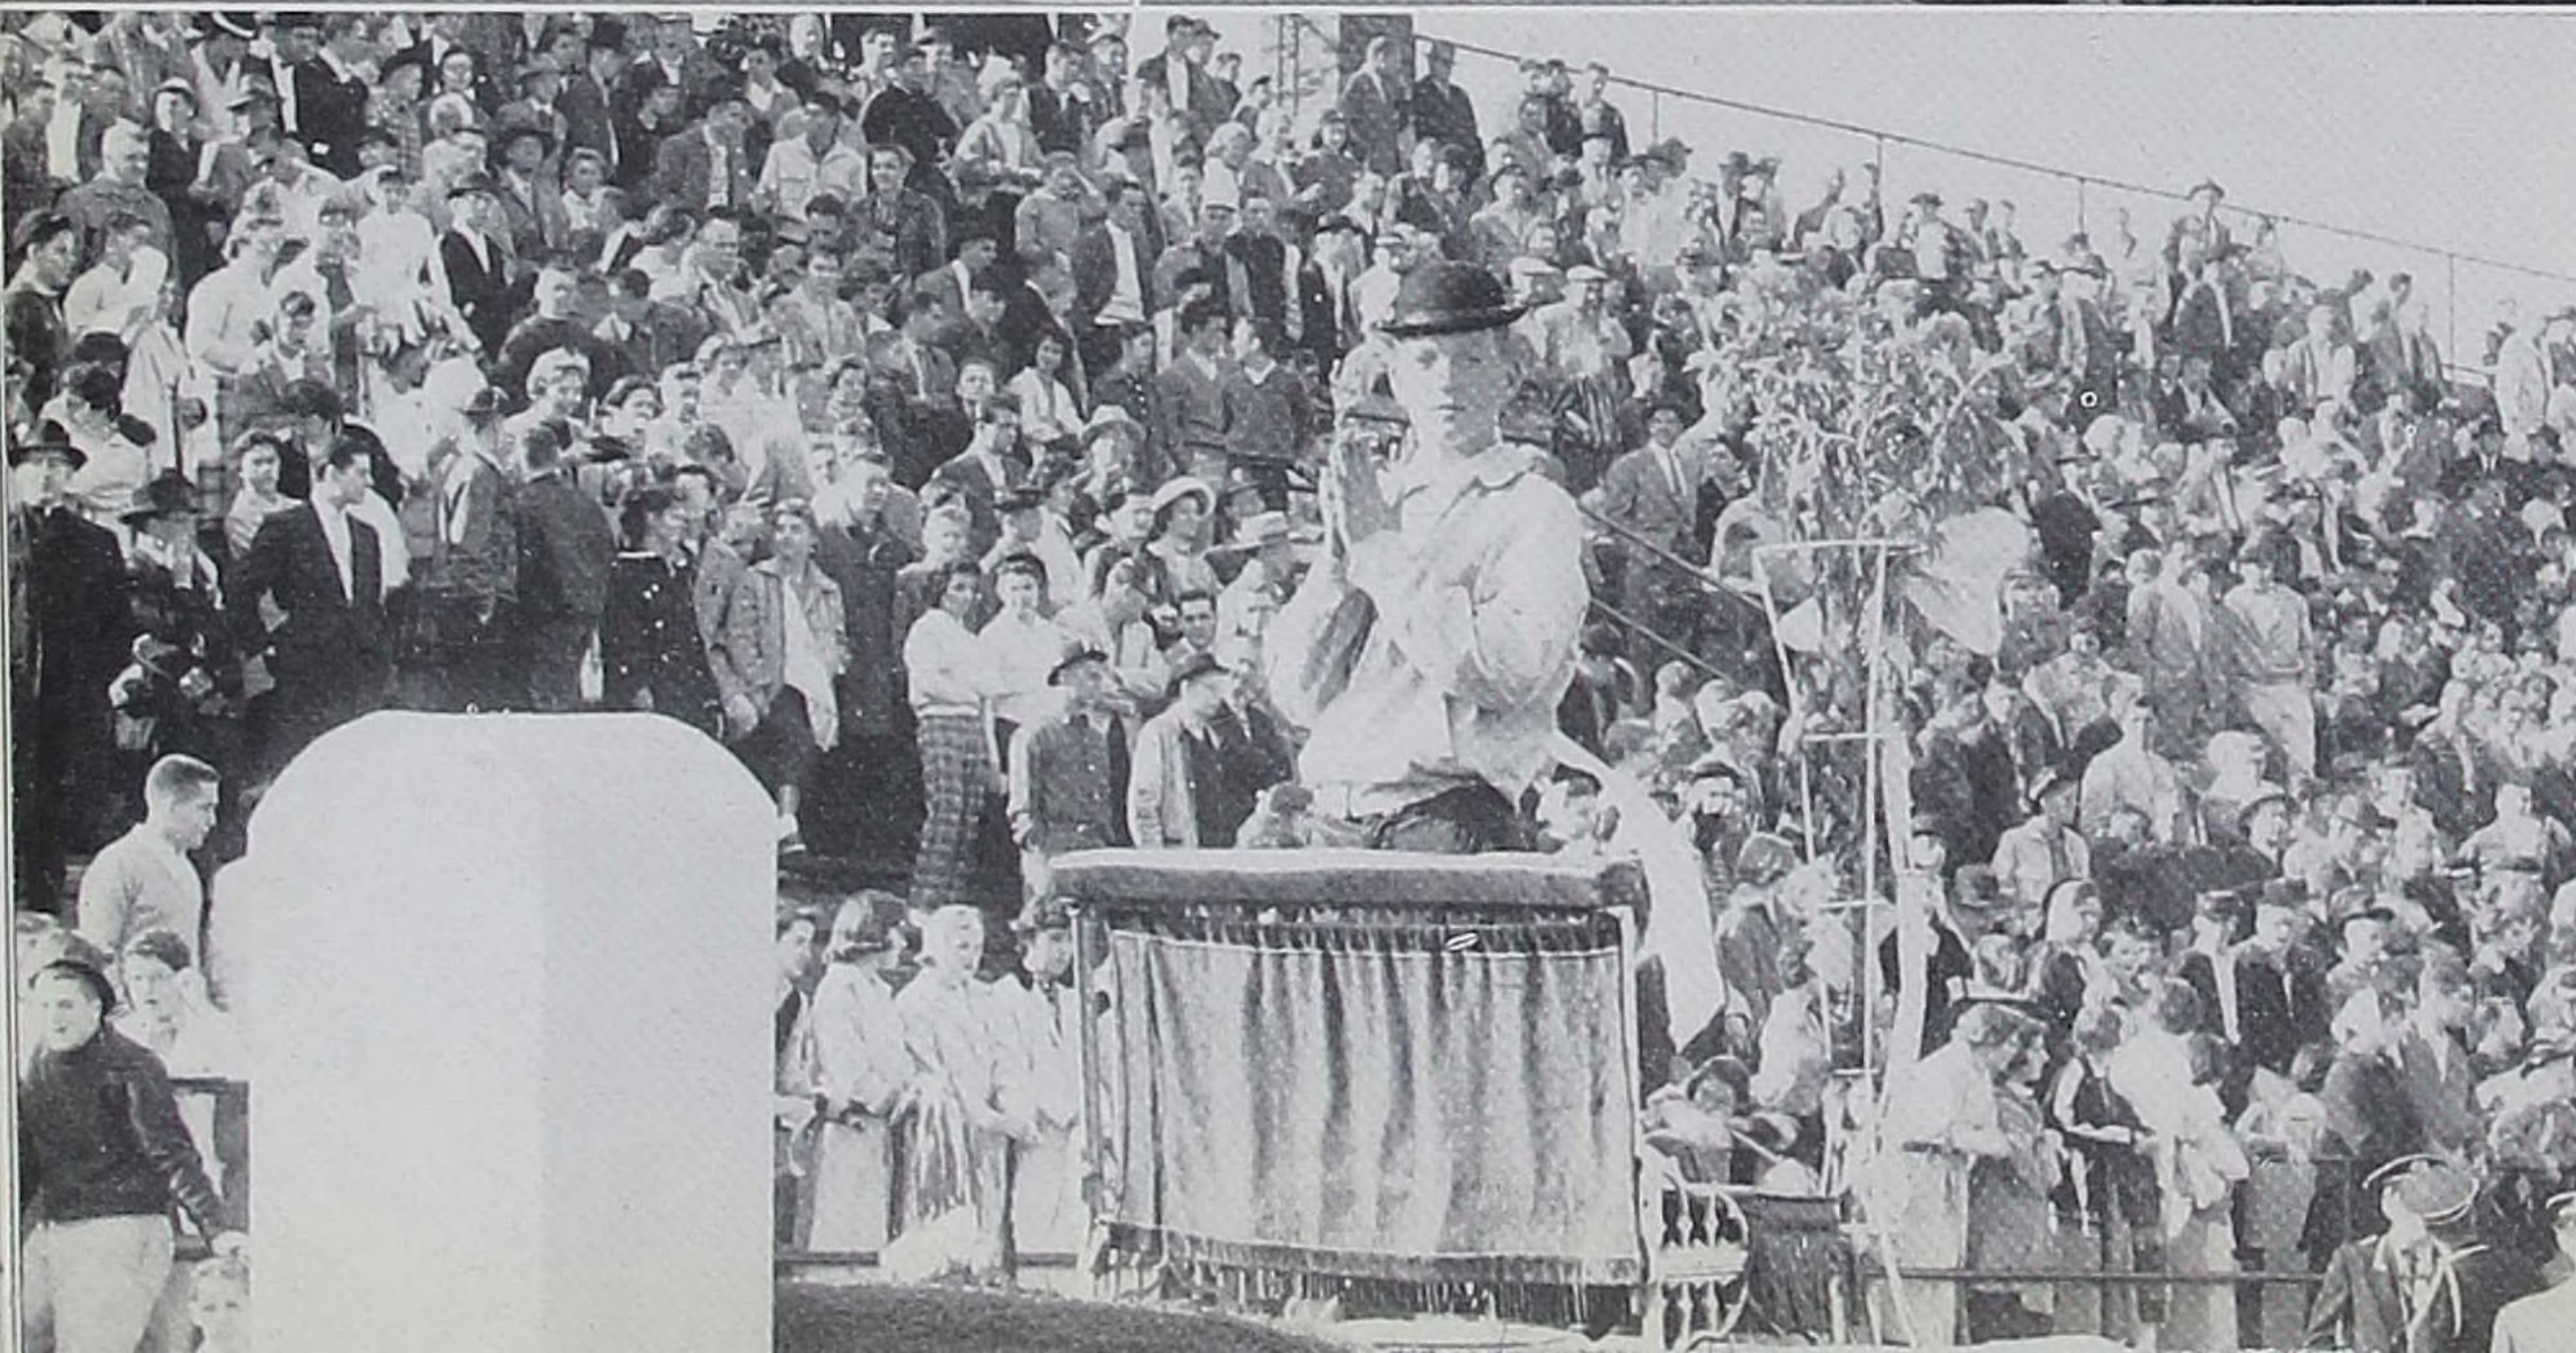

Fifteen floats following a 100-car caravan and bobbing heads topped by Fenwick black derbies migrated October 13 to Hanson Stadium for the annual Fenwick Homecoming game. The Friars defeated the Ignatius Wolves, 31-0, and our opponent's fate was depicted by the student floats.

A sophomore entry entitled "Run the Wolves Into a Brick Wall" captured second place in the float contest, while a gigantic skunk, the Fenwick mascot, took first prize.

The Fenwick Band, making its first marching appearance of the season, hailed the alumni at a half-time spectacular, and formed a human "R. P." in honor of new head football coach, Ralph Peterson.

John Lattner, Fenwick's All-American, boosted the student spirit at the pre-game pep rally.

Amateurs perform for missions

Over one thousand people attended the twenty-third annual Amateur Night Friday, Dec. 6, at the Fenwick gym. J. Stainer emceed the twenty-one acts, the best of which were: a senior skit, first; and T. O'Brien, second. P. Goedert and W. Stephen tied for third; T. Berry, fourth; and a skit by three sophomores, fifth.

J. Tonne, J. Polli, J. Vondruska, S. Stancukas, L. Tufo, R. Jalove, S. Fitzgerald, G. Sobiesk, R. Roach, G. Korzeniewski, M. Barry, J. Caravello, V. Harnett, J. Shortall, J. Chestnut, J. Long, D. Merkes, and P. McMahon performed in the skit which took first place, a take-off on Lawrence Welk.

T. O'Brien sang a la Presley in his act. W. Stephen played the violin; and P. Goedert, the piano. Goedert's costume consisted of odds and ends of German military apparel from the fifteenth century through World War II.

T. Berry sang and told jokes; and M. Haberkorn, L. Skriba, and H. Kennington imitated Jack Webb and company.

The proceeds of Amateur Night will be sent to the Dominican missions in the southern U. S.

Blackfriars drama club presents war play

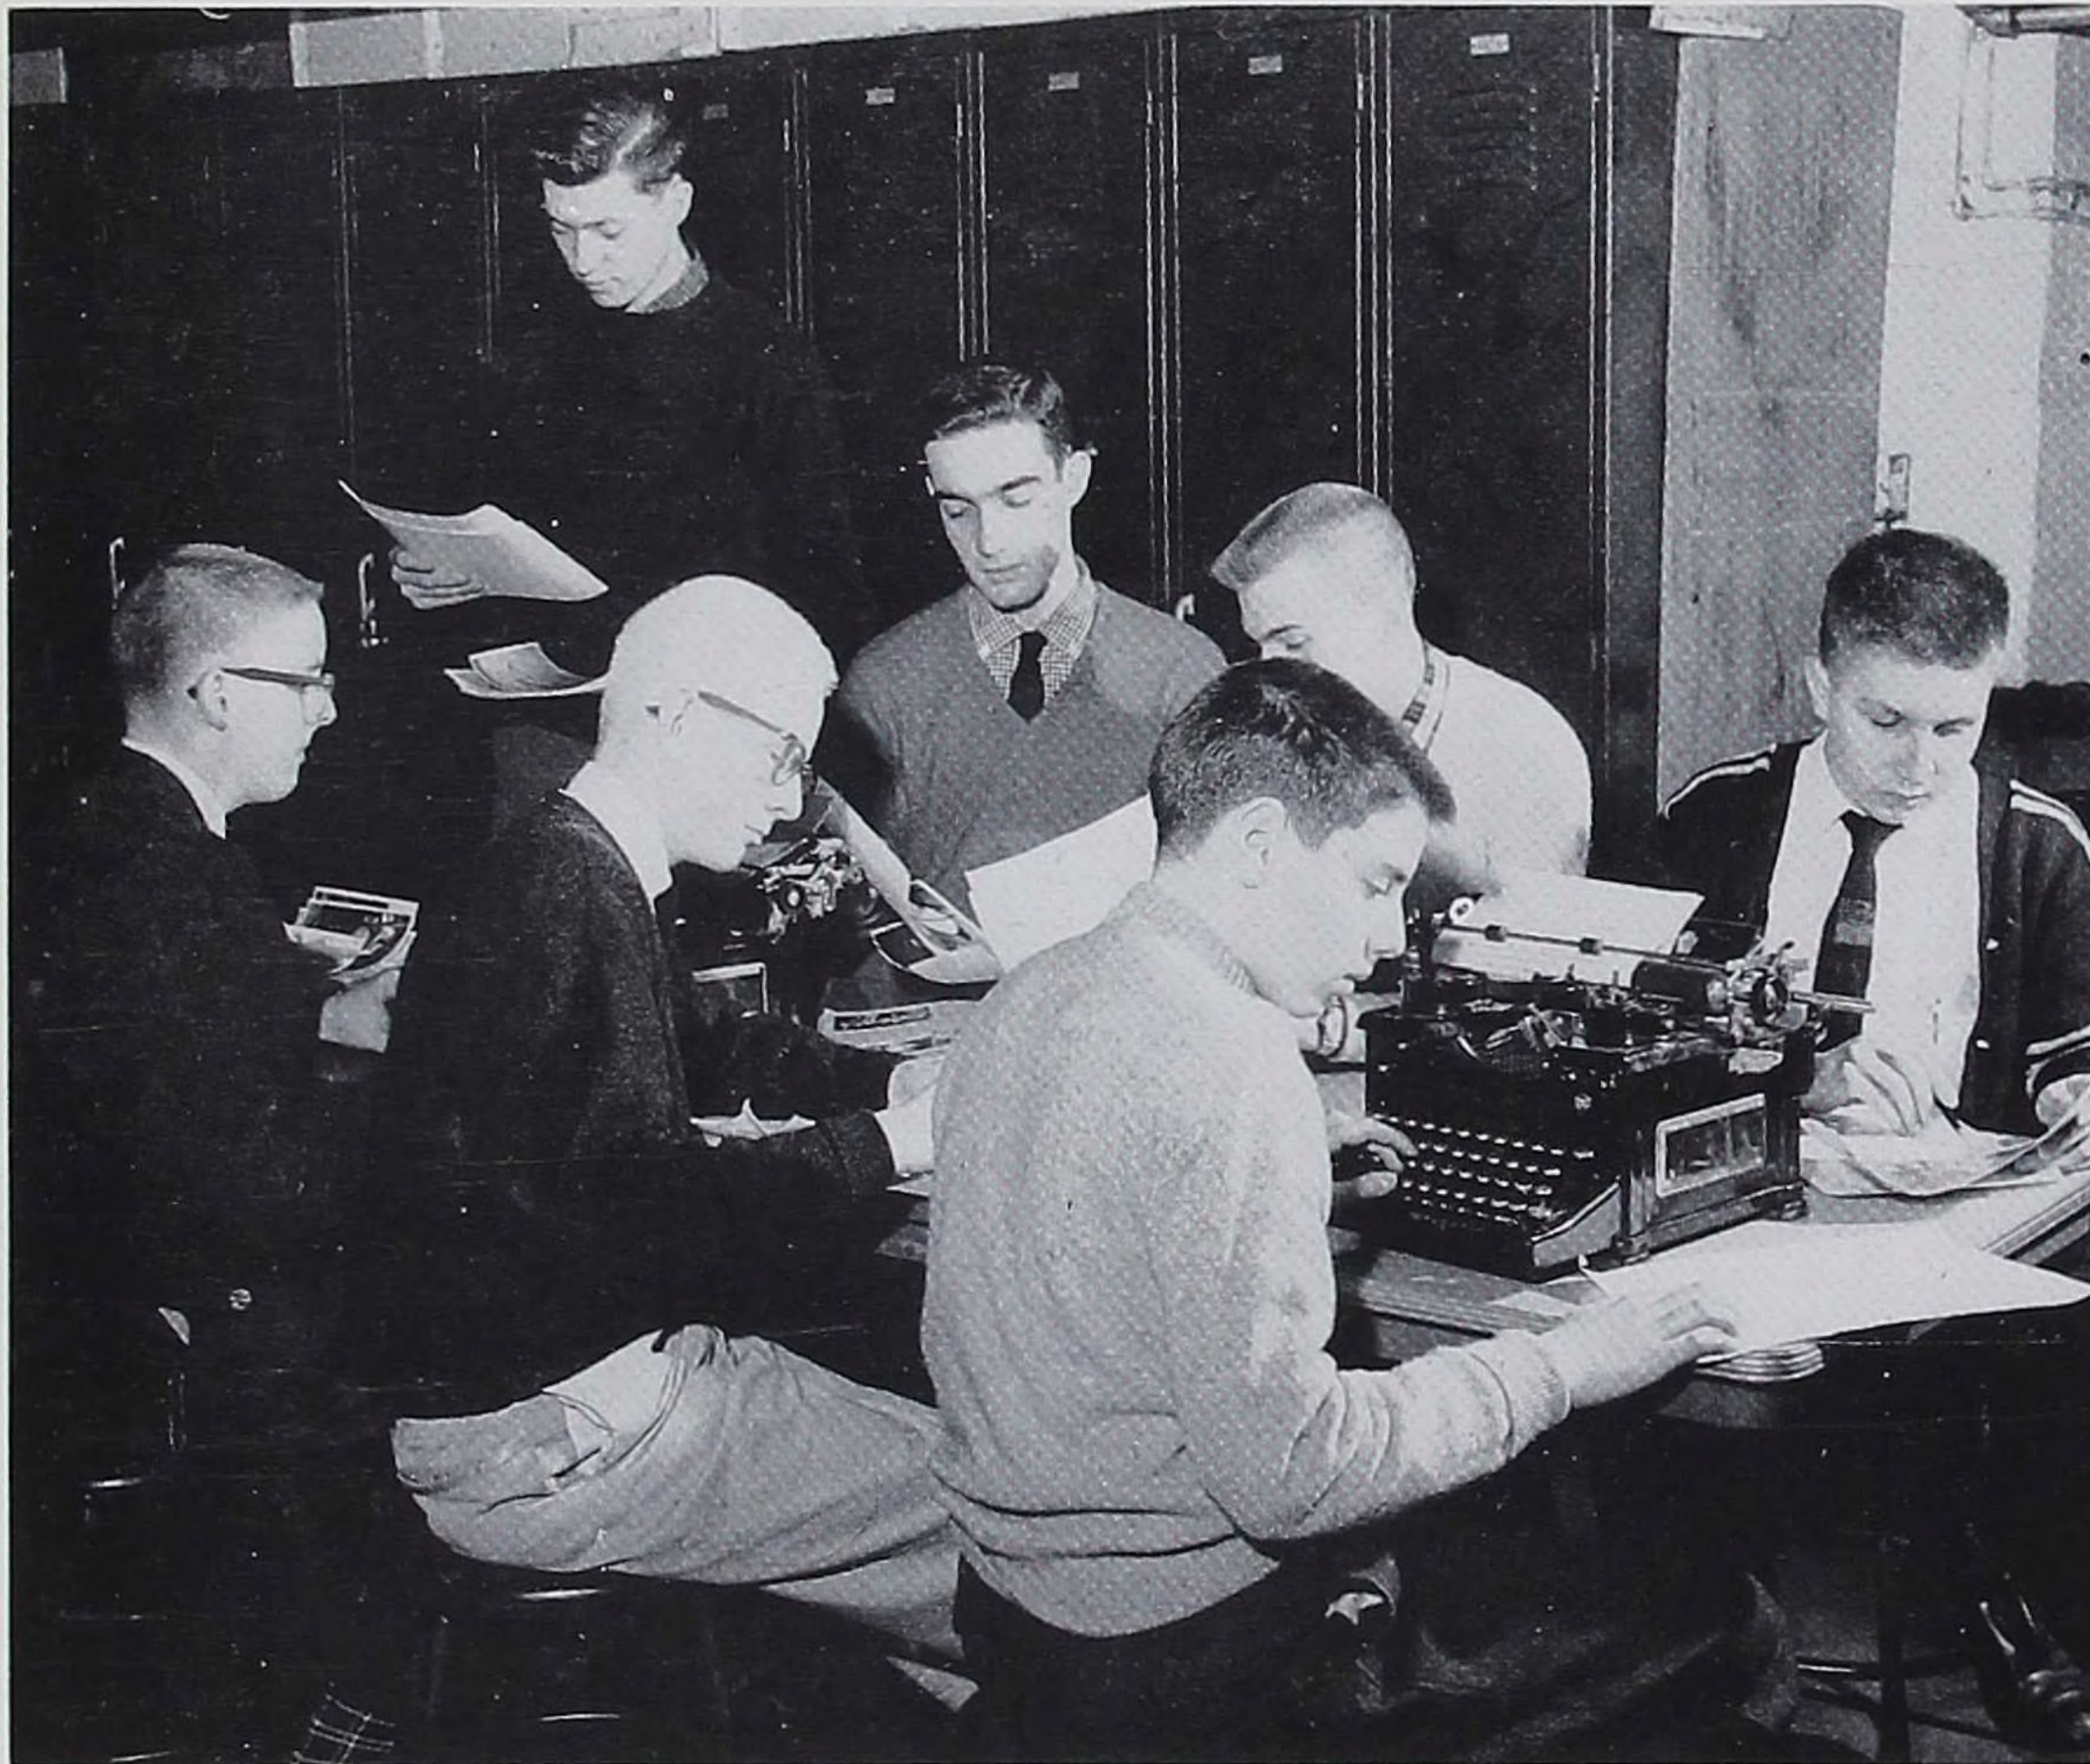

The story tells of 18 American soldiers in stalag 17 of a German prisoner of war camp who learn that a German spy has been planted among them to thwart escape plans and obtain valuable information.

The lead comedy role was handled by R. Bonucelli as Stosh, the barracks clown.

Joe Stainer was Hoffy, the leader-type army officer and barracks chief. Price (J. Conlon) is the barracks security man and coordinator of escapes. Sefton, played by D. Barron, is the sullen, mad-at-the-world type G.I., liked by no one.

the highest award for yearbooks. Putting out the recollections of the year is not an easy job, as anyone who has done it before can verify. "Blackfriars" is a yearlong job. It began during the preceding summer when the staff met to decide the format of the book. Then when school opened in September, the tedious work of taking, identifying, and indexing the faculty and student pictures was undertaken with the help of staff extras from all four classes. With Father Van Rooy to assist them, editors J. Barrett and D. Barron prepared the page layouts. Captions and articles were written by D. Barron, J. Cannizzo, P. Jara, R. Miley, and L. Tufo. G. Bullat and J. Mehl did the necessary work of typing all the copy that went into the book. Our staff artist, T. Lennon, drew all the line sketches in the book. Father Kelly, photo moderator, enlisted the help of the camera club to supply the many candid pictures.

Thanks to the financial aid of the Mothers' Club, the staff celebrated the meeting of the deadline with a big feast.

PREPARED FOR THE PLAY and alive to the unexpected are the qualities of an athlete as V. Harnett, J. McDonald, and J. Stroebel demonstrate.

A hearty welcome is extended to Mr. Ralph Peterson, Fenwick's new head football coach. The record Mr. Peterson has made in football speaks for itself. As an outstanding halfback at St. George High School, he earned a position on the All-Catholic League team. After Navy duty, Loras College in Dubuque acquired this grid star. As coach for Lourdes High School in Minnesota he had an impressive record of thirty wins and eight losses.

And an appreciation for his capturing the Central Section Championship. As a new coach working with a strange team, teaching new plays, his record remained at its previous high level. Congratulations for this season's work and best wishes for more successful seasons are extended to Mr. Peterson from the faculty and students.

Hard practice meant victory for Ralph Peterson's initial football contest as head coach at Fenwick, when the Friars rambled over Pius XI High School, in West Allis, Wisconsin, September 8.

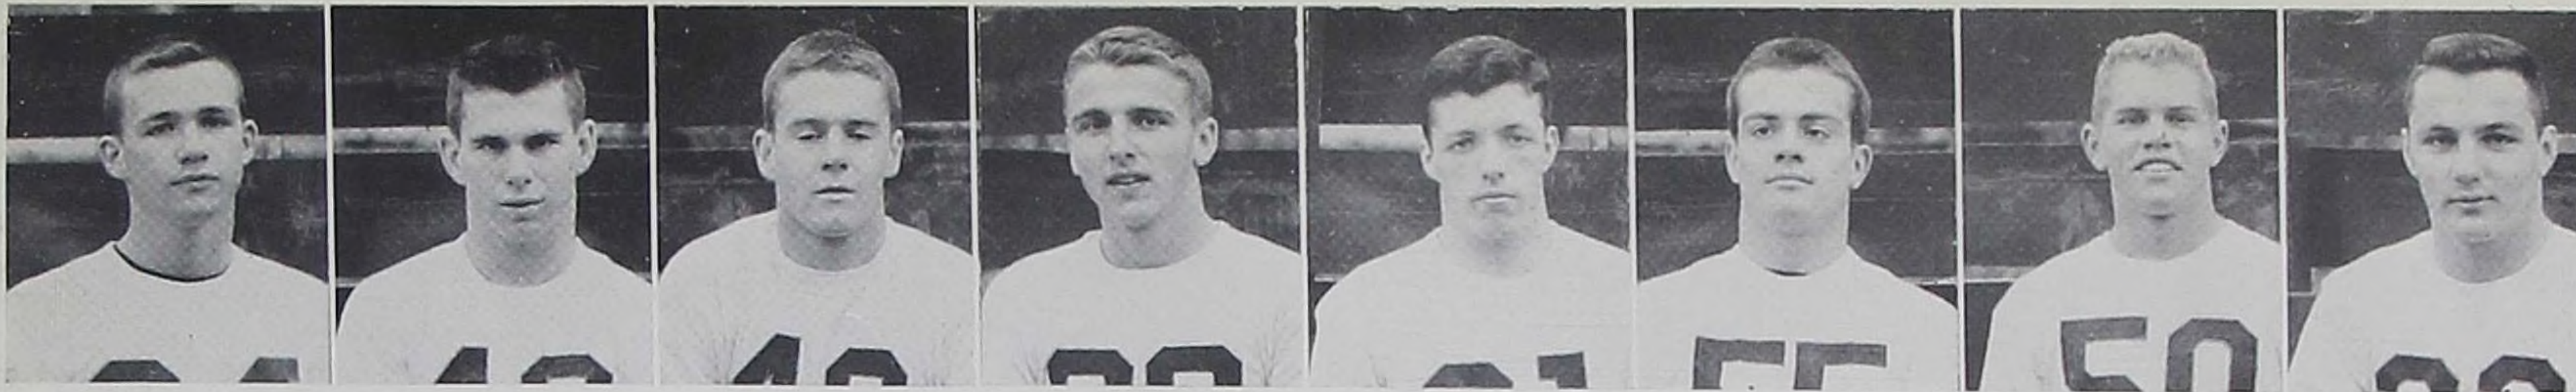

A. Como plunged 2 yds. to the end zone late in the first quarter, and then kicked the extra point, the first of his three conversions. In the second quarter J. Strobel heaved a 20-yd. pass to J. McDonald who waltzed over the goal line, raising the score to 13-0.

Como plowed 7 yds. for his second six-pointer and booted his third conversion in the fourth quarter.

Pius broke through the Friar line in the final seconds of the fourth quarter, and Szatkowski hit pay dirt from the 4-yard line. The final score: 21-6.

COACH DUCHON takes on J. Barr and P. Fantetti. Watching are B. Leone, D. Dasso, J. Weinstein, K. Murray (rear), R. Santucci, Fr. Sablica, and A. White.

BEFORE SCRIMMAGE Coach Duchon and Coach Peterson limber up the squad.

The second team subdued by the Friars was De Paul at Winnemac Stadium, September 15. Luzinski scored six points for the Demons in the first quarter, but the extra point was nullified by an offside penalty. The second conversion failed. Retaliating after the Demon drive, Harnett ran 38 yds., but a penalty rebuked the score.

With three minutes to play J. Strobel, A. Como, C. Mollsen, and W. Geis rambled 89 yards with J. Strobel climaxing the drive with a 38-yd. run. A. Como kicked the final point to win the game 7-6.

The bad luck of the Irish emanated from Hanson Stadium, September 20, as Fenwick tallied its third victory by beating St. Patrick's Shamrocks. Marching 93 yds. with the opening kick, J. Strobel concluded the drive with his 11-yd. push for the touchdown. Following the same procedure St. Pat's scored six as J. Bush fought 2 yds. to the goal. The second Friar goal came four plays later with drives by Harnett, Strobel, and Mollsen, with Como kicking the extra point. After St. Pat's punted Mollsen ran 27 yds., Strobel 15, Harnett 30, and Como plunged over for the next six points.

The Shamrocks after the third-quarter kickoff, drove 79 yds. for a touchdown. Gambling on a fourth down in the final period, they lost the ball on their 19-yd. line. Strobel then dragged around end to make the final score: Fenwick 26, St. Pat's 12.

Before 8,000 spectators at Shewbridge Stadium, October 6, the Friars suffered their first loss at the powerful paws of the Leo Lions. Although the Friars could not gain ground against the Lions, defending City Champs, they were able to limit Leo to an average down gain of 3 yds. and a seven point total in the game.

The Lions touchdown came when the Lions, unable to crash the Fenwick line in the third quarter, took to the air with O'Connell's pass to Simms in the end zone. Zwest kicked the field goal, making the judgment against Fenwick 7-0.

A third quarter scoring campaign enabled the Friars to whip the Wolves of St. Ignatius, 31-0, at the annual Homecoming game, October 6, in Hanson Stadium. The Fenwick point drive began as Como, Mollsen, Strobel, and Harnett brought the ball 75 yds. to the 13. Harnett took the challenge and the first six points, with Como making the conversion.

J. Strobel, after half-time, recovered a fumble and dashed over the goal on the next play. Harnett, intercepting an Iggy pass after the kick-off, scampered 28 yds. for his second TD. The Friars took control again as Leone blocked the Wolves' punt, and, on the following move, J. Strobel scored 6 more. K. Murray recovered a fumble, Geis moved 10 yds. to the goal and Fenwick victory.

The Mel's Knights met the Friars in the only mud-bowl and only tie game of the year in Hanson Stadium, October 27. Hannon of Mel's scored the single Knight tally by trapping a pass of Bradley's and ploughing 31 yds. in the first quarter.

The Friars retaliated early in the third period with J. Strobel's 37-yd. sprint into the end zone, followed by the crucial point made by Como. Two attempts by Como to break the tie were unsuccessful, so the final score was 7-7. This gave the Friars a record of 4-1-1, and the title of Central Section Champs.

Outweighed by almost twenty pounds per man, the Friars battled the St. George Dragons in Soldiers' Field, November 3, and whittled the Dragon's three touchdown lead, coming within 7 points of winning the game. The Dragons completely dominated the scoring position in the first half, relinquishing the title in the second half, and giving the Friars a monopoly on first downs.

The Dragons drew their lances in the first quarter when Lauer tallied from the 4-yd. line. Burnell's pass to Bartell cinched the extra point. St. George scored twice in the second quarter on a 70-yd. romp by Bartell and a 9-yd. sprint by Hauptman.

Coming to life in the third period, Fenwick scored on a 16-yd. pass from J. Strobel to J. McDonald, with Como making the P.A.T.

A PATHWAY is cleared through the DePaul defense for V. Harnett by T. Drennan, J. Strobel, A. Como, and C. Mollsen.

A SPRINT FOR PAYDIRT by J. Strobel bewilders the St. Pat's backfield as V. Harnett, J. Barr, T. Herlehy, and P. Mitchell charge in to block.

Final Friar score was in the fourth quarter when J. Strobel broke through the Dragon net to score on a spectacular 60-yd. run. The final score of the last game of the season, 20-14, favoring St. George.

Strobel was high scorer on the varsity with 9 TD's, a total of 54 pts. Como ran second with 5 TD's and 13 field goals to give him 43 pts. Mollsen, Harnett, and McDonald each tallied 12 pts. in the seven games of the season.

The junior varsity under Coach Lewis finished an undefeated season on October 28 by romping across the St. Mel Knights, 26-6. St. Philips Gaels never crossed the goal line as the Friars went for four touchdowns; final score—Fenwick, 27—St. Philip, 0. Brother Rice, the new south-side Christian Brothers' school, bowed to the juniors, 14-0, and the Wolves of St. Ignatius went home whimpering after their 33-6 whitewashing. Only the luck of St. Patrick's Shamrocks was good enough to give them a tie, 6-6.

A GAPING HOLE in the St. Ignatius line is used to full advantage by A. Como (47). Other friars (l-r) C. Mollsen, J. Strobel, V. Harnett, B. Leone, P. Fantetti, and J. Barr.

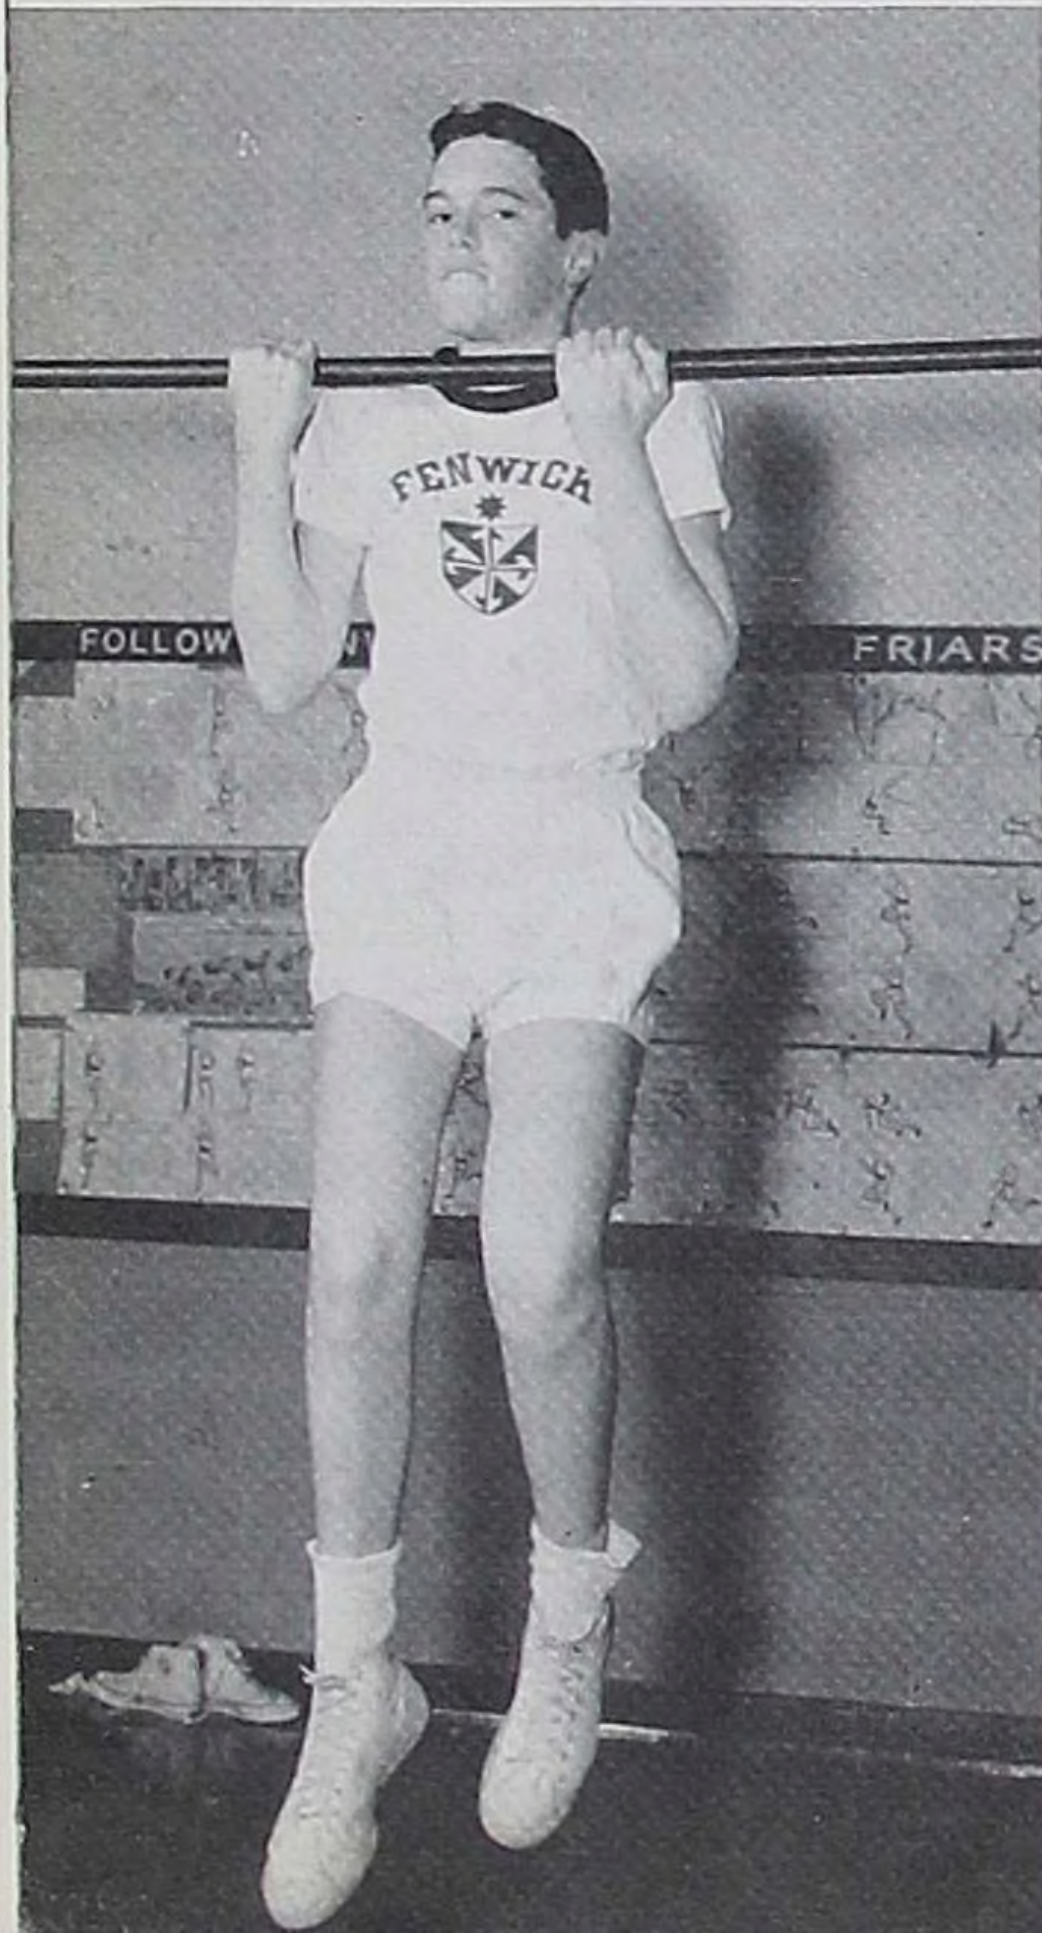

AROUND THE CORNER comes J. Strobel (31) on his way to the end zone, as V. Harnett, C. Mollsen, J. Barr, and J. Spruth rush to his aid.

OFF TO THE RACES goes J. Strobel on his way to a T.D. Downfield blocking is supplied by C. Mollsen, P. Fantetti, B. Leone, J. Barr, and T. Herlehy.

Every student takes gymnasium or swimming classes daily

THE FIRST TIME UP is easy. J. Morrissey takes chinning exercise.

TO BUILD UP Those muscles J. Stamm tries the weights.

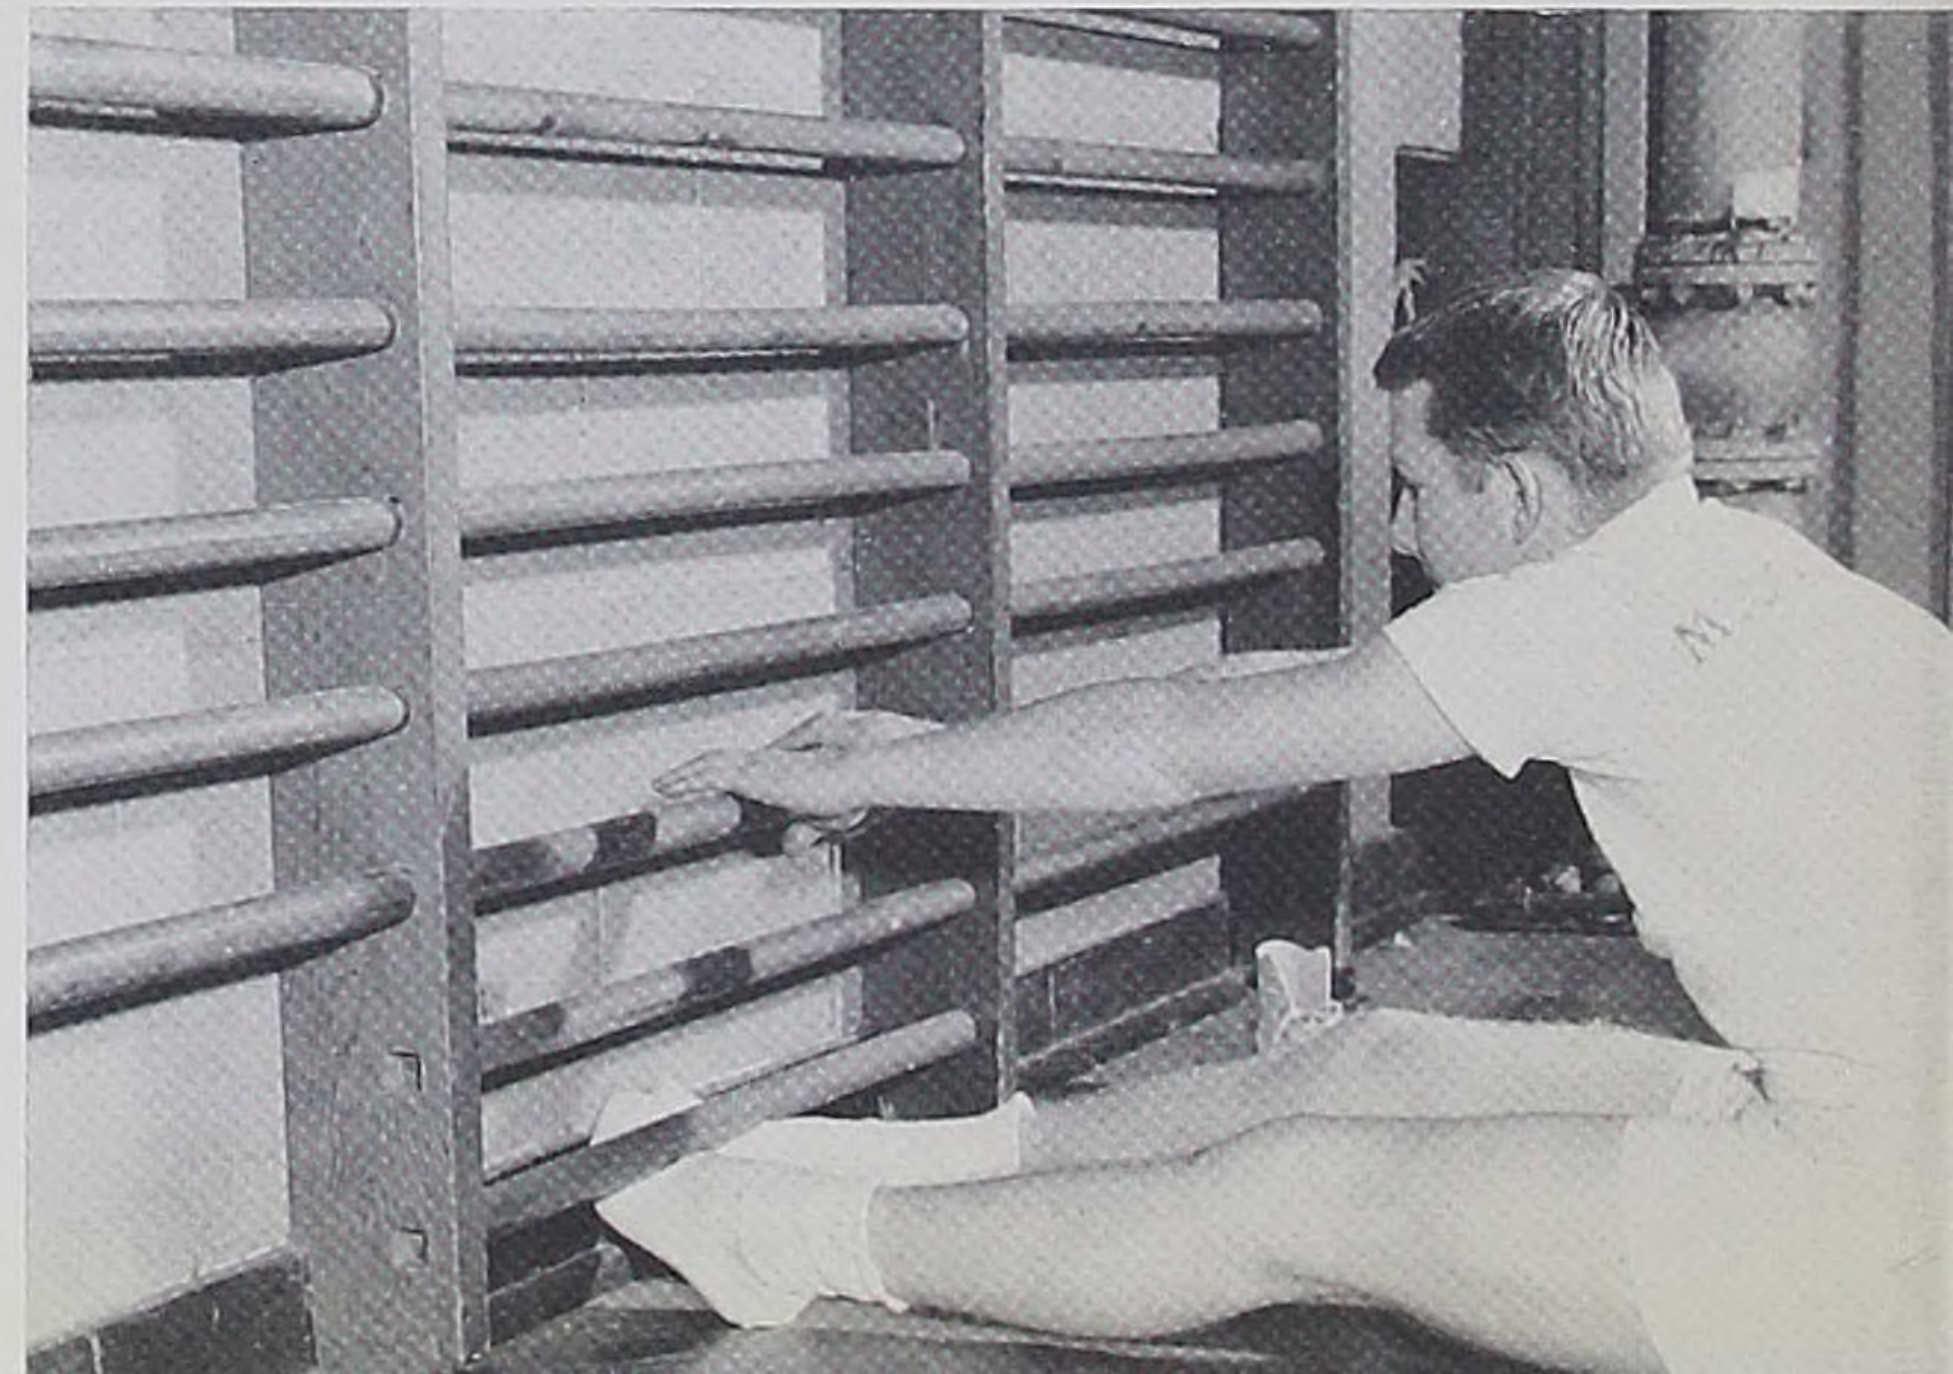

A very extensive program in gym, swimming, and intramural sports is participated in by every student each year. In gym, calisthenics is the first event, in which the student is built up physically to engage in more strenuous sports. Volleyball is next on the sports agenda, followed by basketball, boxing, and baseball. Swimming, also required of every student, is categorized into free-style, back-stroke, breast-stroke for the first four series; followed by extensive training in the fundamental requirements of life-saving: side-stroke, surface-diving, and swimming side-stroke using one hand.

One intramural program begins with volleyball when class champions compete for the school championship. Basketball teams organized by the students themselves follow, while individuals enter the "art" course. The Silver Gloves bouts culminate the boxing season, determining winners in the various weight classes. Table-tennis, handball, tennis, golf, bowling, and swimming complete our intramural program.

As a result of this very extensive and complete gym course, the average student is molded into a tall, strong, healthy specimen of American youth—or at least he tries.

"ELEVEN, TWELVE," counts M. Collins, at the wall bars.

Everybody gets into the act

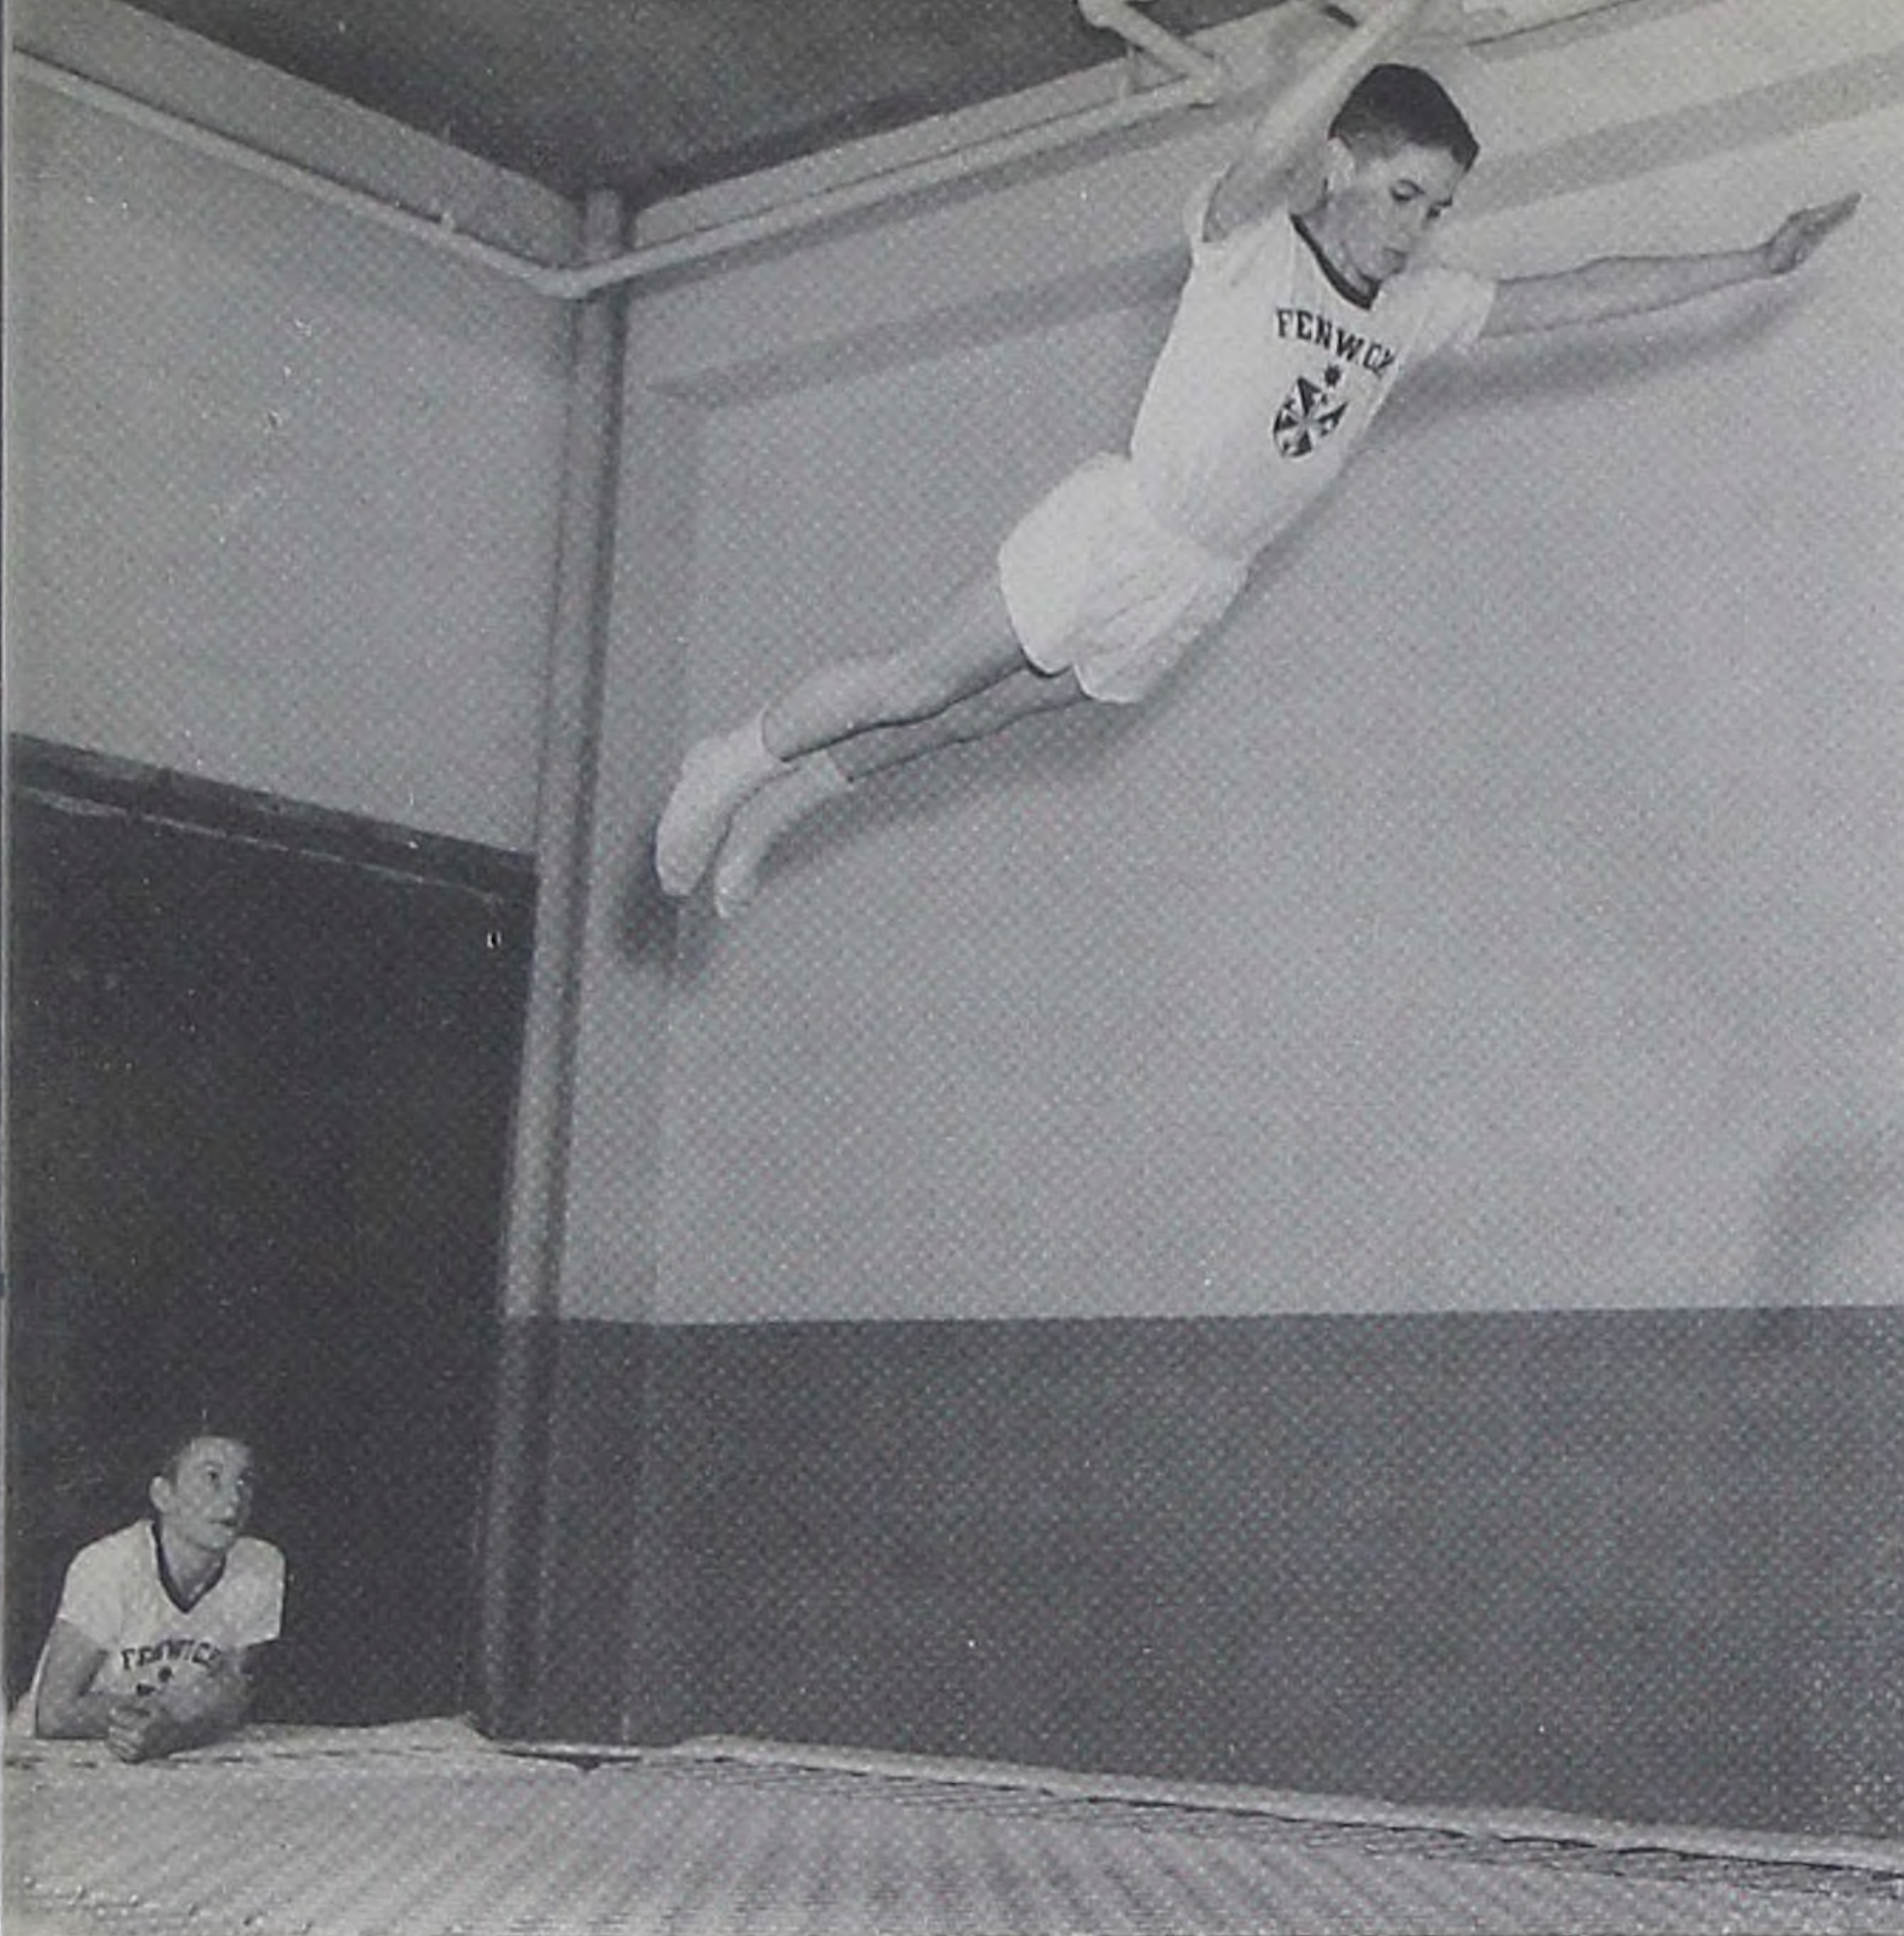

In intramural basketball, senior division, a team headed by James Long, having an eight-won, none-lost record, captured the title.

Junior division. A team headed by A. Wondrasek pulled down the championship title winning five out of six.

The annual ping-pong tournament drew 188 boys for 94 doubles teams, and 165 for the singles. J. Gearen and J. Barcal comprised the first frosh team in our history to win the doubles. P. Calabrese, a junior, was victorious in the singles.

The trampoline is the newest and most popular single piece of gym equipment in the athletic department. During gym classes, when a coach is present, the students are given instruction in the art of trampoline tumbling. Basic maneuvers such as the set drop are taught first; once these are mastered, the student is allowed to progress into more advanced tricks. The athletic department keeps complete records on the progress of each gymnast. The trampoline has proved itself invaluable also in the training of our championship swimming teams divers.

Freshman footballers win three, tie one

Freshmen can play football, too. Finishing the season with a nearly perfect record, marred only by a scoreless deadlock, Dan O'Brien's freshmen promise to staff a tough junior varsity next year. Besides the dual blank game with St. Philip, October 12, the Friar frosh squad beat Weber, the first win over the Red Horde in four years, by a 13-6 score. The Shamrocks were blanked on their field, October 19, when the score was 21-0. St. Mel's frosh proved to be their worthiest opponent, but could not overcome the offense of Fenwick. Final score was 13-12, Fenwick victorious.

Senior cagers have rough season

Opening the League season at De Paul January 3, the Friars lost 49-37. The game was deadlocked 20-20 at the half. Demon Meier scored 18, challenged by Friar Debes with 14.

Seniors battle league's toughest teams

The "Luck of the Irish" favored St. Pat's at Fenwick January 10, as they downed the Friars 49-41. Debes led the heavies with 14 pts.

A Friar victory was in order January 17, when Fenwick hosted St. Philip. The Gaels proved hard to convince, and only a fourth-quarter rally provided the 47-42 Friar victory. Bill Debes' 17 pts. was high for Fenwick.

At the hands of Leo January 19, the Friar squad suffered its worst defeat in a loosely played game, 78-33.

GRADUATING SENIOR basketball men: Captain C. Kuhfuss, T. Herlehy, and W. Hillenbrand.

A HIGHLY-REGARDED St. Ignatius squad, held at bay for almost three quarters, eventually beat the Friars January 24. Fenwick led 34-28 a few minutes after halftime, but the Wolves' Bob Sullivan tossed in 19 pts. insuring the Ignatius victory, 65-50. Chuck Kuhfuss was high man for Fenwick with 15.

February 7, the tall men went down to defeat at the merciless hands of St. Mel's, 55-38. C. Kuhfuss led Fenwick's scoring with 15 pts.

For the second time the Friars lost to De Paul. Hutchinson of the Demons tallied 17, sparking the De Paul win of 76-47, February 9.

St. Patrick's hosted the Friars and handed Fenwick their third victory, February 14. Kuhfuss led the Friars with 17 pts., giving the Fenwick tall men the win, 59-42.

Fenwick inched over St. Philip's February 21, with a real hair-tearer. The Friars took the lead early in the second quarter, and relinquished it, only to cop it again, winning the game 47-46.

An unfortunate deficit of five points kept the Friars from taking the Leo game February 23. The Lions topped the Friars 52-47, with Moran of Leo hitting for 16.

Bill Debes pulled 19 points at St. Ignatius February 28, but couldn't quite advance the Friar final standing of 47, compared with the Wolves' 61. Sullivan was high man for Ignatius with 16.

The Friars ended the season on another unfortunate note with their loss to St. Mel's, March 7. Palumbizio, key man on the Mel's squad, tallied 31 pts., against Dooley's 18.

The seniors emerged bruised and battered from the competition of 1958 with a 3-win, 9-loss record.

THE DE PAUL TOURNAMENT performance by the seniors failed to equal that of the juniors, victors in the junior tourney. The seniors met Holy Trinity in the DePaul tourney, December 19, to gain a Friar victory, 55-53. L. Dettmer scored 20 pts., and W. Debes contributed 16.

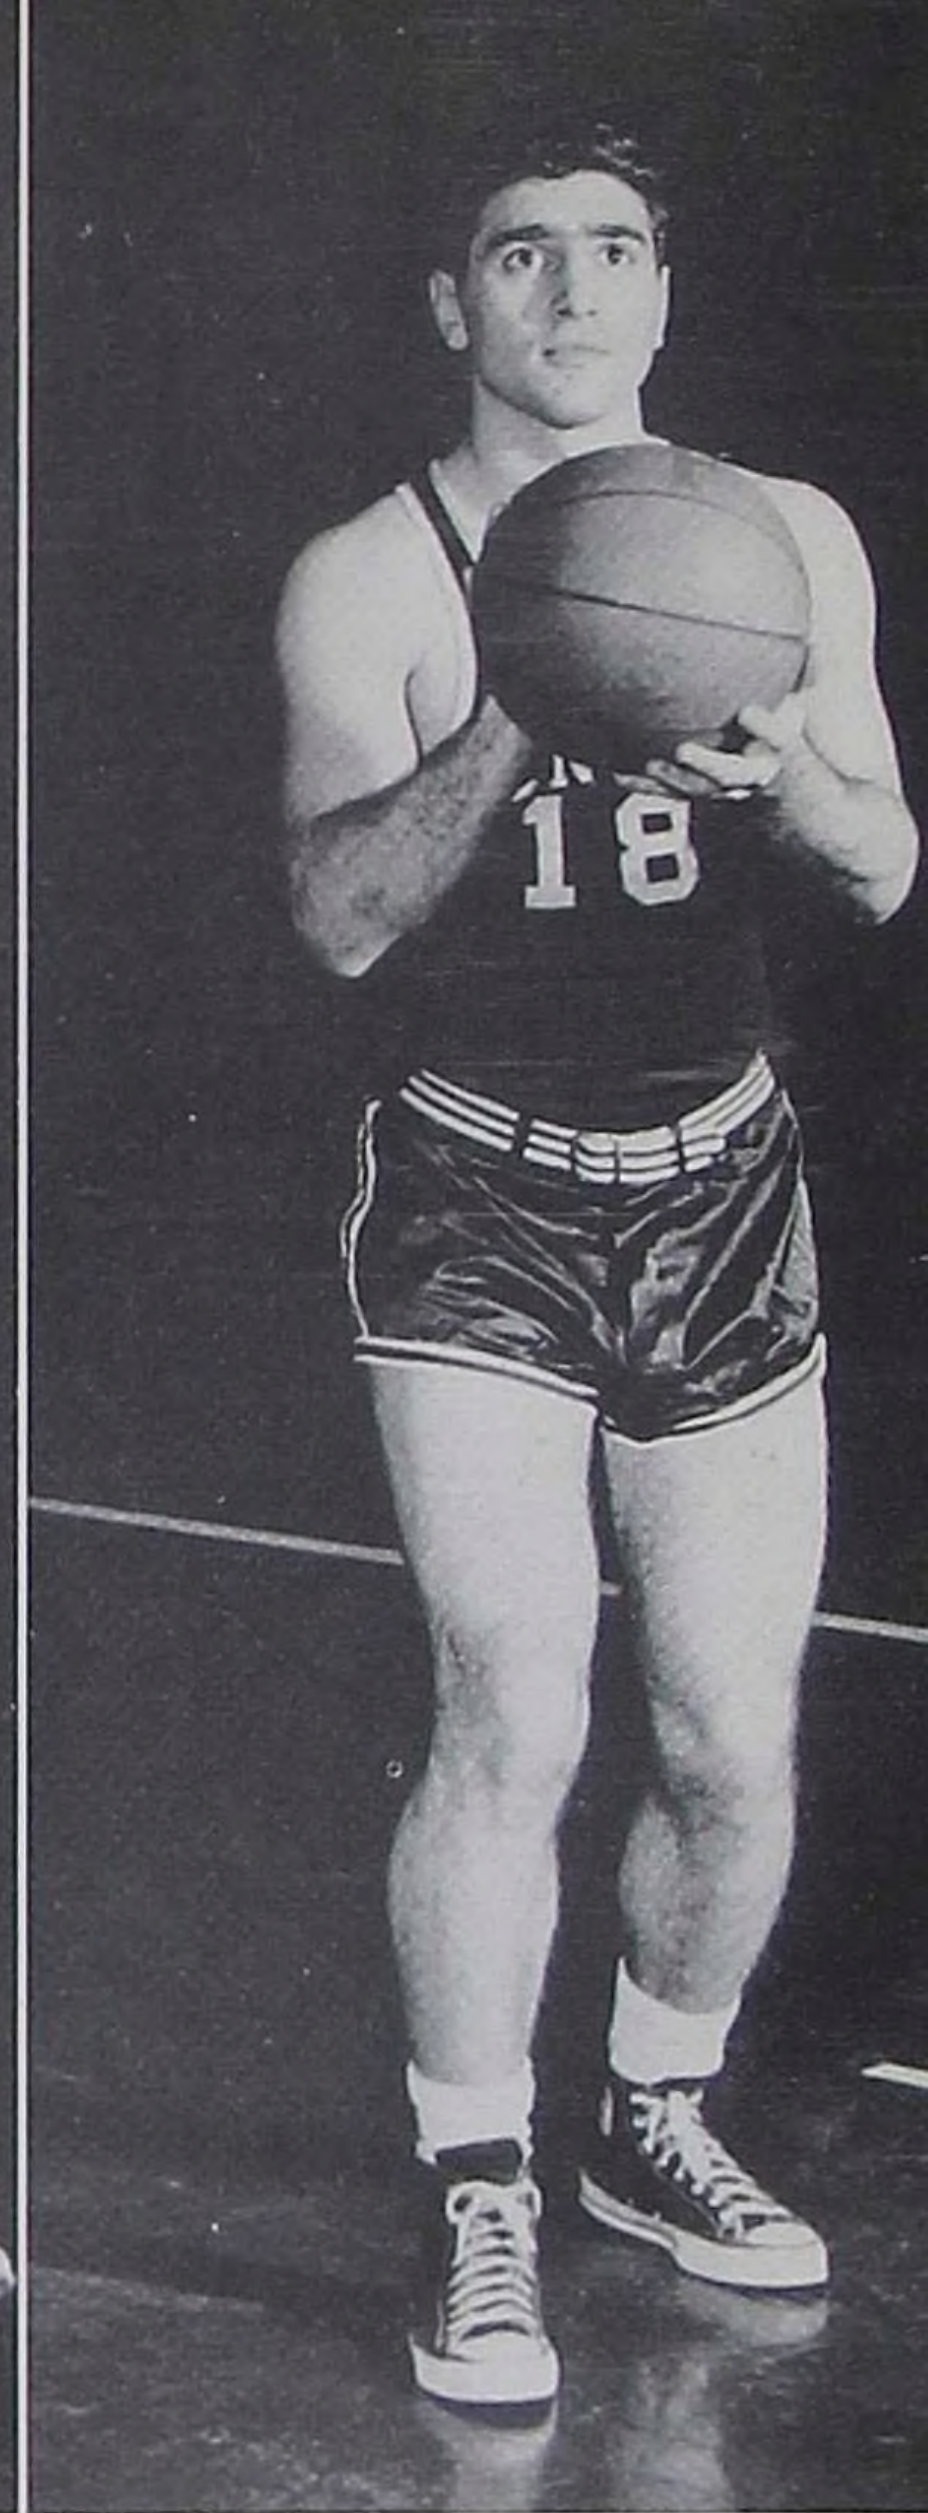

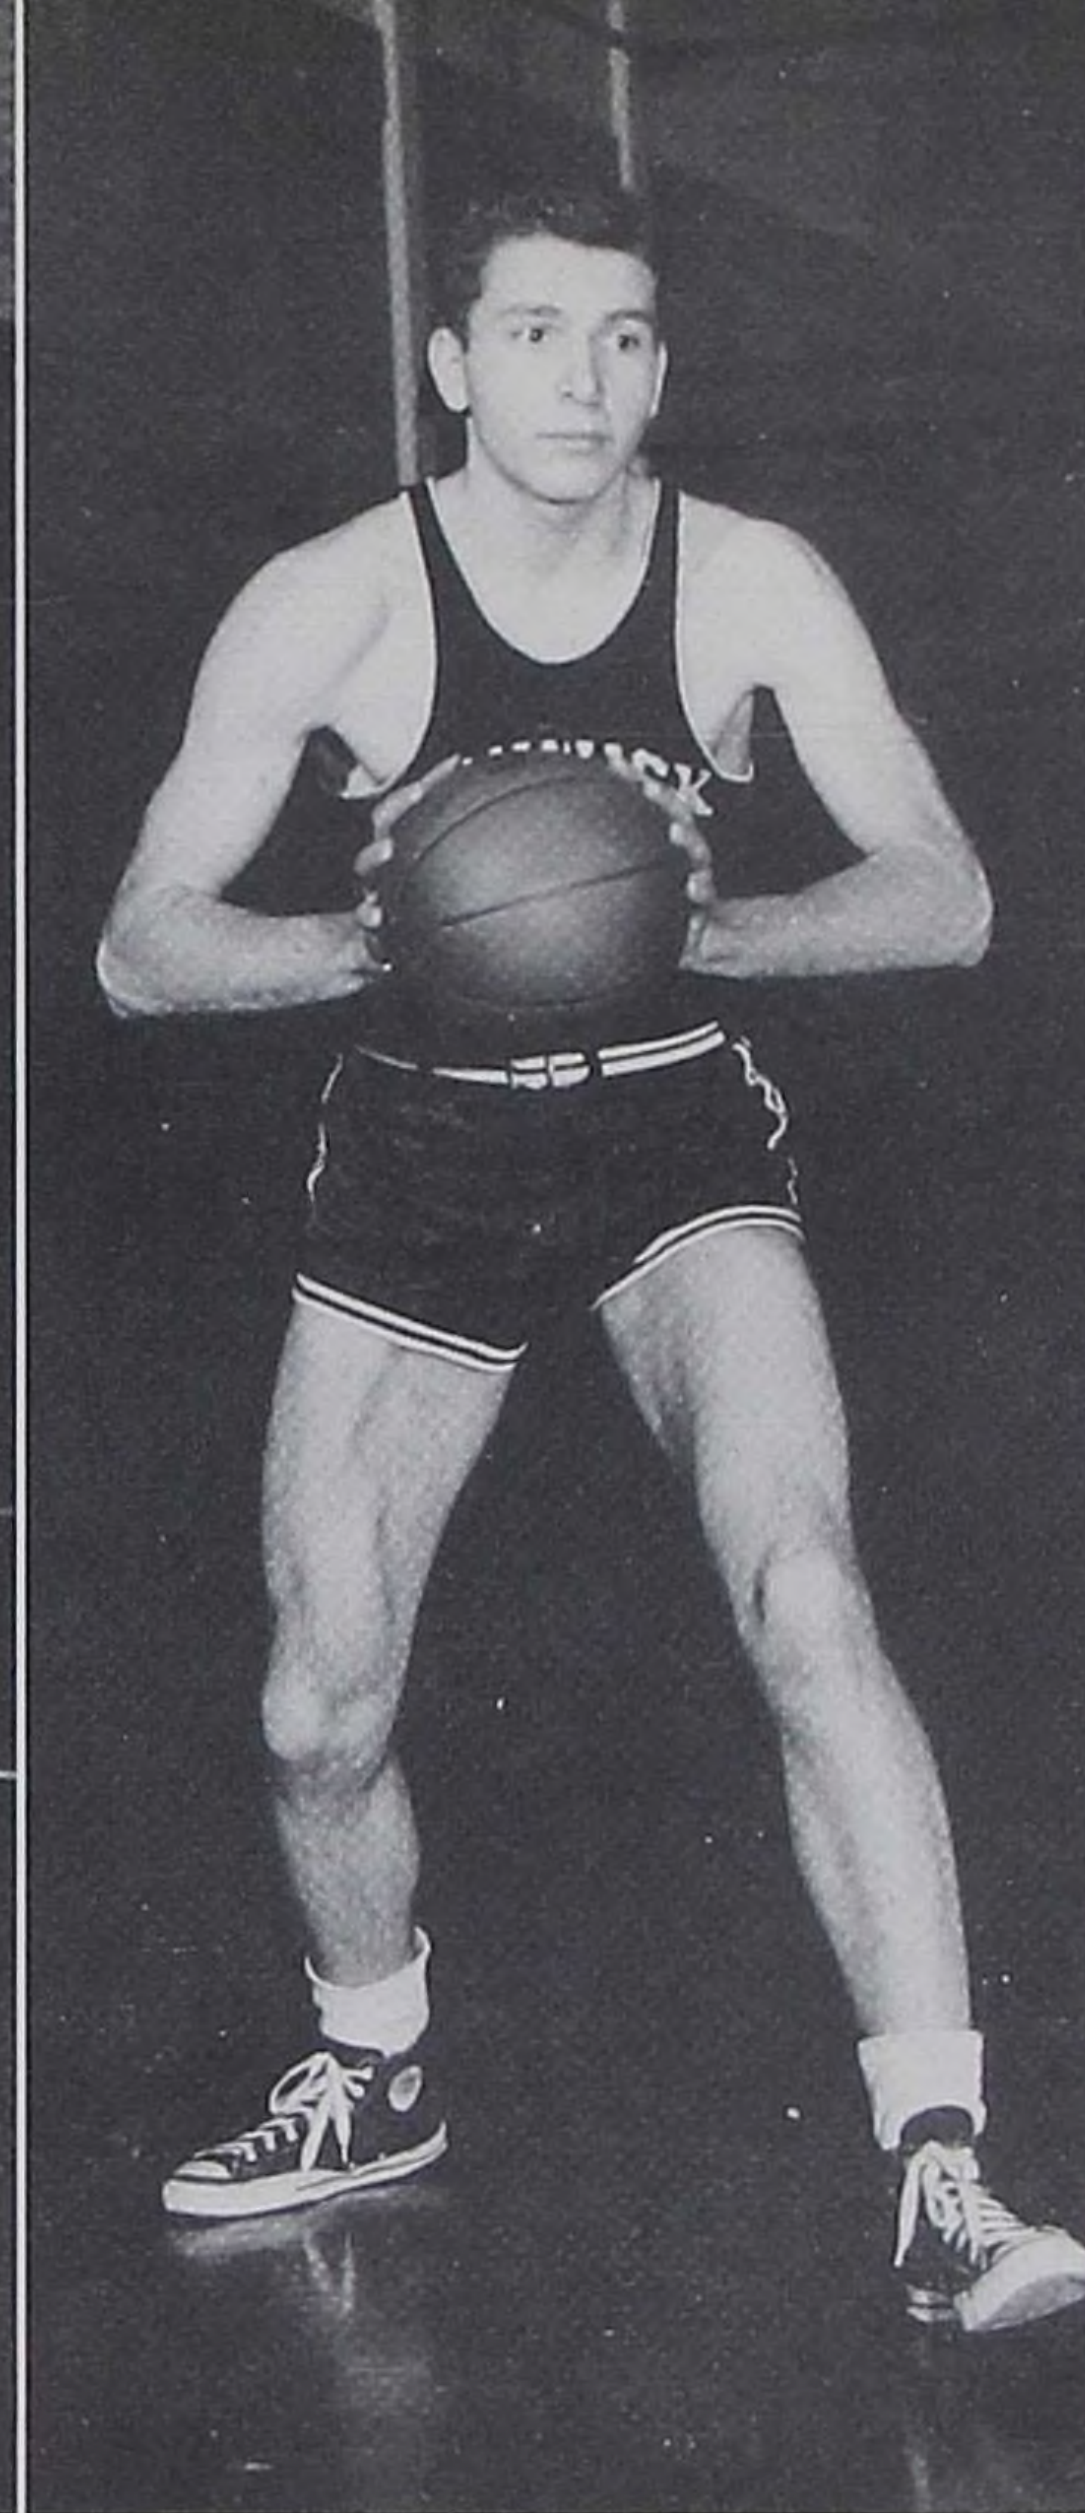

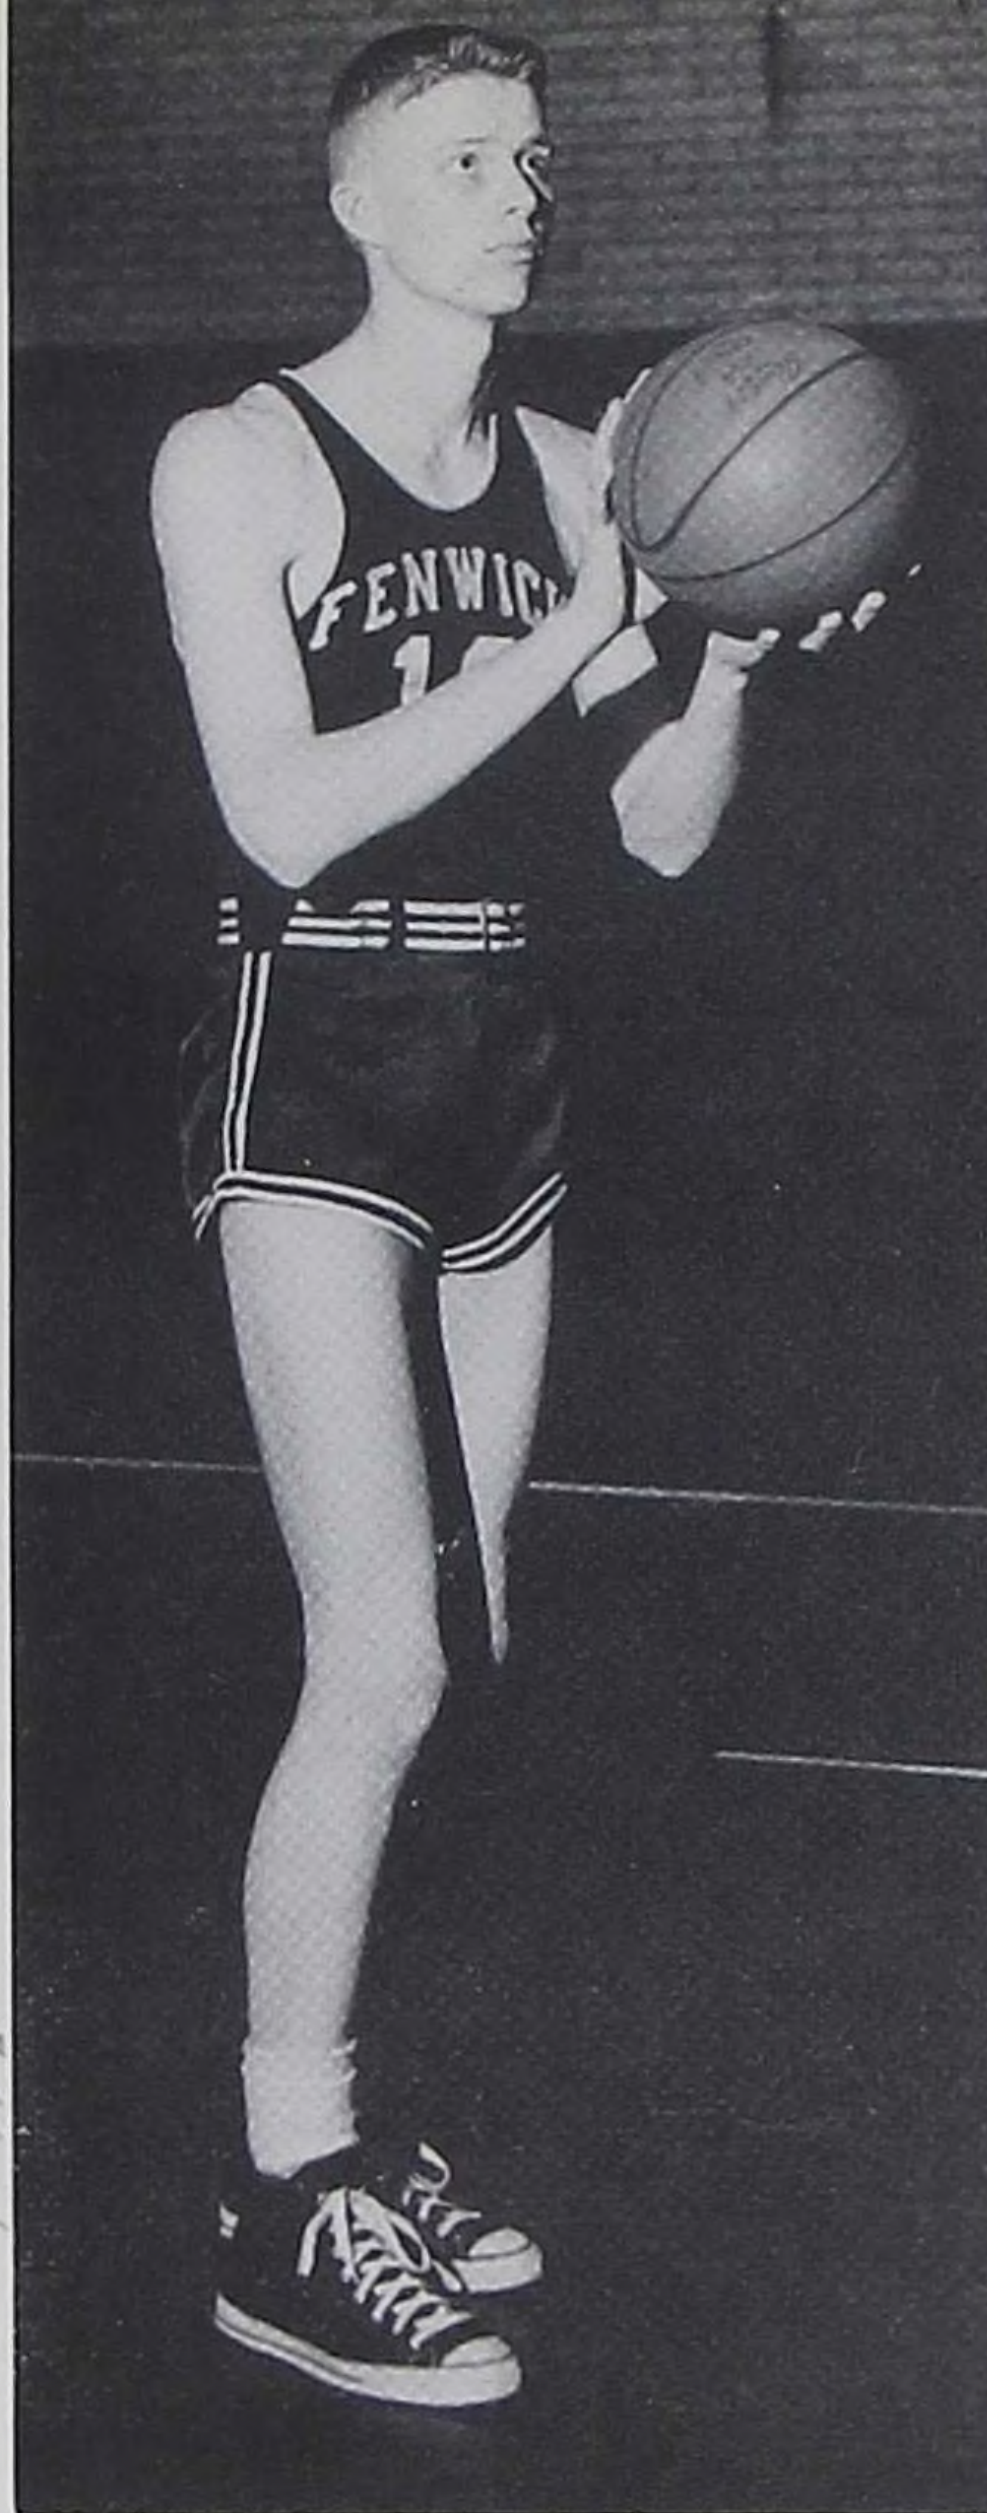

The Meteors of De La Salle, eventual tournament champs, met Fenwick the next evening. Fenwick got off to a fast start and led 28-18 at the half, as Kuhfuss scored 15 of his 16 points in the first two periods. When W. Debes fouled out late in the third quarter, the Friars' attack stalled. An impressive De La Salle fourth period robbed the Friars of their hopes. The Meteors came out on the long end of a 52-43 final score.

In the final round De La Salle downed St. Ignatius to capture the title. Kuhfuss won the tourney's sportsmanship award.

Juniors inaugurate successful season

The juniors met Gordon Tech, November 25, to start the practice season with a 61-53 win, Strobel hitting for 17. The Friars beat Loyola 41-29, November 27, with Strobel again leading the Friars with 15. Next they scattered Mt. Carmel, November 29, 60-43. Strobel led with 17. St. George was the next victim, December 6, 41-27. Strobel hit for 11.

The juniors met their first defeat, 52-50, in overtime at Weber, December 10. Gorman hit for 17. They ended the practice season with two more victories: 58-30 over St. George and 60-29 over Loyola.

Juniors retain tourney trophy

Fenwick's juniors emerged triumphant from the Annual Junior Basketball Tourney held at Fenwick, December 26-30. The Friars made a fine beginning by whipping Gordon Tech, 49-22, led by Earl Gorman's 13 pts. In other opening night games Mendel trounced Loyola, Weber defeated St. Rita, St. Mel's ran over St. Pat's, and St. George beat Mt. Carmel. On December 27, the first round was completed with St. Philip whipping De La Salle, Holy Trinity edging Mendel in an overtime battle, St. Ignatius dumping De Paul, and Leo triumphing over St. Elizabeth.

The quarter finals were held on December 28. Final scores were: Weber 45—St. Mel, 48 (overtime); Fenwick, 47—St. George, 28; Holy Trinity, 46—St. Philip, 45 (double overtime); and Leo, 48—St. Ignatius 38. Leading the Friar victory was Jack Strobel, who scored 19 pts.

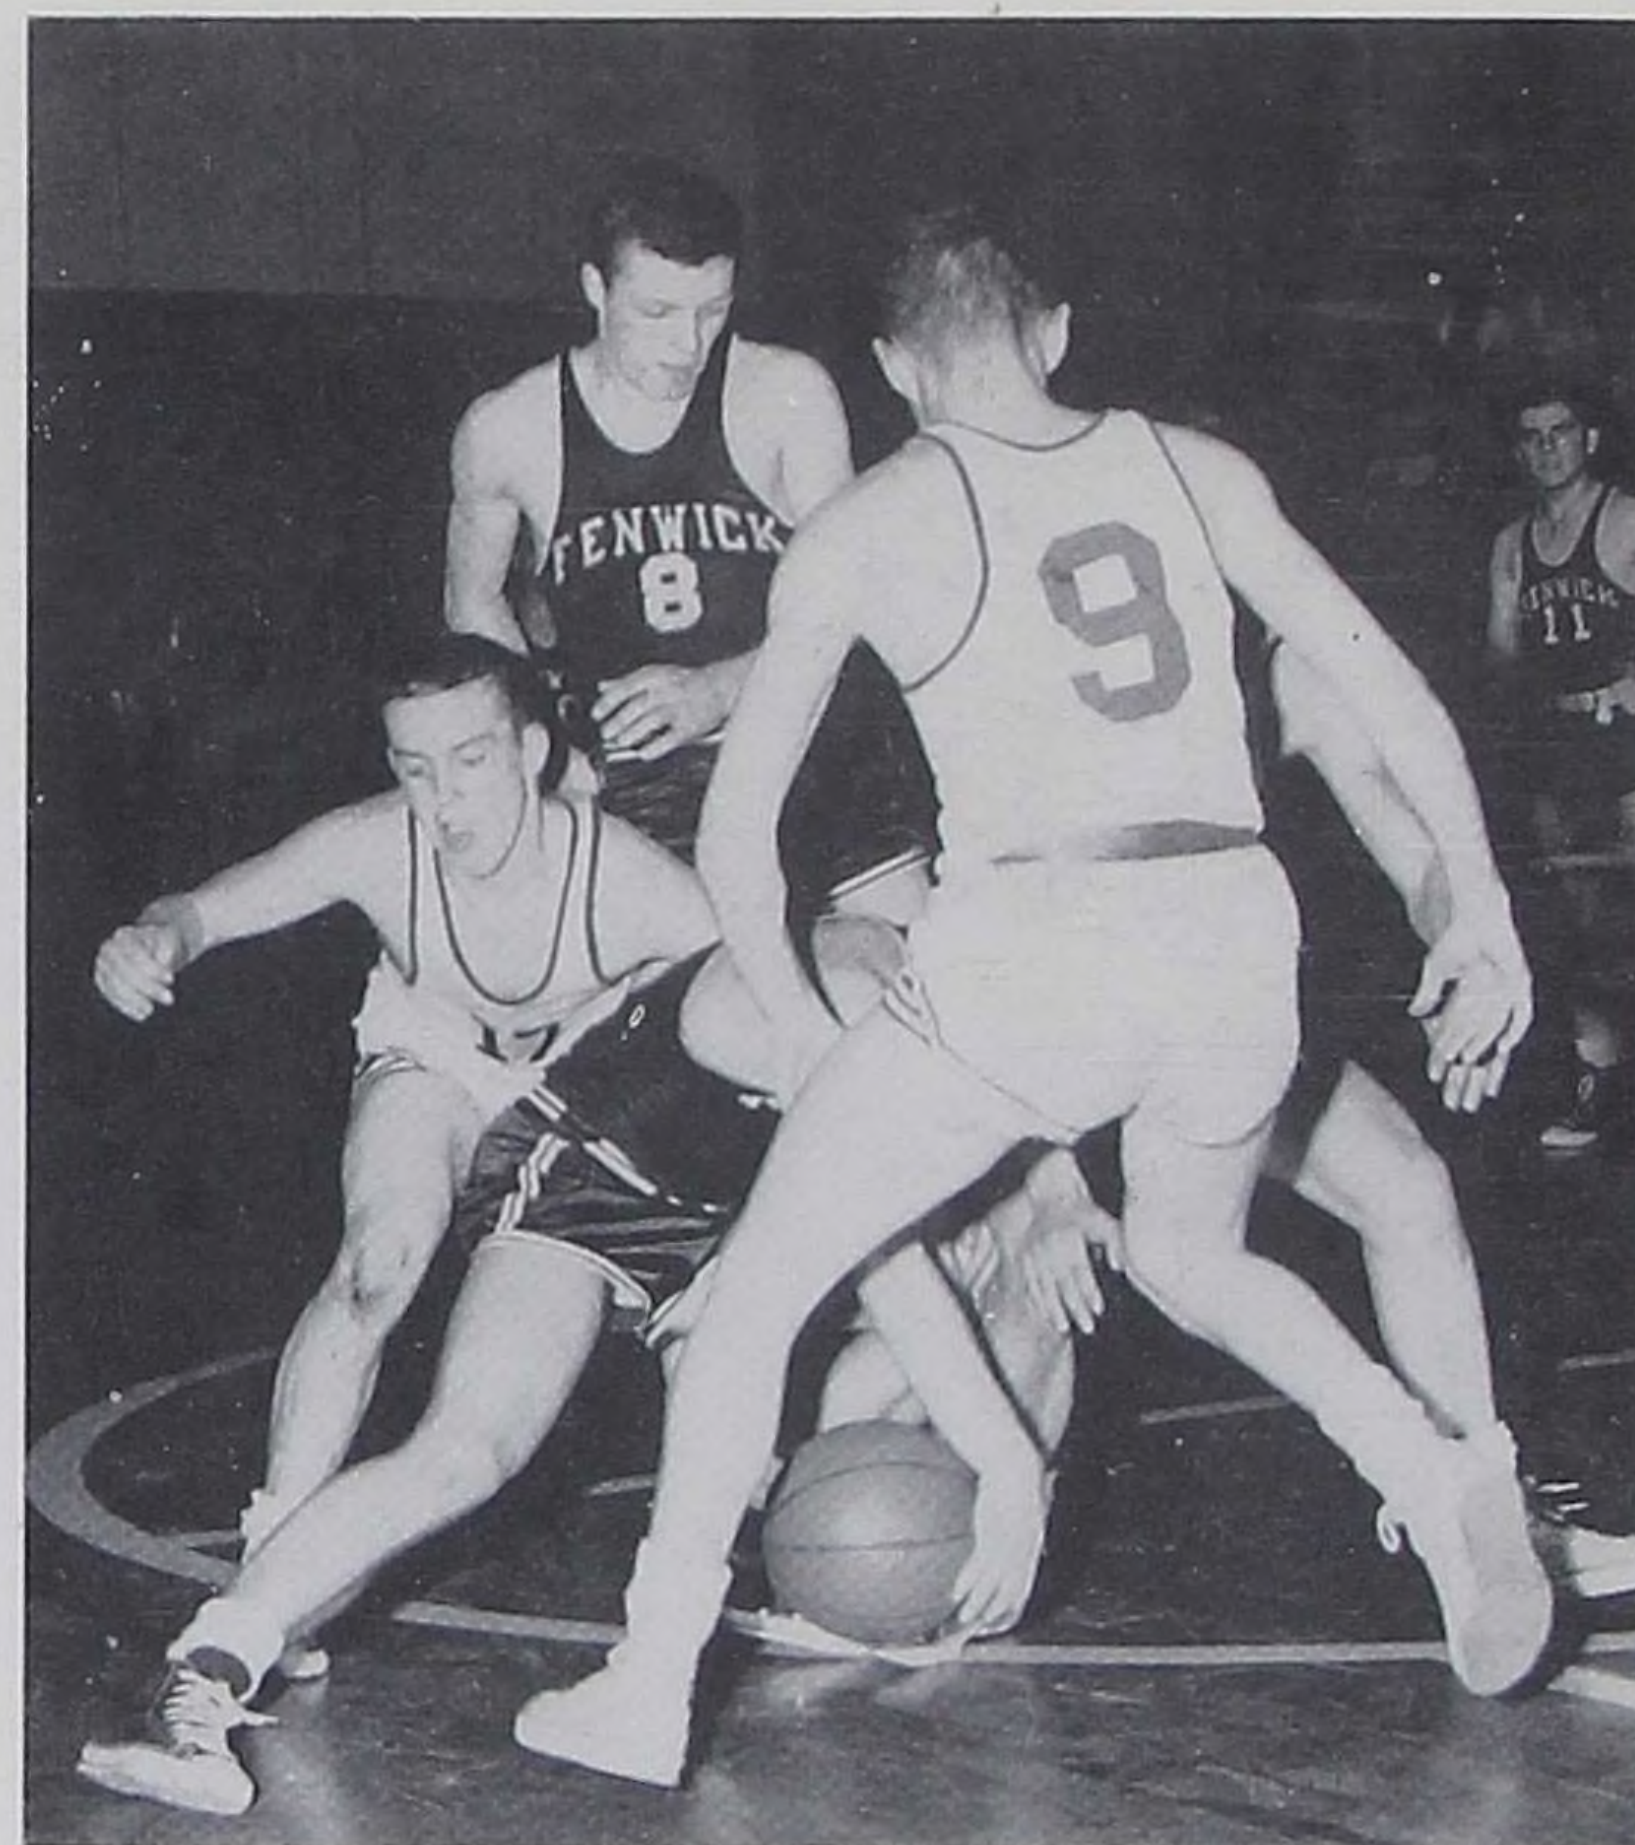

In semi-final activity, December 29, Fenwick downed Weber's Red Horde, 55-51, behind a 19 point performance by E. Gorman. Leo beat Holy Trinity's Tigers, 45-38, to set the stage for the championship struggle.

Preceding the electric game, Dec. 30, Trinity took third place by defeating Weber, 46-41. The Friar victory was accomplished after Leo's Lions had built up an ominous 17-pt. bulge early in the fourth quarter. Fenwick's late surge, spearheaded by the sharpshooting of guards Pat Parrilli and Bob Wutz, deadlocked the contest at 47 to 47 as time ran out. In a torrid overtime period the Friars built up the 58 to 49 final count.

R. Mulsoff, Holy Trinity captain, was voted the most valuable player award. All-tournament team berths went to Earl Gorman and Jack Strobel of Fenwick; Mike Coyle and Dick Driscoll of Leo, and Ron Warwick of Weber.

This win, the second in a row, rekindled the school's hope of securing the Traveling Championship Trophy. If the 1959 junior team can triumph in their tournament, the trophy will be permanently retained at Fenwick.

Juniors meet De Paul in opener

January 3. J. Strobel tossed in 17 pts. as the Friar lights manhandled the Demons, 61-43. On January 10, Fenwick met St. Pat's at the Friar league home opener. The thrilling contest ended in a 49-45 victory after the Shamrocks held a 23-17 half-time advantage. E. de St. Aubtin tallied 18 pts.

At Fenwick, January 17, the Friars hosted St. Philip in a high scoring duel featuring a 41 pt. second half performance by Fenwick to overcome an early St. Philip lead. Strobel took scoring honors with 23 pts. in the 71-60 victory.

The Friar squads traveled to De Paul, January 19, to lose a heart-stopping battle to Leo, who squeezed by Fenwick 62-59. Driscoll of the Lions scored 23 to lead the point parade. A valiant effort by Earl Gorman, Bob Mullenbach, and Jack Strobel produced 46 points, but it wasn't enough.

Moving into first place in the Central Section on January 24, the Friars downed the belligerent Wolves of St. Ignatius by a 53-39 count. Earl Gorman had a hot evening, touching the hoop for 18 pts.

Bob Mullenbach threw in 23 points February 7, as Fenwick challenged the Melmen. St. Mel's Martin collected 24 points; not enough to pull the Knights out of losers position in a 66-47 game.

De Paul traveled to Fenwick February 9, to drop another to the Friars, 65-54. The victorious Friars sent Bob Wutz in to ring 15 pts.

In the spirit of the Friars, St. Patrick's Shamrocks drew the short score as Fenwick walloped them, 74-59, February 14. High scorers were Earl Gorman at 22 pts. and Sindler for Pat's at 16.

St. Philip fell to the tramping of Fenwick, February 21, when Strobel ringed 20 points to put the Friars in the lead 67-50.

Thirty-three points by Driscoll of Leo weren't enough to stop the onslaught of the Friars, February 23, when Fenwick stopped the Lions, 66-62, in a very close game. Earl Gorman was the high scorer for the home team as he lopped in 18 pts.

The Friars edged the Wolves of St. Ignatius, 56-47, February 28, as Friar Strobel and Foley of Ignatius each hit for 18.

The Mel's Knights fell to the Friars, March 7, in the Mel's gym. The juniors practiced for the Mel's game with a taut rope stretched below and behind the Fenwick basket to simulate the Knight's low balcony at their court, and this strategy of Coach Kernan's paid off in a Friar victory of 69-43.

The Friars met the Red Horde of Weber, March 14, to begin the playoffs for the Central Section title in the Loyola gym. Strobel hit the hoop for 16, pulling the Friars ahead to win the match, 52-42. Hayes and Kowalik of Weber each contributed 14 points to the Red Horde score.

The Friars made their final effort by competing against Leo, March 18, at De Paul. Strobel hit for 21 points, but the Friars dropped behind in the third period, finally losing the game 61-58.

A FAST BREAK by J. Strobel is watched carefully by E. Gorman.

CAPT. DE ST. AUBIN receives the second successive first-place trophy in the Fenwick Junior Basketball Tourney from Mr. Lawless as Fr. Crowe and teammates R. Garzynski, D. Cukay, W. Geis, R. Mullenback, E. Gorman, and R. Wutz rejoice.

The flies

chalked up nine victories and three defeats, the closest being the breath-taking loss to the Knights of St. Mel, 42-41.

Their record for the season shows the following wins: over De Paul, 36-34; over St. Pat's, 42-32; over St. Philips, 37-18; over St. Ignatius, 40-23; over St. Mel's, 53-29; over De Paul, 49-46; over Leo, 35-28; and over Ignatius 46-39. Losses were to Leo, 29-28; to St. Philip, 43-29; and to St. Mel, 42-41.

Friar bantams furnish next year's material

The Friar Bantams had ten wins and three losses—season's total 587 versus opponents' 449.

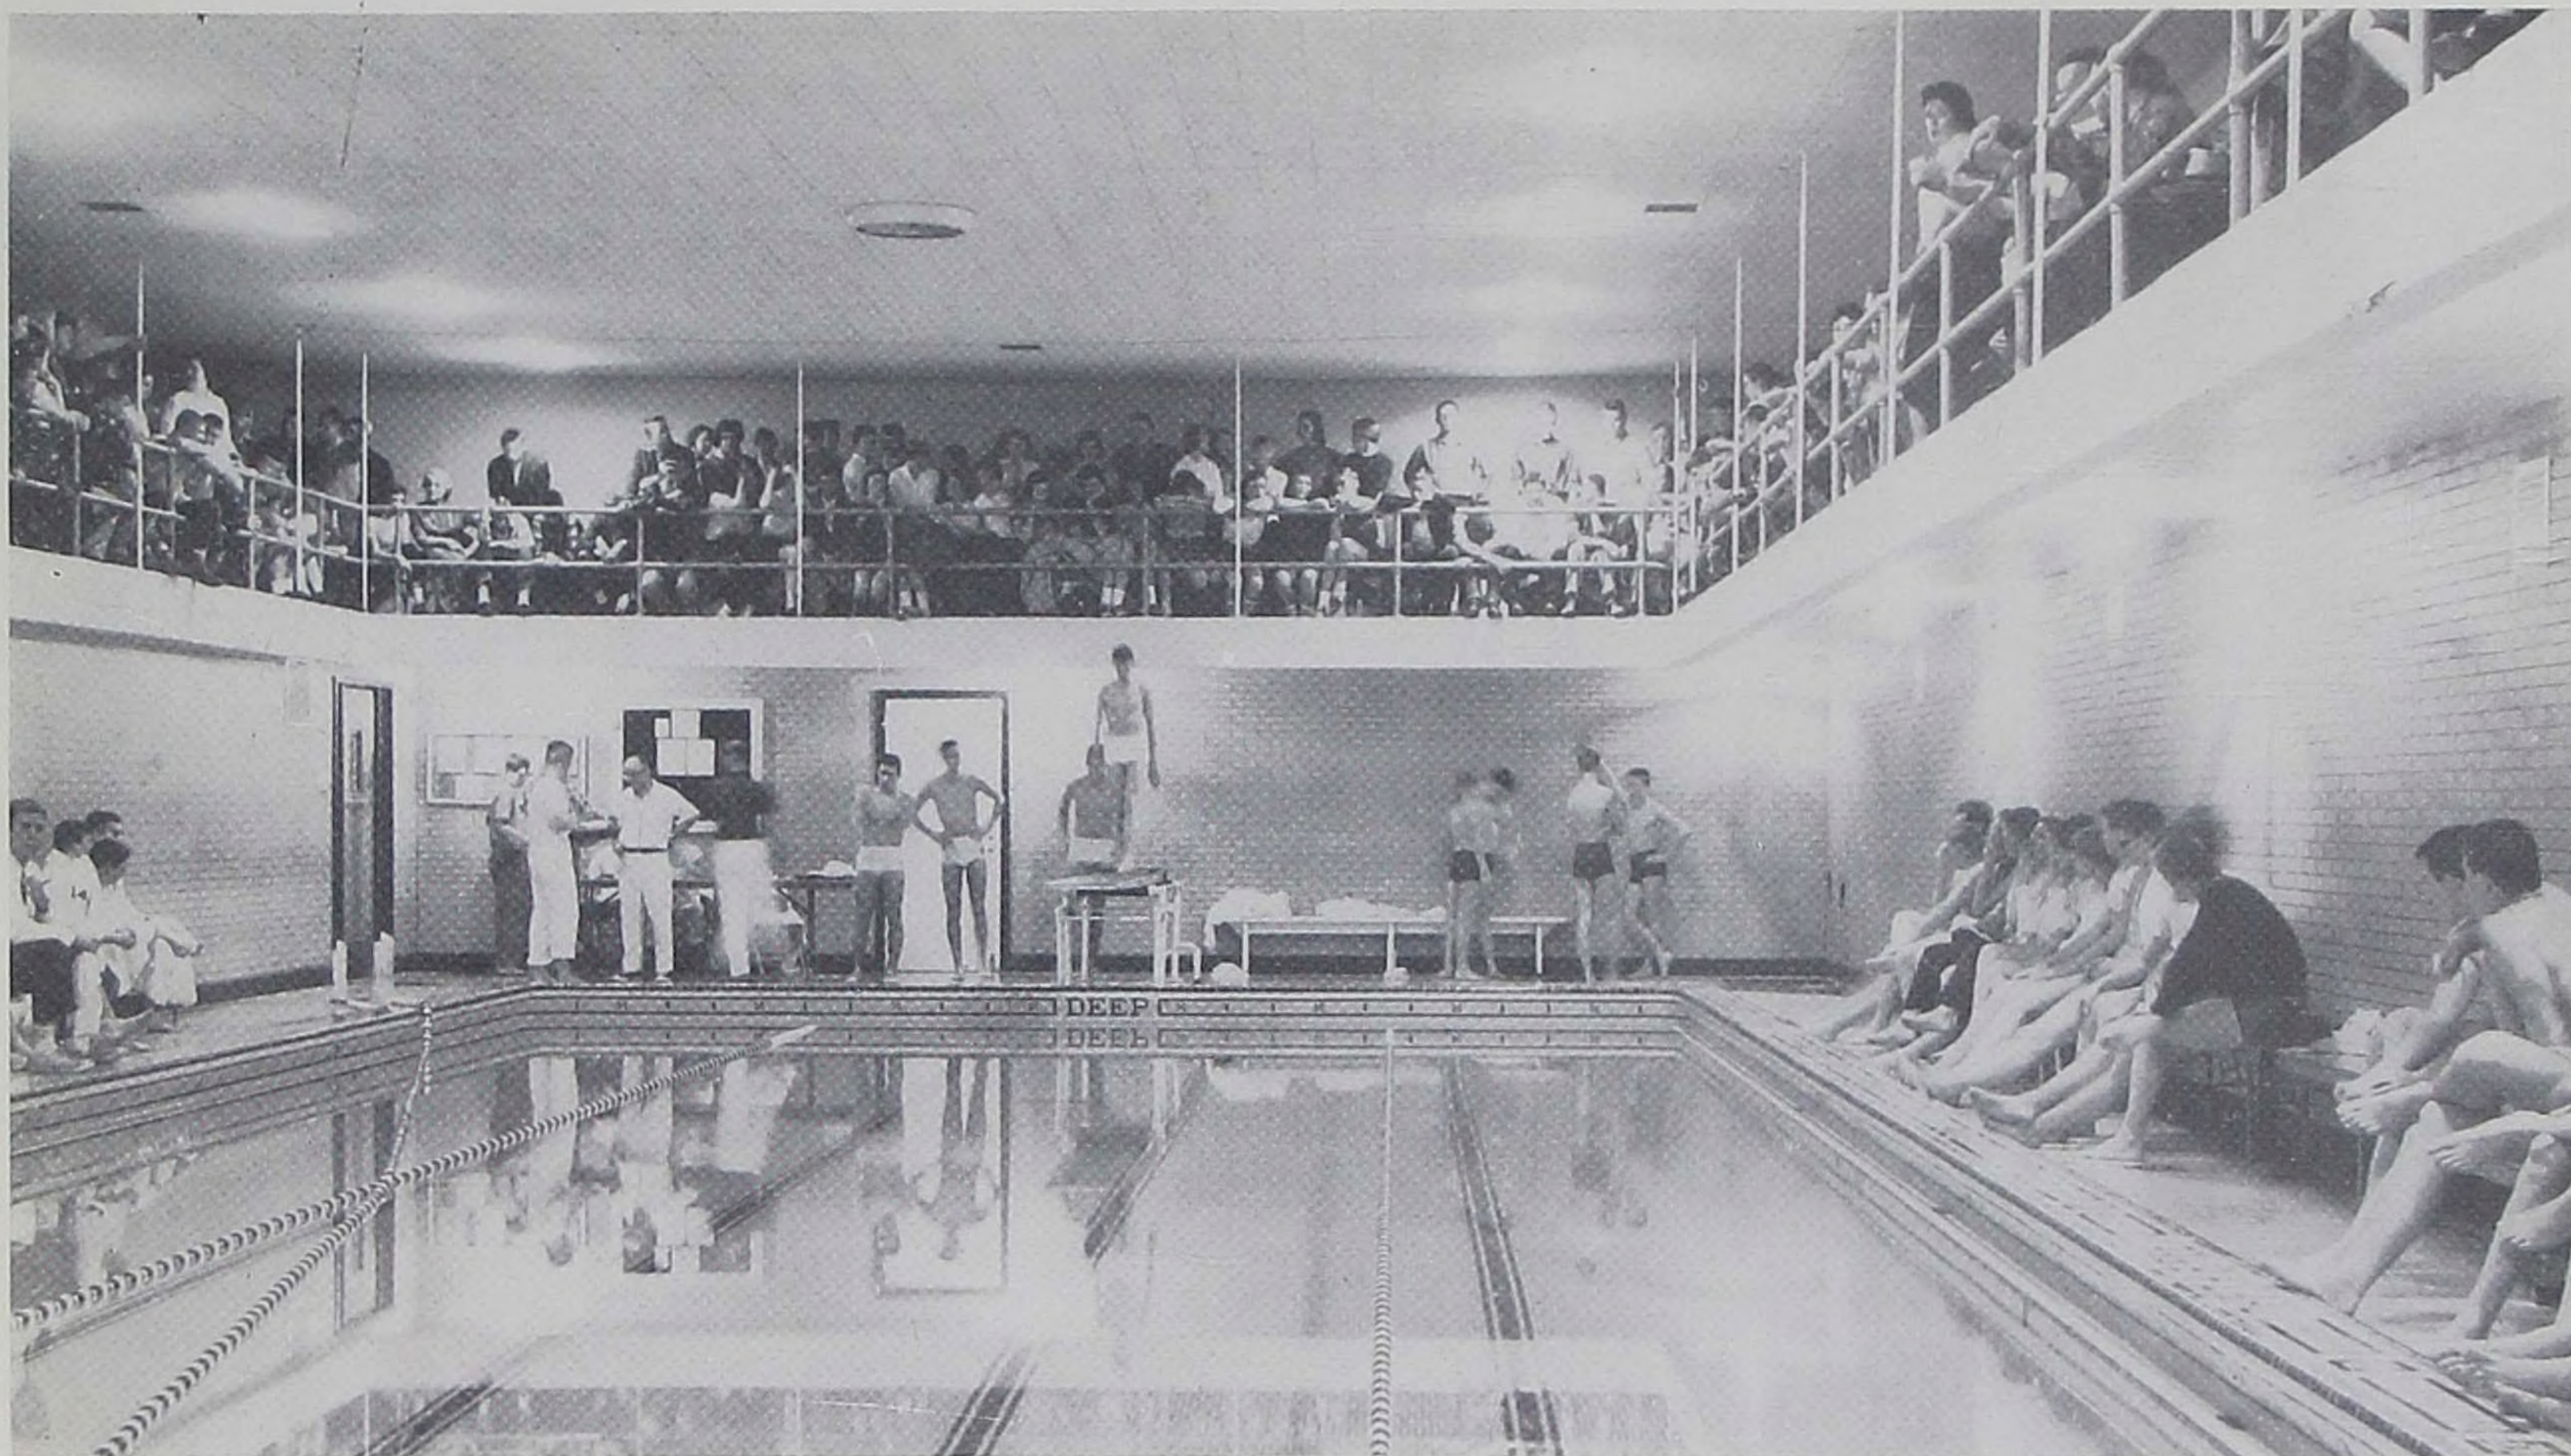

The Bantams debuted with a 51-25 win over De Paul, followed by successive triumphs over Weber, 35-33; and St. Patrick's 47-35. Though in the fourth game the Friars bowed to St. Philip, 38-34, their comeback was strong—victories over St. Leo, 43-27; St. Ignatius, 43-24; St. Mel, 43-30; and De Paul, 66-35. After dropping their ninth and tenth games of the season to St. Patrick, 41-36; and St. Philip, 42-40, the Fenwick five easily defeated St. Leo, 47-41; St. Ignatius, 57-41; and St. Mel, 45-37.

Tense swimmers are tense only in the sense that they are violently anxious about one tenth of a second. They must be physically relaxed more than in any other sport. The extraordinary success of the team is due to Coach Dan O'Brien's insistence upon hundreds of hours of practice to insure cutting off tenths of seconds.

League records broken

The junior squad duplicated the seniors in every meet this year and promised an upsurge in swimming talent. A few freshmen were excellent and the sophomores improved steadily. Mainstays of the junior team were freshmen F. Sitzberger, P. Faul, and T. Delihant; and sophomores R. De Grenier, T. Hayden, L. Kann developed well.

In the Catholic League preliminaries at Loyola Saturday, March 1, the Friar team broke three records. T. Hayden broke the old 50-yd. free style record as did F. Sitzberger in the 50-yd. breaststroke, L. Kann in the 75-yd. individual medley, and, likewise, the medley team in the 200-yd. medley.

The next day the juniors left no doubt about which team was best, sweeping eight out of nine events. L. Kann starred as he placed first in the 75-yd. individual medley and the 50-yd. backstroke. F. Sitzberger turned in a handsome :33.7 in the 50-yd. breaststroke. R. De Grenier earned the

In the Catholic League swim meet at Loyola, Sunday, March 9, Fenwick tankmen copped their twenty-first straight championship.

Of the ten events only one eluded the Friars, the 100-yard backstroke. The Friar seniors set two records; and their final score, 98 points, surpassed by six points all other competitors combined.

In the Saturday afternoon preliminaries, John Clark broke Jack Pettinger's 200-yd. freestyle record in 2:08.2. Sam Manola, this year's most outstanding swimmer, set a 150-yd. individual medley record.

Championship day, Fenwick took everything in sight except 100-yd. backstroke. Sam Manola established two records, the 100-yd. butterfly in 1:01, and the 150-yd. individual medley in 1:35.2.

Farewell

What we have learned is part of us. Our intermission from schoolwork — the practice after school, the game tonight, the deadline copy, the debate tourney, the idiosyncrasies of our teachers — all bring most vivid recollections.

Today we thank the faculty for instilling in us their Dominican heritage, the search for truth.

May loyalty to God, to parents, to country, and to Fenwick be the outstanding characteristic of the class of '58.

"Act well your part, there all the honor lies."

Acknowledgement is made to the publisher, Mr. L. Hagerty, Leander Publishing Company; to our professional photographers, Walingier Studio; and to the school authorities for their excellent cooperation and encouragement.
